RAILROAD GROSS EARNINGS.

The following table shows the gross earnings of every STEAM railroad from which regular weekly or monthly returns can be obtained. The first two columns of figures give the gross earnings for the latest week or month, and the last two columns the earnings for the period from July 1 to and including such latest week or month. We add a supplementary statement to show the fiscal year totals of those roads whose fiscal year does not begin with July, but covers some other period. The returns of the street railways are brought together separately on a subsequent page.

Net Earnings Monthly to Latest Dates.—The following shows the gross and net earnings to latest dates of all STEAM railroads furnishing monthly statements. The compilation includes every road from which we can get a return of this character, and in that form is given once a month. Early returns are published from week to week, as soon as issued, but for the convenience of our readers all the roads making returns are brought together here in the week in which we publish our monthly article on net earnings—say, about the 20th of the month.

b Net earnings here given are before deducting taxes.

c Figures revised for previous year so as to accord with the new classification of earnings and expenses now required by the Inter-State Commerce Commission.

d The company now includes the earnings of the Denver Enid & Gulf RR., Pecos Valley system and Santa Fe Prescott & Phoenix Ry. in both years. For January taxes and rentals amounted to $241,764, against $193,772 in 1907; after deducting which, net for January 1908 was $1,700,095, against $2,384,721 last year. For period from July 1 to Jan. 31 taxes and rentals were $1,660,251 in 1908, against $1,349,463 in 1907.

e No comparative figures are given, owing to new classification ordered by Inter-State Commerce Commission. For February, taxes were $94,300 and for period from July 1 to Feb. 29 were $754,400.

f Figures here are on the old basis of accounting—not the new, or Inter-State Commerce Commission method, as the latter admits of no comparison with previous year.

Chicago Great Western Ry.

(Report for the Half-Year ending Dec. 31 1907, with Statement of Indebtedness at Appointment of Receivers.)

President A. B. Stickney, under date of St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 14 1908, says in substance:

Results for Half-Year.—While the gross earnings from operation decreased $435,323 for the six months ending Dec. 31 1907, as compared with 1906, as contrasted with 1905 the decrease is only $19,381. The decrease in surplus earnings of proprietary lines, as compared with 1906, is $130,492, making the total decrease in gross earnings in the six months $565,815. About 90% of the decrease occurred after Sept. 14, the date that the machinists' and boilermakers' strike commenced, which so crippled the motive power that the company was compelled to decline large amounts of freight offered.

For the half-year ending Dec. 31 1907 the gross earnings, in comparison with the same six months of 1906, have decreased almost 12%, while the ratio of expenses to earnings has increased 12.57%. The increase in the different classes of expenditures was $247,862, as follows: Maintenance of equipment (24.30%), $136,834; maintenance of way (7.06%), $34,963; traffic expenses (3.21%), $6,961; transportation expenses (3.77%), $69,810. General expenses decreased $706. The increased cost of maintaining the equipment has been a matter of concern, because the condition of the locomotives and cars did not, to say the least, improve.

Explanation for Increased Cost of Equipment Repairs.—In seeking a remedy for the increased cost of maintaining equipment, the management discovered that its shops and all its roundhouses were in the grasp of local labor unions and that much the larger part of the increased cost of maintenance must be ascribed to the carelessness of the trainmen in the handling of trains and cars and to the general insubordination and disorganization of the forces employed in making repairs. It is conspicuously true that the enormous increase in wrecks and collisions on all the railways in the United States has been due to the intense consideration by the trainmen of their "rights" to the exclusion of the consideration of their "duties."

Strike.—Between 1900 and 1906 the members of the seven different unions which had to do with the maintenance of our equipment received five increases in wages, amounting to 31% to 40%. About Aug. 1 1907 a demand was made for a further increase, which if granted would have resulted in an increase of wages, since 1900, for the boilermakers of 55% and for the machinists of 63%. Well knowing the enormous loss which a strike would entail, the management offered, as a compromise, an increase of about 10%. This was refused and the machinists and boilermakers struck on Sept. 14 1907.

To deal with the strike situation it was necessary to barricade the shops and roundhouses, to employ about 150 special policemen and to provide the new men with food and sleeping accommodations within the barricades. In making up the accounts of the half-year, the $108,000 expended on the above accounts has been regarded as extraordinary expenses and has been charged against the surplus earnings of previous years. Bills outstanding will increase the amount possibly $25,000.

The strike-breakers were recruited from all parts of the country and fully 90% knew nothing about machinery and had to be gotten rid of. At considerable expense the company has at length filled its shops and roundhouses with a full complement of good mechanics. The high rate of wages expired with November. The strike was declared off in December, and the officers of the company, instead of the officers of the union, are now directing the maintenance of equipment. The repairs are being prosecuted at less expense and in a more satisfactory manner than ever before, but it will require several months to restore the locomotives which were disabled during the strike.

Loss of Business Due to Strike.—As soon as the strike commenced the management was obliged to husband its locomotives so as to run its passenger trains and take care of strictly local freight business. It therefore felt compelled to reduce to a great extent "through business." For example, on the first day of the strike it turned to other lines five train-loads of live stock which it had contracted to haul from St. Paul to Chicago, and during the continuance of the strike it hauled no such live stock. For several years the receipts for hauling packing-house products have averaged $75,000 per month. During the strike all of this business was refused. These two items alone will account for the larger part of the decrease of gross earnings during the last four months.

Default.—These exceptional conditions of operation resulted in too little income to pay the interest on the debenture stock which became payable in January. An attempt to borrow the inconsiderable shortage ($360,337) in order to pay the interest was unsuccessful.

In March 1907 $3,873,000 debenture stock was offered to the debenture stockholders pro rata at a price which would have netted the company, approximately, $2,904,750 (compare V. 84, p. 745, 748, 1247). The debenture stockholders took up only an inconsiderable amount, but enough was sold to the public, which, together with the amount taken by the stockholders, gave the company approximately $1,500,000, leaving a shortage of $1,404,750. A part of the $1,500,000 went for capital expenditures made in 1906 and the balance, and $529,650 in addition, has been expended in completing the 25 miles of second track on the Eastern Division and other necessary capital expenditures. If the whole $3,873,000 debenture stock had been disposed of, the company could have turned over $875,100 to revenue accounts in reduction of advances from earnings for capital expenditures, which on Jan. 1 1908 amounted to $1,021,026. It would thus have been able to meet the interest on the debenture stock Jan. 1 and had more than enough money to meet the interest on all outstanding notes.

Receivership.—In January 1908 it was deemed wise, in order to protect all interests until proper financial arrangements could be perfected, to place the property under the protection of the United States Court. Accordingly, Chas. H. F. Smith and A. B. Stickney, on Jan. 8 1908, were appointed receivers.

Indebtedness which is a Charge upon the Undertaking Prior to the Debenture Stock.—Of the car trust created in 1903 and 1906 there remained unpaid on Dec. 31 1907 a total of $368,389, including interest to maturity. The amounts unpaid, the Court has decided, are a prior charge to the notes and has authorized their payment as preferred claims.

On June 9 1907 a 6% car trust was created by a contract of purchase from the Pullman Company of 1,000 box cars for $873,500, payable 10% on delivery and $45,789 88 on Feb. 15 1908, and a like amount each three months thereafter; 719 of these cars have been delivered and the balance is ready for delivery. No payment whatever has been made, and while no order has been made by the Court there is no doubt about this indebtedness ranking pari passu with notes in addition to being secured by a lien upon the cars.

In December the Mason City & Fort Dodge RR. Co., for capital advances, made two notes for $50,000 each, with the stock of the Independent Elevator Co. as collateral, and delivered said notes to the Chicago Great Western Ry. Co., which indorsed and discounted them. These notes are not due, but the company is liable thereon as indorser.

| Total | 2,762,098 | Total | | 2,264,533 |
| Surplus of assets | | | | 497,565 |

This surplus of assets and $189,159 in addition, amounting to $686,724, was appropriated by the directors several years ago as a fund for improvements and renewals and stands to the credit of an account entitled "fund for improvements and renewals."

The six months' interest to Dec. 31 1907 on the debenture stock, and all interest which shall accrue upon the debenture stock during the receivership, is undoubtedly an indebtedness chargeable against surplus revenue, but whether it is an indebtedness against the corpus of the undertaking which would be paid out of the proceeds of the sale of the property, if the debenture stockholders should force the property to sale, for the purpose of levying assessments on the junior stocks, is a matter of grave legal doubt.

Contingent Liabilities.—The company has received surplus earnings to Dec. 31 1907 as follows:

|---|---|
| From operation of Wisconsin Minnesota & Pacific RR. Co | 445,845 |

These amounts have been used in payment of interest on the debenture stock and of dividends on the preferred stock "A." If the indebtedness of the company is provided for and the receivers discharged, by an issue and sale of first mortgage bonds, the company will be liabel on these amounts only, in the improbable event and to the extent that the Mason City & Fort Dodge and the Wisconsin Minnesota & Pacific companies may hereafter fail to earn the interest on their bonds. If, on the other hand, the holders of the 4% debenture stock and 5% preferred stock "A" refuse to consent to the issue of such bonds and force the property to a sale, the whole amount, $1,538,102, will become a liability against the company and must be paid from the proceeds of such sale.

Wages.—The last Congress enacted a law reducing the hours of labor in each day which may be required of trainmen and telegraph operators, which law becomes effective in March. It is known that it will compel the employment of more men and will therefore increase operating expenses.

Texas & Pacific Railway.

(Report for Fiscal Year ending Dec. 31 1907.)

President George J. Gould, under date of New York, March 1 1908, says in substance:

General Results.—But for the financial panic which paralyzed trade and seriously affected all corporate interests, the year would have been exceedingly prosperous to the company.

Notwithstanding the general crop shortage in the State of Texas, the gross earnings show an increase over the previous year of $1,757,059, the total revenue for the year being the largest in the history of the company. Net earnings, on the contrary, owing to the sudden and heavy shrinkage of business, both in volume and character, in the last three months of the year 1907, when the heaviest traffic is due, show an increase of but $31,043, or a total of $5,093,728; the operating ratio being 69.45%, against 66.08%.

Expenses of operation increased 17.18%. This increase can be almost wholly accounted for by the increase in pay rolls, $1 245,554, and the cost of increased consumption of fuel, $155,683. This will also explain to a great degree the increased operating ratio. The increase in the cost of coal consumed, including handling, was 16 cents per ton.

The cotton crop, the transportation of which to this company is one of the most lucrative sources of revenue, was particularly disappointing, the yield per acre being smaller than in many years. The decrease in the number of bales transported, compared with the previous year, being 166,708, showing a loss in revenue of $312,505, but without a proportionate decrease of expenses.

There was for some months a blockade of coke, coal and smelters' supplies on lines leading into New Mexico and Arizona, which caused a blockade at El Paso, increasing the cost of conducting transportation.

All classes of freight, taken together, show an increase of 631,992 tons with an increase of 175,195,107 tons carried one mile; an increase in revenue of $1,371,629; a decrease of 1.100 mills per ton per mile; and an increase in the average haul of 8.62 miles.

Opelousas Gulf & Northeastern Ry. Completed.—In 1906 the company entered into an agreement with certain parties representing the Opelousas Gulf & Northeastern Ry. Co. of Louisiana to construct and equip a line of railway from Melville on the main line of the Texas & Pacific Ry., at a point where the great bridge of that company spans the Atchafalaya River, southwesterly to the town of Crowley, via the towns of Opelousas and Rayne, a distance of 57 miles, the consideration being 70% of its capital stock and the entire issue of first mortgage bonds at $20,000 per mile, together with other substantial considerations. The construction of this line was completed in Oct. 1907, and it is now in operation.

The territory penetrated by the line is exceedingly fertile, abundantly timbered, and is rapidly growing in population, and should prove a valuable acquisition and a profitable feeder to the company's main line in Louisiana. The bonds received for this construction have been deposited in the company's treasury.

Avoylles Branch Extended.—During the year the company also extended its Avoyelles branch from the town of Bunkie, La., on the line of the Texas & Pacific Ry., south to the town of Eunice, La., a distance of 37 miles. The construction of this branch brings an exceedingly rich country tributary to the main line. The cost of this work has been met by an issue of Louisiana Division Branch Lines bonds at $12,500 per mile.

New Equipment Trust.—On June 1 1907 the company entered into a trust agreement whereby it purchased 3,000 box cars, 80,000 lbs. capacity, and 10 70-foot passenger coaches, built by the American Car & Foundry Co., and 40 10-wheel locomotives, built by the American Locomotive Co., at a total cost of $3,696,000, of which amount $596,000 was paid in cash; the balance to be paid in twenty consecutive semi-annual installments of $155,000 each, commencing Dec. 1 1907, evidenced by 5% equipment trust gold bonds dated June 1 1907. (Compare V. 84, p. 1489.)

Change in Method of Accounting.—The classification of operating expense accounts presented in this report is in conformity with the form prescribed by the Inter-State Commerce Commission to be observed after June 30 1907, in consequence of which the comparison with the previous year could not be made as full as it would have been if the old basis had been retained.

Floating Debt.—The demands of a constantly growing traffic has compelled the company for a long period to devote all means available to improvements and additions. This accomplishment has involved the creation of a floating debt of some proportion, but has been compensated for by a marked growth in the earning capacity of the property.

Betterments, 1901 to 1907, Inclusive.—The amount expended in the betterment of the property, exclusive of maintenance, from Jan. 1901 to Dec. 1907 was $6,897,636, and for new equipment $8,607,275, viz.:

Betterments, 1901 to 1907, both inclusive, aggregating $6,897,636.

American Sugar Refining Co., New York.

The company's first printed report was issued this week, transcripts of the same having been given to the newspapers on Monday. The remarks, which are signed by Secretary C. R. Heike, say in substance:

The directors enclose a report of the financial condition of the company, in accordance with the action taken at the suggestion of the management at the last annual meeting. The report is an annual one. It shows cash assets and a cash surplus for the business of the year which may seem considerable to the stockholders, but the directors wish to impress upon them the importance to the business of having a large reserve consisting of cash and cash assets. The success of the company depends materially upon its being prepared at all times to meet such emergencies as are presented by the nature of the business and the large transactions involved. As was stated at the annual meeting, whatever surplus there is belongs to the stockholders. The directors are of the opinion that it is to the interest of the company to maintain dividends at a steady rather than any fluctuating rate.

The directors recognize the propriety of giving to the stockholders information for which they as a body may call, but it should always be kept in mind that at times information is desired by those who wish to use it against the interests of the stockholders. This, therefore, requires that a reasonable discretion should be left to the directors, which they will endeavor to exercise for the general interests. It is quite possible that the present agitation with regard to publicity may result in the passage of a publicity law which will specify exactly what information shall be communicated to the stockholders, how it shall be done, and what other details shall be given. It is needless to say that the directors will be prompt to comply with any such law and to furnish such additional information for which it may call.

With the exception of docks and warehouses in Cuba, the property of the company lies wholly within the United States. The number of common and preferred stockholders is 19,513.

Millet & Gray, sugar brokers, who are closely connected with the Havemeyers', comment as follows:

One of the most significant features in connection with the report is that it marks a complete change in the policy which has been pursued for the last 21 years. It is a recognition of the spirit of the times. So far as the sugar trade is concerned, the opinion is that the statement is as full as can be expected, as the business of sugar refining differs from that of most manufacturing businesses in that even detailed information with regard to cost of operating might be of advantage to competitors. The management is believed to be conservative; consequently, the statement may also be inferred to be conservative.

Output.—Willett & Gray's "Sugar Trade Journal" of this city on Jan. 9 gave the following estimate of the amount of refined sugar consumed in the United States:

CONSUMPTION OF REFINED SUGAR.

| | Calendar Year | | Per Cent | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Produced by— | 1907 | 1906 | 1907 | 1906 |
| Amer. Sugar Refining Co. | 1,401,061 tons | 1,408,503 tons | 49.27 | 51.03 |
| Independent refiners | 1,064,827 tons | 1,031,831 tons | 37.44 | 37.38 |
| Beet sugar factories | 375,558 tons | 300,059 tons | 13.19 | 10.87 |
| Foreign refiners | 2,682 tons | 19,950 tons | .10 | .72 |
| Total consumed | 2,843,928 | 2,760,343 tons | 100.00 | 100.00 |

The National Sugar Refining Co., included with the independent refiners, produced about 306,000 tons in 1907, against 326,000 tons in 1906.

On the basis of Willett & Gray's calculations, the following is obtained in cents:

| Average Price— | 1907. | 1906. | 1905. | 1904. | 1903. | 1902. | 1901. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Granulated sugar | 4.649 | 4.515 | 5.256 | 4.772 | 4.638 | 4.455 | 5.050 |
| Raw sugar | 3.756 | 3.686 | 4.278 | 3.974 | 3.720 | 3.542 | 4.047 |
| Difference | 0.893 | 0.829 | 0.978 | 0.798 | 0.918 | 0.913 | 1.003 |

Granulated sugar opened Jan. 2 1907 at 4.62, fell to 4.55 on Feb. 14, remaining at that figure to April 18, rising to 4.85 on May 16, and from July 11 gradually declined again to 4.55 at the close of this year. Raw sugar opened the year at 3.85 and closed at 3.56, the highest price for the year being 3.95 from Sept. 12 to Oct. 10.—V. 86, p. 170, 110.

RAILROADS, INCLUDING STREET ROADS.

Birmingham & Gulf Railway & Navigation Co.—New Enterprise—Mortgage.—This company, incorporated under the laws of Alabama on Sept. 22 1907, with $10,000,000 capital stock, of which $2,500,000 is 6% preferred (par of shares $100), has acquired by purchase the 12 miles of belt road at Tuscaloosa, Ala., formerly owned by the Tuscaloosa Belt Railway Co., and has let contracts to the Birmingham & Gulf Construction Co. for building its proposed electric railway for passenger and freight service between Tuscaloosa, Birmingham and Gadsden, which when completed will comprise 170 miles of track. The company will also operate a line of steamers and coal barges between Tuscaloosa and Mobile, and Gulf points and Montgomery and Mobile. The 12 miles in operation from Tuscaloosa to Holt now in operation is being electrified and the remainder of the 120 miles from Tuscaloosa to Gadsden is under construction.

A first mortgage has been made to the Carnegie Trust Co. of New York, as trustee, to secure an issue of $10,000,000 5% gold bonds of $1,000 each, dated Oct. 1 1907 and due Oct. 1 1957, but subject to call on and after April 1 1912 at 108 and interest. The $100,000 bonds of the Tuscaloosa Belt Ry. are all in hand, and, it is stated, will shortly be canceled, $125,000 new bonds being reserved for issue in their place. President, Henry S. Thompson, New York; Vice-Pres., J. M. Dewberry, Birmingham; Sec. and Treas., George D. Rogers, 42 Broadway, New York; Gen. Manager, Joseph A. Vandegrift, Tuscaloosa, Ala.

Camden & Trenton Ry.—Committee.—See New York-Philadelphia Co. below.

Receiver's Appraisal.—Receiver Sadler has filed an appraisal showing:

Total assets, $791,701, including with other items rights of way and franchises, $425,000; tracks, bridges and overhead equipment, $279,883; rolling stock, $2,650. Total liabilities (exclusive of capital stock), $1,729,646, the principal items being 1st M. 5s, $710,000; gen. M. 5s, $622,500; bills payable, $231,415, and accrued interest thereon $21,000; car trust certificates, $39,000; bond interest accrued $48,296.—V. 86, p. 601, 479.

Chattanooga Railways.—Dividends Suspended.—No dividends have been paid or declared on the $1,000,000 preferred stock since December last. Quarterly dividends at the rate of 5% per annum were paid from Dec. 1906 to Dec. 1907, both inclusive.—V. 84, p. 50.

Chicago Cincinnati & Louisville RR.—Application for Authority to Issue $1,500,000 Receiver's Certificates.—Receiver James B. Goodrich applied to the Federal Court in Indianapolis on March 20 for permission to issue $1,500,000 receiver's certificates. A hearing on the petition will be held April 15

The "Indianapolis News" has the following:

While the physical condition is, in general, good, the receiver says the road has never been fully completed or equipped. It needs to be re-ballasted; sidetracks must be put in at Cincinnati and other points, the freight-house at Cincinnati must be enlarged, an overhead crossing must be built at the Big Four tracks to avoid threatened suit, an additional telegraph wire from Cincinnati to Chicago must be strung, a round-house and other improvements must be made at the Peru shops, a station must be built at Hammond, a station should be built at Converse, coaling stations should be put in at Richmond and Brighton and other improvements must be made. About $500,000 to $600,000 would cover the foregoing betterments.

Whereas, says the receiver, a good night business is done between Cincinnati and Chicago, with the Pullman cars, the day business is bad because of the poor day coaches; $100,000 worth of parlor cars, cafe cars and day coaches would help. Freight cars are likewise needed, not less than $200,000 to $400,000 worth. There are charges against the road by other roads for handling the C. C. & L. cars which, if not paid, will result in the company being shut off from communication with other roads. There are claims for labor, material and supplies to pay.

With the proper use of the $1,500,000, Mr. Goodrich thinks, it will be possible, within a reasonably short time, to earn not only operating expenses but enough to meet all fixed charges and so increase the value of the property that when sold finally, under order of court or otherwise, a price more than $1,500,000, greater than could now be obtained will be possible.—V. 86, p. 479, 420.

Fitchburg RR.—Financing Reported Arranged.—The "Boston News Bureau" of March 21 said:

We understand that the financing of the $2,400,000 bonds which were authorized by stockholders on Wednesday has already been arranged for. The bonds have been purchased by a Boston syndicate, the arrangements having been completed some time ago as part of the general financial plans of the Boston & Maine, by which it arranged for the refunding of maturing obligations. The new bonds will not be offered at present nor until general market conditions make it advisable. The proceeds derived from the sale of the bonds will be used to retire $2,000,000 5% bonds maturing May 1 next and will provide funds for reimbursing the Boston & Maine for money advanced for construction purposes.—V. 86, p. 720, 668.

Note.—The guaranty of the Grand Trunk Railway Co. of Canada printed and signed on each bond "shall constitute a liability of the said company in priority to all share capital of the Grand Trunk Ry. Co. of Canada, whether the 4% guaranteed stock, preference or ordinary stocks."

Progress of Construction.—President Hays in connection with the aforesaid offering furnishes the following:

Extracts of Letter from President Chas. M. Hays, under Date of London, March 13 1908.

Prairie Section.—Of the total mileage of about 900 miles of Prairie Section, it is anticipated that the portion from Winnipeg to Edmonton, about 793 miles, will be completed this year, when 200 new towns will be brought into existence, while the land within a distance of 10 miles on each side of the railway is already rapidly filling up with settlers and a large portion has been put under cultivation and will produce crops this season, leaving no question as to the ability of the line to become self-sustaining from the outset. The balance of the Prairie Section from Edmonton west to Wolf Creek, 116 miles, is now under contract and will also be completed by the close of this year.

Mountain Section.—The distinguishing characteristics of the Mountain Section are the easy gradients and curves, which are more favorable than those of any other American or Canadian transcontinental railway. The route through the Rocky Mountains, via the Yellowhead Pass, reaches an elevation of not more than 3,712 feet, with a maximum gradient of only four-tenths of 1%, or a rise of 21 feet to the mile, against eastbound traffic for the entire distance between the Coast and Edmonton, and but five-tenths of 1%, or 26 feet to the mile, against westbound traffic between the points named, and with but one summit to overcome, while the other transcontinental lines have two and three summits with much heavier gradients opposed against the movement of traffic. It is needless to point out the advantages in economy of operation to be obtained from these results.

The permanent surveys of this section have been so far completed that the company is now arranging contracts for the construction of 100 miles of line east from Prince Rupert, the Pacific Coast terminus, and for 200 miles west from Wolf Creek, or the end of the Prairie Section, and work thereon will be in active progress this coming season.

Lake Superior Branch.—This line, of about 200 miles, runs from Fort William, Ontario, on Lake Superior, to a junction with the Eastern Division on the main line, about 250 miles east of Winnipeg. This line will form a chief link in the route for the conveyance of the products of the Northwest to the Great Lakes for transshipment by water to the Grand Trunk system in the East, via the Lake Huron and Georgian Bay ports. During last year about 20 million bushels of grain were shipped from Port William and Port Arthur, and this amount will be greatly increased when this branch is in operation. This line will be completed this season.—V. 86, p. 720, 285.

Temiscouata Ry. May Be Acquired by Canadian Government for Eastern Division (Leased).—See that company below.—V. 86, p. 720, 285.

Great Northern Ry.—Listings.—The New York Stock Exchange has authorized the listing on and after May 2, when paid for in full, of the $60,000,000 additional preferred stock subscribed for at par by shareholders of record Jan. 4 1907 or their assignees (V. 83, p. 1469; V. 84, p. 803, 996; V. 85, p. 1273), making the total authorized to be listed $210,000,000.

The final installment of 5% on subscriptions to the new stock is due April 7 1908. The entire amount of additional stock was subscribed for. Payment has been made in full on subscriptions for $22,449,560, and substantially all payments on the balance due to date have been made to the company. The proceeds of the new stock are being applied in accordance with the resolutions of the board (in V. 85, p. 1273). The new stock as payment therefore is completed will take rank with existing stock from May 1 1908, and will participate in all dividends declared subsequent to that date. The company will be prepared to issue certificates for the new stock on May 2 1908 as the receipts showing full payment therefor are surrendered. The certificates so to be issued will be in all respects like those now outstanding, except that the amount of the capital stock will be stated thereon as $210,000,000 instead of $150,000,000.

The balance sheet of Jan. 31 1908, as compared with that of June 30 1907 (V. 85, p. 1277), shows an increase in the amount received on subscriptions to the new stock from $34,616,212 to $53,129,202, and among assets the following additions:

|---|---|---|---|
| Const. of new lines | $3,428,824 63 | New equipment | $6,684,367 00 |

x Additional to the amount ($24,900,498) June 30 1907.

The New York Stock Exchange has authorized also the listing of $4,700,000 additional Eastern Railway Co. of Minnesota division first mortgage 4% bonds, whenever issued, in exchange for the first division 5% bonds of that company due April 1 (or when sold prior to Jan. 1 1909, of any of said bonds not exchanged), making the total listed $9,700,000 (compare V. 86, p. 668). The Great Northern Ry. has purchased the Eastern Ry. of Minnesota and assumed the payment of principal and interest of these bonds.

Illinois Tunnel Co.—Financial Plan.—A very large majority of the holders of the company's bonds, it is stated, have assented to a financial plan by which their 5% bonds are to be taken up at 105 and new 4% collateral trust bonds of the Chicago Subway Co. (which owns the stock of the Illinois Tunnel Co.) will be issued at 85 in their stead. The following statement from the "Chicago Inter-Ocean" of March 24 is pronounced substantially correct:

The scheme provides for an exchange of the Illinois Tunnel Co.'s entire issue of 5% first mortgage bonds for 4% collateral trust bonds of the Chicago Subway Co. There are $17,000,000 Illinois Tunnel bonds outstanding among investors and $13,000,000 are deposited as collateral for loans aggregating $9,500,000. It is proposed to take up the present issue at 105, and the new Subway bonds will be issued at 85. The forthcoming issue of the latter will amount to slightly more than $21,000,000. It will be secured by the deposit of the Tunnel bonds, all of the stock of the Tunnel Co., which is now owned by the Subway Co., and other valuable property of the parent concern.

Nearly 90% of the holders of the Tunnel Co.'s bonds are said to have already assented to the plan. It is authoritatively stated that holders who do not care to take the new securities in exchange will have their bonds redeemed.

The issue of the collateral trust bonds will be unlimited as to the amount the Subway Co. may put out. The $9,500,000 floating debt of the Illinois Tunnel Co., which is secured by $13,000,000 of the first mortgage bonds, will also be secured by the new bonds, the bankers who made the loans having concurred in the refunding plan. Among the additional properties covered by the new bonds are the Chicago Warehouse & Terminal Co. and the Illinois Telephone Construction Co.

Provision has been made whereby the Illinois Tunnel Co. will be enabled to lease its telephone plants and rights to an independent corporation, and it is expected that within thirty or sixty days that part of the property will be turned over to new interests.

It was stated yesterday that controlling interests of the Chicago Subway Co.—E. H. Harriman and J. Ogden Armour—have been unalterably opposed to the promulgation of a plan of the present kind until the earnings of the Tunnel Co. were ample to take care of the fixed charges.

Seaboard Air Line Ry.—Payment of Overdue Coupons.—The receivers, under date of Baltimore, March 21, announced that under authority of the original decree of the United States Court for the Eastern District of Virginia appointing the receivers, they would pay, on and after March 23 1908, at the office of the Continental Trust Co., Baltimore, Md., or the New York Trust Co., New York, the coupons on the following bonds due Jan. 1 1908, with interest thereon to March 23:

Temiscouata Railway.—Distribution on Consolidated Mortgage Incomes.—The bondholders' committee announces that a distribution of 1½% on consolidated mortgage income bonds in respect of three years to June 30 1907 will be made on May 1.

Provisional Certificates.—Substantially the following notice was given recently in London, a bondholders' meeting having been called for March 10 to ratify the proposed issue in accordance with the plan of 1904; but it seems probable that the plan to sell the property (see below) has superseded this proposition of earlier date. (V. 79, p. 1462; V. 82, p. 570; V. 83, p. 273.)

Now that the railway company has entered into the list of dividend-paying securities, the committee feel that it is requisite to issue provisional certificates with coupons attached, in respect of the consolidated mortgage income bonds in lieu of the committee's certificates of the first mortgage main line bonds and St. Francis branch bonds (which have ceased to exist). Each main line certificate for £100 represents income bonds for £130 and each St. Francis Branch certificate for £100 represents income bonds for £121 13s. 4d. The consolidated mortgage income bonds are only issuable in denominations of £100 each.

To Form Part of Transcontinental Line.—Notice is given that a meeting of the shareholders and bondholders of the Temiscouata Railway Co. will be held on April 21 1908, in Quebec, "for the purpose of approving and sanctioning an agreement respecting the purchase of the company's lands, right of way, &c., by the Transcontinental Railway Commission," for use as part of the line which the Canadian Government is to establish from Moncton, New Brunswick, via Quebec, to Winnipeg, a distance of about 1,800 miles. When completed this line will be leased to the Grand Trunk Pacific Ry. (which see above), forming its "Eastern Division." The Temiscouata Railway extends from Riviere du Loup to Connors, a distance of 113 miles.—V. 83, p. 626.

Texas Southern Ry.—New Sale Ordered.—The foreclosure sale is now set for May 5; upset price $375,000. One in authority writes:

Tonopah & Goldfield RR.—Called Bonds.—Seventy-seven ($77,000) first mortgage 6% bonds of 1906 have been called for payment on April 15 at the Land Title & Trust Co. of Philadelphia, trustee.—V. 86, p. 109.

Union Pacific RR.—Meeting May 5 to Authorize Mortgage, &c.—A special meeting of the stockholders has been called for May 5 1908 (1) to ratify the taking over by the company of the physical properties of the Leavenworth Kansas & Western Railway Co. and of the Topeka & Northwestern RR. Co., which are already, through ownership of stock, a part of the system; and (2) to authorize an issue of bonds, to be secured by mortgage of the company's unmortgaged lines, including the Leavenworth Kansas & Western and the Topeka & Northwestern, to be taken over as stated.

Secretary Millar makes the following statement: "The purpose is merely to prepare the way for the mortgage if and when an issue of bonds shall be deemed advisable. No such issue has yet been decided upon. The Leavenworth Kansas & Western and the Topeka & Northwestern are subcompanies of the Union Pacific, which owns all the stock and bonds of both. The former owns 165 miles of railroad, extending from Leavenworth to Miltonville, Kansas, and the latter 37½ miles, from Menoken to Onaga, Kansas; both of which have all along constituted practically part of the Union Pacific system. It is now intended to vest title to the physical properties in the Union Pacific, canceling the stock and bonds, so that any new mortgage of the Union Pacific, when created, may attach as a first lien on these railroads as well as on other unmortgaged lines already directly owned by the Union Pacific, which, with these, will aggregate over 1,200 miles now free from lien, not including other unmortgaged lines controlled through ownership of all their stock, making in all about 1,650 miles.

Refusal to Bring Suit.—The directors on Thursday passed resolutions declining to bring actions against E. H. Harriman, H. H. Rogers and James Stillman to recover alleged illegal profits derived by them from the purchase of stock of the Illinois Central, Railroad Securities Co. and St. Joseph & Grand Island by the Union Pacific, as requested by four Connecticut stockholders.

The refusal is based on the ground that the purchases were ratified by unanimous vote of the board (in which the directors named did not participate) as well as by the stockholders. The resolutions also recite that the board believes that no director was interested in any of the $10,500,000 Illinois Central stock purchased from Kuhn, Loeb & Co.—V. 86, p. 549, 481.

Virginia & Southwestern Ry.—Reduction of Capital Stock.—This company, which the Southern Ry. McHarg Sr. holds 643.—V. 83, p. 1038.

York (Pa.) Railways.—New Line Opened.—This company's new line from York to Hanover, Pa., 18½ miles in length, was opened for traffic on Feb. 29.

The "Electrical Railway Review" for March 7 contains a description of the new road. The management, it is stated, is now contemplating building a line between York and Harrisburg, connection to be made at New Cumberland with the Valley Traction.—V. 86, p. 339.

Western Maryland RR.—Added to Committee.—William S. Fanshawe has been added to the stockholders' and "general lien and convertible" bondholders' committee, of which Richard Sutro is Chairman. Deposits under the committee's agreement will be received at the Bankers' Trust Co., 7 Wall St., New York City, "not later than March 31 1908."—V. 86, p. 722, 670.

The company has acquired an interest in the Sanitary Can Co. and the Sanitary Can. Pennsylvania Sugar Refining Co.—Demurrer of American Company Sustained.—Judge Holt in the United States Circuit Court on March 21 sustained the demurrer of the American Sugar Refining Co. to the complaint in the action brought for triple damages for alleged violation of Section 7 of the Sherman Anti-Trust Act. Compare V. 84, p. 629, 106.

Judge Holt bases his ruling on the opinion of the United States Supreme Court in the case of United States against E. C. Knight Co., a sugar refining company of Philadelphia, in which it was held that the American Sugar Refining Co., one of the defendants, did not operate in restraint of trade in purchasing the Knight Co., the Supreme Court holding that manufacture was not trade or commerce, and that the action of the American Co. in stopping the manufacture of sugar by the Philadelphia refiners only incidentally affected the sale of the product; that Congress had no jurisdiction to pass laws to remedy injuries caused by such action, and that the States alone had power to pass such laws.

Permission is given to amend the complaint if it is desired to proceed on some theory of equitable liability, the Court saying that no amendment can be made which will make the complaint good so long as it is based on the Anti-Trust Act.—V. 85, p. 349.

Siegel Cooper & Co., Chicago.—New Stock.—A certificate was filed in Illinois on March 13 increasing the share capital from $1,000,000 to $1,250,000. Secretary Basch is quoted:

The increase was the result of a steady increase in the volume of business and will be used in the general development of the business.—V. 73, p. 964.

Strowger Automatic Telephone Co.—Merger Voted.—See Automatic Telephone Exchange Co. above.—V. 85, p. 1406.

Suffolk (Va.) Gas Co.—Receivers' Certificates.—Jas. U. Burges and D. S. Mills were recently appointed as receivers for the company. Mr. Burges writes:

The $25,000 6% receivers' certificates, for which bids were opened March 4, have been sold for 95 and accrued interest. They are a lien prior to the first mortgage bonds.—V. 86, p. 425.

Tidewater Steel Co.—Receivership.—Howard H. Houston, formerly Mayor of Chester, Pa., has been appointed receiver in a suit to recover on two notes amounting, it is said, to $150,000.—V. 84, p. 1433.

* The Dunkirk Allegheny Valley & Pittsburgh Railroad, 90.51 miles, is also leased by this company, but its mileage and operations are not included in this report. Separate accounts are kept and independent reports prepared in its behalf.

The slight decrease in road mileage operated is due to change of alignment and measurement at various points on the system.

A statement showing in detail miles of road and track operated will be found upon another page. (See pamphlet report.)

The capital stock authorized and outstanding is as follows:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Authorized to December 31 1907 | | $250,000,000 00 |
| Total amount issued and outstanding to December 31 1906 | $178,182,700 00 | |
| There was issued during the year | 449,300 00 | |
| Total amount issued and outstanding to December 31 1907 | | 178,632,000 00 |
| Balance authorized but not issued | | $71,368,000 00 |
| The funded debt was not changed during the year 1907, and remains at | | $230,414,845 00 |

There were issued during the year $25,000,000 of three-year 5% gold notes due February 1 1910.

The company's holding of 5,748 shares of the common capital stock of The Boston & Maine Railroad Company, acquired during the previous year, were exchanged for an equal amount of capital stock of the New York New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company. There were purchased during the year 458 shares of the capital stock of the Merchants Despatch Transportation Company.

To obtain the locomotives and cars necessary for immediate requirements, The New York Central & Hudson River Railroad Company, together with the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railway Company, the Michigan Central Railroad Company, the Cleveland Cincinnati Chicago & St. Louis Railway Company and the Chicago Indiana & Southern Railroad Company, has become a party to an equipment trust agreement and lease, dated November 1, 1907, known as "New York Central Lines Equipment Trust of 1907." This agreement provides for an issue of $30,000,000 of equipment trust certificates; being ninety per cent of the total cost of the equipment to be furnished under the terms of said agreement. The cost of the equipment to be leased under the terms of the agreement by this company will approximate $13,500,000. Certificates representing ninety per cent of the cost of the equipment delivered prior to December 31 1907 to all of the railroad companies party to the agreement were issued, and this company purchased $5,845,252 32 of such certificates. Delivery of the balance of the locomotives and cars to be furnished under the trust agreement will be made during 1908 and the annual report for that year will contain full particulars concerning the character and cost of the equipment.

An agreement was entered into between this company and The Pullman Company providing for Pullman car service for twenty-five years from January 1 1905; also an agreement with The Western Union Telegraph Company providing for telegraph service for thirty years from January 1st 1906. These contracts supersede all prior agreements with these companies and are more favorable in their terms to the railroad company.

Steady progress has been made in the work of constructing the new Grand Central terminal and additional tracks and road equipment in conneciton with the extension of operation of trains by electric traction to Croton and North White Plains.

Since early in the year all passenger trains on the Hudson and Harlem divisions, between the Grand Central Station and the temporary terminals at High Bridge and Wakefield, have been hauled by electric locomotives or operated under the multiple unit system instead of by steam.

Continued progress has been made at different points on the line in the abolition of grade crossings, revision of grades, new alignments, &c., and extensive improvements in yards at important terminal points on the system.

The tendency to regulate railroads and the details of their business has been shown in many Federal and State laws, either enacted or proposed. The Inter-State Commerce Commission and the Public Service Commissions which have been established in a number of the States have been given indefinite and almost arbitrary power. Hours of labor have been shortened by law, rates of fare have been reduced, liability for accidents has been increased, and in ways too numerous to mention burdens have been placed on railroad companies which other corporations are not subjected to, and their ability to bear them has been lessened. While the enactment of just and equal laws is of the highest importance to railroads, much of the recent legislation has not been preceded by intelligent study or investigation and has been passed without reference to practical results. Uncertainty as to the effect of these new laws, and doubt as to how far regulation and special legislation as to railroads is to be carried, has without question been one of the causes which have unsettled the value of securities and helped to bring on the present period of depression.

The great expansion of business throughout the country during the period of prosperity which ended in October last brought to this company a rapid increase in the volume of traffic. There has been a continued growth in gross earnings for several years past, but this has been due to increase in the amount of business rather than to an increase in rates. Incident to good times, in order to handle the growing volume of traffic, facilities had to be quickly enlarged at great expense, and the number of employees increased. Meanwhile wages and the cost of material rose to a level never before reached in recent years. When, therefore, late in the fall of 1907, depression set in, it was at once felt by this company as well as by all other lines, and gross earnings fell off suddenly and heavily. It was impossible to reduce expenses at once to correspond with the shrinkage in gross revenue.

Gross earnings were $98,369,059 55, an increase of $6,279,290 78 over the previous year.

The freight earnings were $59,406,446 56, an increase of $4,582,163 79. This increase was due principally to the large additional tonnage of both bituminous and anthracite coal carried as compared with an unusually light tonnage during the first six months of the previous year, at which time there was a strike in the bituminous fields. The average freight haul shows a slight increase, but the relative increase in coal tonnage as compared with that in higher-class freight produced a decrease in the average rate per ton per mile.

The passenger earnings were $29,837,859 02, an increase of $1,269,081 01. The commutation business continued to decrease and the improvement was only in the volume of business interchanged with foreign lines.

The earnings from express traffic were $3,577,454 78, an increase of $455,126 30. This was due in part to additional business handled and in part to the increased compensation paid to the railroad by the express company for facilities furnished.

The earnings from transportation of mails were $2,775,430 31, a decrease of $232,032 65. In consequence of an Act of Congress passed March 2 1907, the compensation received from the United States Government for the transportation of mails has been reduced, the new rates taking effect from July 1 1907 and affecting the receipts for the last six months of the fiscal year covered by this report.

The expenses of operation were $75,803,333 88, an increase of $10,849,638 55, or 16.70%. The percentage of operating expenses to revenue was 77.06%, compared with 70.53% for the previous year.

The operating expenses by groups show as follows:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Maint. of way and struc. | $12,462,046 72; | Inc. $1,743,447 56, | or 16.27% |
| Maint. of equipment | 14,823,630 54; | Inc. 254,573 10, | or 1.75% |
| Conduct. transportation | 45,995,903 11; | Inc. 8,728,314 01, | or 23.42% |
| General expenses | 2,521,753 51; | Inc. 123,303 88, | or 5.14% |

In the maintenance of way and structures accounts the large items were for repairs of roadway, especially signals, and renewals of ties. There were large additional expenditures for repairs of buildings.

In the maintenance of equipment accounts the expenditures for repairs of all classes of equipment increased heavily. Renewal charges decreased as compared with the previous year.

In the conducting transportation accounts the largest increase is shown in the charges covering compensation paid to employees, especially those connected directly with the train service, this being due in part to additional business done, but more generally to increased rates in all departments; to the extension of block signal territory and improvement and elaboration of existing signals, and to the putting into effect of the eight-hour day for operators.

The operating expenses within the electric zone were exceptionally heavy, the principal causes being the continued operation, by steam, in a portion of the zone beyond the temporary terminals at Wakefield and Highbridge. The expense should be largely reduced upon completion of the electric service to the permanent terminals at North White Plains and Croton.

The balance of per diem and mileage payments to foreign lines in excess of receipts for the use of this company's equipment shows a very large increase, caused in part by the change from twenty-five to fifty cents in the per diem rate since July 1 1907.

Fuel for locomotives showed a heavy increase, caused by increased consumption and a higher average cost per ton than in the previous year.

In general expenses there has been a large increase in the cost of clerical labor in both general and division offices, part of which was made necessary by the new system of accounts in effect on July 1 1907, as promulgated by the Inter-State Commerce Commission and State Commissions.

The net earnings were $22,565,725 67, a decrease of $3,262,087 27.

Other income amounted to $11,476,051 36, an increase of $3,768,313 59, representing larger returns upon securities held by the company.

Extraordinary expenditures during the year were as follows:

| For additions to property, charged to cost of road and equipment | $6,431,915 04 |
| For construction work on leased lines and for Grand Central terminal improvemens, to be charged in part against funds provided by lessor companies | 9,014,974 91 |
| For new equipment and betterments, charged against special improvement fund | 2,351,231 26 |
| Total | $17,798,121 20 |

| There was no change in capital stock during the year, the amount authorized and outstanding December 31st 1907 being | $50,000,000 00 |
| The funded debt outstanding on December 31st 1906 was | $135,404,000 00 |
| It has been decreased during the year as follows: | |
| By the purchase and retirement of first mortgage bonds of the Detroit Monroe & Toledo Railroad Company, being the balance of $924,000 00 which matured August 1st 1906 | 4,000 00 |
| Total funded debt December 31st 1907 | $135,400,000 00 |
| In addition to the above there was issued and sold during the year this company's five per cent gold notes dated February 1st 1907, and maturing February 1st 1910, amounting to | $15,000,000 00 |

There were sold during the year 1,000 shares of stock of the East Chicago Belt Railroad Company and 5,000 shares of stock of the Indiana Harbor Railroad Company of Illinois.

There were purchased during the year 70,596 shares of the common stock of the Cleveland Cincinnati Chicago & St. Louis Railway Company, 656 shares of stock of the Merchants Despatch Transportation Company, 1,800 shares of the preferred and 1,800 shares of the common stock of the Chicago Kalamazoo & Saginaw Railway Company, 1 share of stock of the Mahoning State Line Railroad Company and 12,250 shares of stock of the Indiana Harbor Belt Railroad Company.

To obtain the locomotives and cars necessary for their immediate requirements, the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railway Company, together with the New York Central & Hudson River Railroad Company the Michigan Central Railroad Company, the Cleveland Cincinnati Chicago & St. Louis Railway Company, and the Chicgo Indiana & Southern Railroad Company, has become a party to an equipment trust agreement and lease dated November 1 1907, known as "New York Central Lines Equipment Trust of 1907." This agreement provides for an issue of $30,000,000 00 of equipment trust certificates; being ninety per cent of the total cost of the equipment to be furnished under the terms of said agreement. The cost of the equipment to be leased under the terms of the agreement by this company will approximate $7,500,000 00. Certificates representing ninety per cent of the cost of the equipment delivered prior to December 31 1907, to all of the railroad companies parties to the agreement, were issued, and this company purchased $3,341,000 00 of such certificates. Delivery of the balance of the locomotives and cars to be furnished under the "trust" agreement will be made during 1908, and the annual report for that year will contain full particulars concerning the character and cost of the equipment.

An agreement was entered into between this company and the Pullman Company, providing for Pullman car service for twenty-five years from January 1st 1905; also an agreement with The Western Union Telegraph Company, providing for telegraph service for thirty years from January 1st 1906. These contracts supersede all prior agreements with those companies, and are more favorable in their terms to the railroad company.

The gross earnings for the year were $44,953,475 02, an increase of $2,409,096 64 as compared with last year.

The freight earnings were $31,111,482 12, an increase of $1,349,285 01. This increase is due principally to the large increase in tonnage of manufactured commodities handled.

Passenger earnings were $9,769,872 95, an increase of $1,054,170 21.

The earnings from mail, express, rents and miscellaneous for the year amounted to $4,072,119 95, an increase of $5,641 42. Express earnings increased $65,340 57, mail earnings decreased $62,484 45, due to reduction in compensation allowed by the Government.

The operating expenses for the year amounted to $29,544,347 27, an increase of $2,292,269 50.

Maintenance of way and structures increased $1,006,074 75 due principally to heavy repairs and renewals to bridges, to renewal of a greater number of cross ties and to increase in rate of pay for labor.

Maintenance and renewals of equipment increased $200,420 27, principally on account of increase in rate of pay to shop employees.

Conducting transportation increased $974,718 09. With the exception of car mileage and hire of equipment, which show a large decrease as compared with last year, the increase is distributed among the various items under this heading, and is due principally to heavier volume in traffic and increase in rate of pay of train and station employees.

General expenses increased $111,056 39, due principally to increase in clerical force and to expenses occasioned by additional requirements as to reports, &c., for the Inter-State Commerce Commission and State Commissions.

The income from investments for the year was $5,716,419 66, an increase of $1,562,914 30, due to additional revenue on stocks owned and to interest on sundry loans.

The first charges increased $1,210,246 98. This is due to interest on Gold Bonds sold the latter part of last year and to interest on Gold Notes sold during the current year.

The insurance expenses in 1907 to expense loading were 75.3% and the actual mortality to tabular expectation only 67.2%. The officers of the company are Benjamin F. Stevens, President; Alfred D. Foster, Vice-President; Daniel F. Appel, Secretary, and Jacob A. Barbey and William F. Davis, Assistant Secretaries. The full report will be mailed upon application to the home office, 87 Milk Street, Boston, or the New York branch at 220 Broadway, St. Paul Building.

—Volume VII of the new edition of the "Copper Handbook" has just been issued by the author, Horace J. Stevens of Houghton, Mich. The book has 1228 pages and contains about 180,000 words of new matter. There are 25 chapters, an increase of nine, treating of copper under the headings of History, Geology, Chemistry, Mineralogy, Mining, Milling, Concentrating, Hydrometallurgy, Pyrometallurgy, Electrometallurgy, Alloys, Brands, Grades, Uses, Substitutes, Terminology, Geography, Copper Deposits, Copper Mines and Statistics. The treatment given the subject in 1228 pages is encyclopedic in scope, but the logical and orderly arrangement of the great mass of facts presented, coupled with a table of contents, full index, and alphabetical arrangement of districts, countries, mines, minerals, and glossary, render it possible to ascertain any given fact with almost as much ease as a word is found in a dictionary. This is a point of much value to readers that has been overlooked in many otherwise excellent works of reference. The price of the book is $5. It will be sent, carriage charges prepaid, subject to approval or return.

—J. W. Bowen & Co., stock and bond brokers, 53 State St., Boston, have added room 26 in the Exchange Building, Boston, to their present quarters. The firm makes a specialty of the securities of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. and its sub-companies. Touching its analyses of the reports of the sub-companies the firm finds that in general 1907 was an extremely successful year. A letter says: "Gross earnings have increased satisfactorily and net earnings have shown up equally well in spite of the fact that there is a great shut-down on new construction. The financial condition of the companies has been generally much improved through the issue of new securities, which have been used to liquidate floating debt. For years the companies have been carrying a large excess of floating indebtedness over quick assets, but Dec. 31 1907 shows the floating debt largely liquidated and in some cases an excess of quick assets over floating indebtedness.

—About thirty-five representatives and correspondents of the investment banking firm of Spencer Trask & Co. will leave New York Sunday morning, the 29th inst., to visit the cities of Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago and Milwaukee. Primarily, the object of the trip is to enable the party to familiarize themselves at first hand with the properties of the Detroit Edison Company, the Milwaukee Electric Railway & Light Company and the Milwaukee Light Heat & Traction Company, which are among the important public utility corporations under the supervision and management of the North American Company. The party will also go over the properties of the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Company. For many years Spencer Trask & Co. have been identified with the management of these and similar properties, the securities of which are largely held by institutions and individuals both in this country and in Europe.

—To accommodate the continued demand for this year's edition of their well-known "Statistical Tables," Spencer Trask & Co. of New York have had a second edition of this valuable publication printed, which they will distribute free to investors who write for "Booklet No. 138." The 1908 edition (pocket size) is replete with information upon American railroads, Government bonds, public utility and industrial corporations, presented in a concise and condensed form. Applications for the booklet will be received at the firm's New York office, William and Pine Streets.

—Joseph Balch, National Bank Examiner for Connecticut and Rhode Island, and formerly Secretary of the Providence Institution for Savings, has become associated with the public accounting firm of Henry W. Brooks Jr. & Company 15 Wall Street, New York. A branch office has been opened in the Banigan Building, Providence, with Mr. Balch in charge of the Eastern clientage.

COMMERCIAL EPITOME.

Friday Night, March 27th 1908.

A little more activity is noticeable in general trade and the feeling is somewhat more confident, though not enough so to lead people to abandon the policy of conservatism. Some idle machinery has started up and prices have in the main been pretty well sustained.

LARD on the spot has advanced, with the trading more active. Stimulating factors have been strength and activity in the future market at the West, small receipts of live hogs at rising prices and light offerings. There has been a moderate inquiry for export. Western 8⅛@8.15c. and City 7¾@8c. Refined lard has also advanced for the reasons above stated. The trading has been rather quiet, though more active than recently. Offerings have been light. Refined Continent 8.65c., South American 9.25c. and Brazil in kegs 10.50c. Speculation in lard futures at the West has been active at rising prices. There has been good buying on the diminished movement of live hogs, strength at the stockyards and the improved spot demand. Commission houses have been good buyers. Packers have been the principal sellers.

Speculation in cotton for future delivery has continued on a moderate scale, and prices, under the pressure of liquidation coincident with weakness in the Southern spot markets, generally favorable weather and the quietness of the trade in cotton goods, have declined. According to current rumor, one of the leading bulls has disposed of his holdings, and from present appearances there is now no very aggressive manipulation on the "long" side. Some local operators, however, have latterly been buying to some extent, on the idea that after the very pronounced decline which has recently taken place, nothing would be more natural than at least a temporary rally. The receipts, too, have continued light, and the statistics, so far at least as the visible supplies are concerned, are cited as a bullish argument. Some efforts appear to be making in the South, moreover, to reduce the acreage, and complaints are heard of dry weather in Texas interfering with plowing and delaying the germination of cotton already planted. At times very heavy rains have been reported in Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia. The Continent of late has been buying in Liverpool, and in this market not a few of the shorts have either reduced or entirely liquidated their interest. On Thursday, despatches from the South reported a better demand for the actual cotton, not only from Europe but from New England. But, whatever might be said in favor of the market, one fact is clear, and that is that both trade and speculation are quiet. The general public manifests little or no interest in the speculation, and there is no wide belief here that the cotton acreage can be materially, if at all, reduced. The more general impression is that there will be some increase. It is also contended that trade is likely to continue quiet for a time, and that in such circumstances the natural drift of prices will be downward. Some revival of manipulation in the May option occurred in the middle of the week, whereby that month, which had been down to a premium of only 2 points over July, suddenly moved up to one of 10 points, and July, which early in the week was only 2 points over October, later on ran 15 points over that month. But these straddle transactions have, after all, been only a side issue. Any rally which has occurred has been quite as much due to mere liquidation of short cotton as anything else. To-day prices declined, owing partly to dulness and depression in Liverpool and local, Southern and Liverpool selling. Some March notices were issued, and at one time stop orders were reached. The closing, however, was at some recovery on this crop, while the next ended at a small net advance for the day. Spot cotton has been quiet. Middling uplands closed at 10.40c.

JUTE BUTTS, BAGGING, &c.—The market for jute bagging has been very quiet, with prices ruling as last named: 7¼ cents per yard for 2-lb. domestic bagging and 6½ cents per yard for re-woven and inferior foreign. Jute butts continue dull at 2@3 cents per lb. for bagging quality.

BREADSTUFFS.

Friday, March 27 1908.

Prices for wheat flour have been somewhat easier of late, but the trading has continued on such a small scale that changes are to a large extent merely nominal. Some of the mills, however, have shaded quotations in the hope of stimulating business, but buyers have continued to take only enough flour to meet pressing needs. The export trade has been at a standstill here. Reports from various parts of the country reveal conditions similar to those existing here. Rye flour has been dull and steady. Corn meal has been quiet and firm.

Wheat has see-sawed within a narrow range during the week, prices here of late being slightly higher while at Chicago they have been a trifle lower. The world's exports have been large, the weather at the West has been as a rule favorable, the crop reports from Europe have been in the main cheerful, Northwestern stocks have been increasing, seeding is going on in that section under very favorable conditions and export trade has been of very small proportions. The Argentine shipments are estimated for the week at 6,000,000 bushels, which, though 750,000 bushels smaller than in the previous week, is 2,500,000 bushels larger than a year ago. Argentine has continued to offer freely to Europe at gradually receding prices. Southwestern crop news has been generally favorable. Continental markets of late have declined. On the other hand considerable stress has been laid on reports of dry weather in Kansas and within a day or two a cold wave has seemed to threaten the winter-wheat country. Nebraska, moreover, also seems to need rain and from various parts of the Southwest have come reports of more or less damage by insects. A sharp falling off in Northwestern receipts has taken place, those on Thursday for instance being 300 cars smaller than on the same day last year, in striking contrast with the fact that recently they were larger than at the same time last year. It is also worthy of note that cash premiums at the Northwest over Chicago futures have been well maintained. A good milling demand has prevailed at the Southwest and there is no doubt that a good many traders are more or less nervous over the possibility of sudden weather changes and damage to winter wheat, although the plant as a rule seems to have got through the winter in pretty good condition. The big operators in Chicago, according to common report, seem to be "scalping" the market, like pretty much everybody else, only on a larger scale. Such tactics keep the market more or less nervous and unsettled without producing any very striking net changes in a week. To-day prices declined on disappointing Liverpool advices, large Argentine shipments, increasing stocks at the Northwest, reports of rains in the Southwest, bearish pressure and liquidation.

Indian corn futures have ruled firm, though the changes in prices have been confined within relatively narrow limits much of the time. But with the receipts small and stocks at Chicago light there has been little disposition to sell for short account, despite favorable weather over most sections and extremely favorable crop reports from the Southwest. Strong Chicago interests have given support at times. They are believed to be committed to the bull side to a considerable extent. Nervous shorts have covered at times. Country acceptances increased early in the week but have latterly fallen off. The cash trade has been quiet, but prices have been firm as a rule. To-day prices declined on the recession in wheat, larger country acceptances and liquidation.

Oats for future delivery in the Western market have shown no marked changes, the trading being on an exceedingly small scale. The stock at Chicago is steadily increasing and the price is considered high. But the fear of manipulation acts as a deterrent on short sales. Besides, unfavorable reports in regard to the quality of seed oats have continued to be received from important sections. The cash demand has been fairly active at firm prices. Cash interests have sold to some extent, however, and leading bulls, it is believed, reduce their holdings at every opportunity. To-day prices declined, owing to the depression in wheat and liquidation. Crop reports from the Southwest were favorable.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

New York, Friday Night, March 27 1908.

Conditions in the primary cotton goods market show little change from a week ago and the volume of business continues extremely small. The tendency of prices has again been lower, declines of ⅛c. to ¼c. having occurred in several lines. This has again had the effect of unsettling the minds of buyers, and with the declining raw material market and almost daily announcements of further wage reductions in the manufacturing centres, some are inclined to think that the bottom has not yet been reached. Others, on the other hand, state that there are distinct signs of improvement and that with the general curtailment of production that is taking place and the small stocks in the hands of jobbers, prices will not only be maintained but buying will shortly be on a considerably larger scale. For the moment jobbers are persistently holding off from the market and salesmen on the road are sending in very discouraging reports. It is true, and should not be overlooked, that jobbers at this time of the year have usually completed the greater part of their spring purchases and business in the primary market is consequently quiet. But less satisfaction can be derived from that fact this year, inasmuch as during the period when the market should have been active, there was practically nothing doing. The question of April payments is one that is causing some anxiety, although in many directions collections are better and money for commercial uses is more plentiful. When these are over it is expected by credit departments that a distinct improvement in business will occur. Export business has been quiet, although there have been inquiries for fair quantities of light-weight drills and sheetings for China, at prices, however, which manufacturers have not seen their way clear to accept. Chinese buyers have been disappointed by the continual decline in values since they re-entered the market. There has been little change in the woolen and worsted goods market since last week and both men's wear and dress goods continue very quiet.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS.—The exports of cotton goods from this port for the week ending March 21 were 3,455 packages, valued at $294,704, their destination being to the points specified in the tables below:

|---|---|---|---|---|
| New York to March 21 | Week. | Since Jan. 1. | Week. | Since Jan. 1. |

The value of these New York exports since Jan. 1 has been $2,706,413 in 1908, against $3,773,686 in 1907.

There have been further declines in heavy brown goods during the week and business has been on a very small scale. Medium and light-weight goods have held steadier, but they also have been in very limited request. The Chinese inquiries have not resulted in any new business, but there have been some few sales to miscellaneous countries; other goods that have been taken for export during the week include denims, plaids, printed and bleached goods. The last-named have been very irregular in the domestic market and low-count goods have been sold by second hands for practically what they would fetch. Domestic consumers have taken some coarse, colored cotton goods, but the total has not been large. Cotton linings have again been reduced and have been in slightly better demand at the lower level. Lines of cotton blankets have been opened at last January's prices, which were considerably lower than those ruling later in the year, some fair orders for these and for domets have been placed. Prints have been quiet and there has been little doing in ginghams. Print cloths have again been reduced during the week, regulars being now quoted nominally at 3⅜c. and standard gray goods at 4 7-16c.; business has been very light and converters are finding difficulty in disposing of finished goods.

WOOLEN GOODS.—In the men's wear heavy-weight woolen and worsted goods market, mills are principally occupied at the present time in forwarding sample pieces to clothiers; the result of this they are looking forward to with more than the usual amount of interest, for if the latter find a good market among the retailers they will be prepared to send in their duplicate orders, upon which the present season depends, more than any for a long time past, for its success. In the meantime the spring trade is being watched with interest. Duplicate orders for spring goods are being received in fair volume, but the market is very bare of supplies and premiums are being paid for the right kind of goods. The curtailment of production is beginning to make itself felt and it is expected that by the end of the year all stock goods will have been sold out. There has been some price cutting in low-grade heavy-weight goods, but this has, so far, failed to stimulate business to any great extent. A fair business is passing in dress goods and in some instances mills are well supplied with orders until after the middle of the year. Prices, also, are being maintained and offers for large quantities slightly below the market are being refused. Fancy worsteds have done very well and broadcloths have been largely sold.

FOREIGN DRY GOODS.—Some lines of imported woolen and worsted dress goods have sold very well but others have been more or less neglected. Silks and ribbons continue extremely quiet. Linens are moving more freely and prices remain unchanged. Burlaps are firmer and in slightly better demand.

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.

There have been several features prominent in industrial affairs the past week which for the time have had more or less influence on security values. A chief development has been a further evolution in the matter we have for two or more weeks touched upon, and which calls for immediate attention and radical measures for reform. Other matters may wait; this stands in the fore-front. We refer to the accelerating pace with which our worthy President's devices are heading for the chaos of railroad insolvency. The low rates which have been forced upon the carrying trade have so far shortened income as to bring it in very many cases materially below the point of safety. Every one knows that, and is aware of the kinds of lapses which naturally accompany this downward gradation. Figures are being scattered broadcast which tell the story of the situation in strong language. Unfortunately, the public reads them but fails to heed their teaching; and what is more unfortunate is that those who have the power to arrest the evil tendency are not sufficiently alive to its threatenings to take immediate measures to stay their progress. An old Washington dispatch which we have several times referred to seemed to promise a 10% rise in railroad rates; this looked like a comprehension of the situation and gave encouragement of curative action, as if a reform movement was in view, if not, indeed, in close contemplation along those lines. Instead of such relief being an early event, it seems to be deferred.

In the meantime the rapid increase in railroad retrenchment now in progress everywhere, forced as a measure necessary for survival, is especially noteworthy. This end is secured by stopping all improvements, extensions and other work except such as are absolutely essential, and laying off as many men as the occasion permits. It must be obvious to every one that we cannot be in the enjoyment of the old high-tide of progress, or anything like it, while these cuts in expenditure continue, however much we may deceive ourselves into thinking things are getting more active. Many roads can take these steps without reaching insolvency, and some few without even reducing dividends, because they are only trespassing on a surplus which in the past has been large and heretofore put into all sorts of improvement work, adding to the usefulness of the property, to the development of the country they drain and of the industries they cultivate. These instances are conducive to lethargy and prejudicial to wide-awake remedial action which the occasion demands. The Erie road, which as to income is at present among the less favored, has been struggling all the week with efforts to make provision for the payment of $5,500,000 short-term non-interest-bearing notes due on the 8th inst., with the alternative facing it of falling into the hands of receivers. Another class of statements is the Pennsylvania's for the month of February, which road was able to decrease its loss in gross earnings of $2,934,300 by economizing operating expenses to the extent of $2,541,200 on its Eastern and Western combined lines; that, of course, does not mean much of an effort to the road, but an immense loss to the business of the country, and especially to the development of the property itself. Taking the recent earnings of all the roads, they show that affairs are going down fast, and that the Government should make haste and amend the Inter-State Commerce law, allowing rates that will make the roads as a body self-subsisting entities and not parasitic.

The local community by sad experience is being made aware of the ill effects of governmental interference with and regulation of the affairs of street railways. We have in this State, as is well known, two Public Service Commissions, which have charge of pretty nearly everything concerning street railways, steam roads, electric-light, heating and power concerns, and gas and express companies, &c. These bodies began their labors on the 1st of last July, and the first thing the Public Service Commission for the First District (the body charged with the regulation of corporations in the metropolitan district) did was to begin an investigation of the street railways, the elevated roads and subways of New York City. There were, as always happens in such cases, some sensational and damaging disclosures. The effect was to discredit all the securities of these properties. Arrangements had been begun a short time before for finanicng the needs of the different companies for the immediate future, through contemplated issues of collateral trust notes, but the investigation referred to, coming at a period of disturbed monetary conditions, such as prevailed last summer, rendered carrying the task to completion out of the question. It had been known for a long while that the Metropolitan Street Railway lines were not earning their dividend and interest charges, but, through the common control of these street railway lines and the subway and elevated lines, the surplus earnings of the Interborough Rapid Transit Co. were available to meet the deficiency. The burden was a heavy one, but in effect the financiers who had built and conceived the subway and had acquired the elevated roads were carrying the load.

This plan of common control, however, was from the first denounced by the sensational press. They succeeded in egging the Commission on (for a public body, however high the character of its members, is always in large degree amenable to public clamor), and the inevitable followed. The controlling interests in the holding company—the Interborough-Metropolitan Co.—were not bound to carry this load, since their only interest in the street railway lines was in their stock holdings in the same, and accordingly, when their plans for new capital needs for the different properties for the immediate future were so rudely disturbed, and when at the same time abuse was being heaped on them thicker than ever, they declined any longer to make up the growing deficit resulting from the operation of these street railway lines. The security holders and other creditors thereupon began to enforce their claims and receivers took possession. There was great glee in the camp of those who had so long been seeking to bring about this very state of things. Their predictions of general insolvency had been verified, and they delighted in saying "I told you so."

But now that all this has happened, what is the position of the traveling public? Evidence is piling up with amazing rapidity going to show that, instead of the financiers, who had been so roundly denounced, bearing the burden, as was the case before last September, the public will have to shoulder the burden. At first there was only a general receivership, embracing the Metropolitan Street Railway proper; but gradually separate receivers were appointed for the various leased and controlled lines, as each particular security interest undertook to enforce its lien covering specific pieces of property. As a consequence, the city street railway system is being dismembered piece by piece—a new receivership this week having been that of the Union Ry., covering the lines in the Bronx. With the courts operating the lines through a multiplicity of receivers, the question of course comes up how to make each particular line self-sustaining with a view to meeting the obligations resting on it. The Public Service Commission, acting as if oblivious of the situation, continues to issue its edicts commanding more frequent and better service, and the courts are to a certain extent aiding it in this regard. For instance, Judge Lacombe in the United States Circuit Court on Monday last granted authority to the receivers of the New York City and Metropolitan Street Railway companies to issue 6% 1-year receiver's certificates to provide for the rehabilitation of the surface lines of the two companies. These certificates are to have a lien preceding both the general and collateral trust mortgage and the refunding mortgage. But this process is not likely to go very far, and could not, in any event, be carried on indefinitely; so the situation of the Court and the receivers is precisely that of the private owner, and the problem reverts back to the question, how to make the lines self-sustaining.

The receivers have convinced the Court that there is only one way of accomplishing this end—transfer privileges must be either curtailed or cut off altogether. A receiver cannot put his hands in his pocket and make up a loss for the time being, as can the private owner if so inclined. This week Receiver Whitridge of the Third Avenue Railroad reported to the Court that under the system of transfer privileges with the Metropolitan Street Railway and other lines the Third Avenue Company for the month beginning Jan. 16 and ending Feb. 15 had carried 4,067,618 passengers, of whom 2,944,341 paid their fares with money and 1,123,277 paid with transfer tickets obtained on other lines. He adds this impressive but pitiful remark: "I can neither pay wages nor buy supplies with transfer tickets and they are of no use whatever to the Thrd Avenue Railroad." Acting on this suggestion, the Court has directed that transfer privileges be in large measure discontinued. Some transfers had previously been cut off, but now all transfers between the Metropolitan Street Railway lines and the Third Avenue lines are to be eliminated except in certain places where there is common use of pieces of road. As a business proposition, Judge Lacombe says it is obvious that a curtailment of transfer privileges in this manner will increase the cash receipts, and since receivers are trustees for the creditors, their duty to operate the roads so as to increase earnings is equally obvious.

Incidentally some instructive figures bearing on the general question of transfers have been published. It appears that in the fiscal year ending June 30 1907 376,629,571 revenue passengers were carried on Manhattan Island, compared with 194,765,342 transfer passengers, the latter forming 51.71% of the former. In 1888 the transfer passengers were only 1,996,871, or 1.10% of the revenue passengers, and even in 1895 the number was no more than 12,769,810, or 5.06%. During the six months ending Dec. 31 1907 the ratio of transfer passengers was still further increased, it rising to 55.13%. It is generally supposed that the street railways get 5c. per passenger, but allowing for the transfer passengers carried free, the average for all passengers realized for the fiscal year 1907 was only 3.29c. and for the six months to Dec. 31 1907 was but 3.16c. Through the extension of the transfer system, and in part also through the abuse of the privilege, the average realized per passenger has been uninterruptedly declining. As recently as 1902 the average was 3.60c., against 3.16c. now. The disposition has been to think—and we must confess that we have ourselves shared in this belief—that the financial troubles of the street railway lines in this city must be ascribed to over-capitalization. But the figures we have just cited with reference to the increase in the number of the transfer or free passengers carried and the decrease in the average rate received as a consequence, indicate that this view must in a measure be modified. A capital illustration of what has been going on in this respect is furnished by comparing results for the fiscal year 1907 with those for the fiscal year immediately preceding. Receipts in the latest year were only $18,635,568, against $19,381,622 in the previous year. Yet the aggregate number of passengers carried in 1907 was 571,394,913, against 569,994,740 in 1906. The falling off in revenues is explained by the fact that in 1907 out of the total number 194,765,342 were free passengers, as against only 178,639,866 free passengers in 1906.

Summing up, therefore, we find that every interest has suffered and no interest has gained through the success of the plans for the dismemberment of the so-called iniquitous combination of the street railway, the elevated and the subway lines. General insolvency of the street railway lines has been brought about and if anyone can derive satisfaction from that fact he is welcome to it. It is true that a "hateful" monopoly has also been destroyed and each separate piece of road can now be operated on the go-as-you-please plan. But to whose advantage is this? Security holders have suffered a tremendous shrinkage in the value of their shares or obligations and the roads no longer find themselves able to provide for either their physical or their financial needs. The traveling public has suffered most of all. Instead of practically a universal system of transfers they must now pay two fares or three fares instead of only one. This is what investigation, Government interference and newspaper and political abuse have accomplished. What open-minded man can view the general wreck without learning the lesson which it teaches?

But it is not alone our street railway properties that are in a bad plight. Steam railroads, under the same governmental regulative process, are being reduced by degrees to almost equally unfortunate straits. And the worst of it is that the only notions for providing relief possessed by the politicians and those in authority seem to be further interference of the same kind. This week, for instance, news leaked out that the Inter-State Commerce Commission had asked for a special appropriation of $750,000, so as to be in position to undertake a physical valuation of the railroads if the opportunity should arise. Railroad securities have already undergone tremendous shrinkage and the only use that could be made of such valuation, as far as we can see (for we may be sure the effort would be to make the valuation as low as possible in order to justify the Commission in reducing rates) would be to convince security holders that there ought to be further shrinkage. In addition one of the members of the Inter-State Commerce Board, namely Commissioner Lane, has been issuing a pronunciamento intended to show that the railroads are not so badly off after all, even though their gross earnings are falling off 11 to 12 per cent and their net earnings 25 to 30 per cent. One of the events of the week has been the reduction in the semi-annual dividend on Atchison Topeka & Santa Fe stock from 3 per cent to 2½ per cent. As net earnings of the company for the eight months to Feb. 29 have been only $18,692,240 against $23,033,722 in the corresponding eight months of the previous year, the step was undoubtedly judicious.

Another event of the week which has attracted wide attention has been the effort of the Erie Railroad Co. to provide for its maturing short-term and other floating obligations. All through the week financial interests have been in suspense pending determination whether the effort would succeed, and there has been ominous talk of a possible receivership as the only way out of the dilemma. It should be remembered that the Erie Railroad is organized under New York laws and that all the railroads in this State are now greatly hampered in their operations by the Public Service Commission law of last year. These railroads are no longer free agents. They can take no step without the approval of that body. No matter how pressing their needs they cannot conclude negotiations with bankers for relieving the same without ascertaining whether that omniscient and omnipotent body be ready to approve. Obviously a road like the Erie, whose credit has never been gilt-edged, even when business conditions were flourishing, is not in position in times like the present to make its own terms. Early in the week, the Public Service Commission for the Second District made an order granting the company authority to issue $15,000,000 5-year notes and certain other bonds which are to serve as collateral for these notes, but attached numerous conditions and restrictions. What the outcome of the matter is to be is still in doubt, particularly as some of the holders of the maturing notes seem unwilling to take the new notes in exchange.

Unfortunately, too, railroad earnings are not improving as expected. Losses in gross earnings are running about the same as before. As to net earnings, where these show up less poorly, it is only because of drastic reductions in expenses, which means simply a large degree of idleness among railroad employees and among the employees of manufacturing concerns from which the railroads purchase their supplies. The returns which have come in this week have been mainly for the month of February. For that month the Atchison shows net of $2,322,420, against $2,458,734, and the Southern Railway net of $505,026 against $592,640, both roads having succeeded in effecting heavy reductions in their expenses; but on the other hand the Illinois Central has net of only $809,071 against $1,201,462; the Rock Island system $1,745,201 against $2,504,684; the Canadian Pacific $357,095 against $621,988; the Chicago & North Western $1,071,172 against $1,411,132; the Louisville & Nashville $795,652 against $1,062,414; the Missouri Kansas & Texas $368,401 against $530,728; the Norfolk & Western $625,302 against $868,464; the St. Louis Southwestern $66,523 against $204,443, &c., &c.

It is noteworthy that open market discounts at London this week were lower than those at any European centre, not excepting Paris, which, when money is cheap, usually records the lowest rates. As the result of this abnormal discount condition, exchange at Paris on London fell sharply, and gold moved from the last-named centre to the French capital in some volume, naturally causing a rise in the market price of the metal, reflecting competition between the Bank of England and the French bankers. It would seem that the recession in the open market discount rate at London denoted a loss of control thereof by the Bank, and hence it was thought there would soon be a further reduction in the official rate of discount. Such reduction, however, does not seem probable, judging from the forecasts which are made by London financial journals of the Bank's reserve condition in the current month. It is noted that the Bank usually attains its greatest strength by the middle of March; indeed, then, as a matter of fact, it was exceptionally strong. In April, however, the Bank customarily loses considerable amounts of reserve and with Easter later than usual this year, the decline in reserve seems likely to continue until May, by which time it now seems probable that there will be a decrease in this item of from 4 to 5 millions sterling, the amount depending upon the movement of gold on foreign, as well as on domestic, account. As regards new supplies of the metal, it is expected that a portion, if not the whole, of the gold that will come into the market from abroad will be taken by the Continent, and that the Bank of England will receive none with which to offset the movement to the country. After Easter, though, the monetary tide should turn from the provinces to London, and then it may be in such volume as to justify the Bank in reducing its official rate.

Though it had been expected that the German Government would shortly issue new loans, the emission was not looked for before May. The announcement on Thursday of an Imperial loan for 160 million dollars and of an issue of 100 million dollars of Prussian consols caused surprise. Possibly the negotiation of these loans may have such an influence as to cause the Bank of England to defer action on the discount rate at least until the end of April. Probably gold will now be needed by the Reichsbank, for it lost 30 million dollars in cash last week, and if there should be a movement of the metal from London to Berlin, open market discounts at the British capital would be affected, thus contributing to a further postponement of a reduction of its official rate by the Bank of England.

It is now two and a half years since the advantage of so low a rate as 3% was enjoyed by the London public. The coin and bullion on March 19 amounted to 40½ millions and the reserve to 31¼ millions—to equal which figures we have to go back to September 1896, when the reserve was slightly in excess of the above. The figures, therefore, of the reserve lend weight to the belief which the "London Economist" expresses that next month will see the Bank rate lowered to 2½%.

Not only has London enjoyed these unprecedentedly low rates for discounts this week, but like conditions have existed in our own money market for call loans and apparently for the same reasons—depression in trade and inert speculation. A 1% rate for money on call was recorded on the Stock Exchange Monday; this was followed by a fractional recovery, but the average was low for the remainder of the week. Reductions of supplies of money, through recalls of public deposits from the banks, seem to have had little or no effect; the increasing Treasury deficit, which last month amounted to 8½ millions, contributes to augment market accumulations through the excess of disbursements over receipts, and the monetary stagnation at Western centres seems to be promotive of a flow hither of funds in sums unusual for the season. In view of the growing deficit, and of the need for preparation for providing for the redemption of the 64 millions of 3s of 1908 in August, it is regarded as probable that the Secretary of the Treasury will soon recall another large amount of public funds from the banks.

As to foreign exchange, a rumor was current of impending gold exports. A reduction in the rate of exchange at Paris on London to the gold-importing point from the British capital, and also a coincident rise in exchange at New York on London to within half a cent per pound sterling of the normal gold-export point to London, gave rise to some expectations of the possible shipment of the metal hence to Paris as an arbitration operation, in case there should be a further fall in Paris exchange or an additional advance in that of New York on London. The question of such gold exports seemed to depend upon the urgency of the demand for gold at Paris; French bankers were competing in the London bullion market with the Bank of England for the Cape gold that was offered therein, and as a result of such competition the market price of gold has advanced about ¾ of a penny above the normal. There did not, however, appear to be any evidence in this competition for gold that the requirements of French bankers were extraordinary; those bankers were seemingly withdrawing their balances from London with a view to their employment to better advantage either at home or elsewhere on the Continent. Possibly, too, the offering of the new German loans might be the cause for the active bidding for the metal. Our bankers professed to feel no concern regarding the possibility of gold exports; the impression prevailed that were any of the metal to go forward the amount would be small.

Bank clearings continue to indicate a volume of mercantile transactions much below the corresponding period of 1907 or 1906. In certain sections of the country, confining our judgment to these clearings returns, there would seem to have been recently some recovery from the comparative dulness which has been so conspicuous a feature of late months, and at a few points more business is passing than was the case a year ago. But in the country as a whole there is as yet no discernible evidence of returning activity. While that is true, there is a better feeling prevailing in general business circles—a feeling contributed to by the sound state of our financial institutions made in the time of great stress.

Transactions in share properties on the various exchanges have likewise been much less extensive thus far in 1908 than in the similar period of 1907. This shows an indisposition on the part of the general public to invest largely in stocks even of leading and financially strong corporations selling at extremely low values. But this timidity at this time is not surprising, in view of the volume of recent legislation inimical to corporate prosperity. Latest developments along these lines have been, of course, rather more favorable, as witness the upsetting by the Federal courts of the railroad-rate laws of Minnesota and North Carolina. But after the extreme antagonism to railroad and other corporations which has been recently so manifest in State and national legislative assemblies, it will require more than one or two rate decisions to stimulate the business of stock investments. As indicating how decided has been the decrease in volume of stock transactions, we have only to refer to the fact that on the New York Stock Exchange dealings in March 1908 aggregated only 15,939,255 shares, against 32,208,525 shares in the same month of 1907, and that for the three months the total was but 42,373,856 shares, against 71,382,257 shares a year ago. This represents a falling off of three billions of dollars, the market value of the shares traded in for the three months this year having been that much less than last year. And with Stock Exchange transactions an important factor in bank clearings, it is not surprising that the loss in the New York total should be conspicuously large. At Boston the status of affairs was much the same as at New York, the month's transactions this year having been only 970,248 shares, against 1,797,182 shares in March a year ago, and for the three months the comparison is between 2,776,616 shares and 6,203,867 shares. On the other Exchanges of the country somewhat similar conditions have prevailed.

Directing attention now to the compilation of clearings for March and the first quarter of the year which appears to-day on the first page of this issue, we find that only 22 cities of the 114 included show gains over the previous year, and those as a rule quite small. For the whole country the decrease in the March aggregate from that for the month of 1907 reaches 33.3%, and compared with the like period two years ago the loss is 24.8%. For the three months this year's total falls behind last year's by 28% and the loss from 1906 is 28.5%. New York is conspicuous with a decline of 42.5% for the month and 35.4% for the quarter, as compared with last year, and while outside of this city the exhibit is not so unfavorable, the aggregate records a loss of 16.1% for March and 15.1% for the three months. Considering the returns by groups, the most important percentage of loss from 1907, for both the month and since Jan. 1, is found to be in the middle section, where leading cities like Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Baltimore and Albany, in addition to New York, show large declines. Decreases of 28.9% for the month and 23.9% for the three months are recorded by the aggregate of clearings for the cities comprising the New England group; in the Middle West the losses are 6.3% and 8.2% respectively, and on the Pacific Slope reached 27.2% for March and 27.8% for the quarter. At the South the falling off for the month is seen to have been 9.5%, and for the three months 10.3%. A majority of the cities included in the "Other Western" group record gains as compared with 1907, and as a result the aggregate for all points for March exceeded the total of a year ago by 3.5% and for the three months an excess of 3% is exhibited.

The statement of failures for the month of March 1908 completes the statistics for the quarterly period. It shows for the three months 4,909 disasters—a number greater than in any other like period in the history of the United States. In amount of liabilities, however, the quarter ended March 31 1878 exceeded that just completed. Moreover, there were several quarters, all of which were later in the year, when the volume of liabilities arising out of failures was greater than in this first quarter of 1908. This was true notably of the second, third and fourth quarters of 1903, when the amounts involved were 121 millions, 82½ millions and 95½ millions respectively.

The current exhibit is, of course, an unfavorable one, but, in view of antecedent, and to a considerable extent still existing, conditions, furnishes no cause for surprise. Following the crisis of last fall and the resultant check to commercial and industrial affairs, it was obvious that mercantile distress would follow. Business in many cases was being conducted upon a plane that took nothing into account except the continuation of extreme activity. So, when the panic came, those conducting very extensive operations upon limited resources got into difficulties, and in numerous instances, being unable to renew old loans or negotiate new ones, were for the time being at least forced to the wall. Among small traders with very little capital, it takes but little to force failures; in times of great stress, such as that experienced during the period to which we are referring, bankruptcies are numerous. Such was the situation the latter part of 1907, and it has been so thus far in 1908.

Yet, with the business mortality as great as it has been in recent months, it can be quite safely said that developments in that direction have not been as bad as many believed probable, and now there is some slight evidence of a clarifying of the commercial and industrial atmosphere. No special renewal of activity is to be noted in any line of trade, but a feeling of hopefulness, often the precursor of improved conditions, is apparent. This is really a period of transition—an adjusting of affairs to suit changed conditions. With the weak pretty well eliminated, the business world is in a position to await patiently the slow development of another cycle of active and prosperous trade. Among the encouraging features of the current situation is the fact that embarrassments of financial institutions are no longer a disturbing factor. Furthermore, the banks and trust companies that were forced to suspend have, with few exceptions, already resumed, and steps are under way to open up or liquidate the others. This is a distinctly favorable development, for a full restoration of confidence is largely founded upon the soundness of our banks and financial institutions.

Passing directly to a perusal of the statement of failures for the month of March and the quarter ended March 31, as compiled by Messrs. R. G. Dnn & Co., we find that the data for the shorter period (the month) makes a somewhat better comparison with the previous year than was the case in February. At the same time, the aggregate number of failures is given as 1,339, with indebtedness of $21,542,106, which contrasts with 857 in number, with liabilities of $8,163,695, in March of 1907. Insolvencies among manufacturers continued large in amount of liabilities involved, making up over one-half of the grand aggregate and more than trebling the figure for the month of the previous year. Trading failures also were heavy in March, the liabilities reported having been $9,303,362, or moderately less than in the manufacturing division, and comparing with $3,273,720 in the month a year ago. On the other hand, a distinctly improved situation as compared with the previous month is to be noted in the remaining division, which comprises brokers, transporters, &c. Liabilities reported for March reach only $1,260,349, against $6,381,053 in February and $1,545,365 for March 1907.

For the three months of 1908 the number of failures was 4,909, with aggregate liabilities of $75,706,191, comparing with 3,136, with indebtedness of $32,075,591, in the corresponding quarter of 1907, and 3,335, with liabilities of $82,078,826, in the first three months of 1878—this latter being, as already stated, the only opening period of any year making a poorer showing than 1908. Manufacturing disasters make up $33,256,857 of this year's first quarterly total, against $13,779,057 for the same period a year ago; among traders the comparison is between $31,459,512 and $13,526,206 and the remaining failures cover liabilities of $10,989,822 this year against $2,770,328 in 1907. Bank suspensions in March comprehended liabilities of only $6,530,364; but for the quarter the reported liabilities of failed institutions were $69,751,623, against only $6,985,219 last year.

The Pennsylvania Railroad is one of those roads distinguished for a large saving in the expense accounts. This company is always very liberal in its outlays for renewals and improvements when times are prosperous and hence in poor times is in position to make a large curtailment in its expenses. The system's losses in gross earnings for the month were very heavy. On the lines directly operated East of Pittsburgh and Erie the decrease in gross has been $1,637,900 and on the lines West of Pittsburgh and Erie it has been $1,296,400; but these decreases have been offset by a reduction in expenses of $1,298,500 on the Eastern lines and of $1,242,700 on the Western lines. The result, therefore, is that for the combined lines, with a falling off in gross receipts of $2,934,300 there has been a saving in expenses of $2,541,200, leaving a loss in net of only $393,100. Last year in February the combined lines recorded $1,181,300 increase in gross with $244,700 loss in net. In the following we show the gross and net earnings for the last six years of the lines directly operated East of Pittsburgh and Erie, being the only portion of the system for which we have the data for such a comparison.

There was no change in official rates of discount by any of the European banks this week. It is reported from Berlin that an Imperial German 10-year

4% loan for $160,000,000 and an emission of $100,000,000 Prussian 4% consols will be offered April 11 at 99½; a strong syndicate is said to have underwritten the issues. It is expected that the Imperial Bank of Germany will shortly reduce its official rate of discount from 5½% to 4½% in order to facilitate the negotiation of the loans.

One striking feature of the statement of the New York Associated Banks last week was the large increases of $15,354,000 in loans and of $16,898,500 in deposits, as shown by the actual condition on Saturday, and the comparatively small gain of $2,886,100 in the former and of $7,254,100 in the latter, indicated by the average conditions. The actual increase in cash was $580,200; the average gain was $4,177,600; a loss of $3,644,425 in reserve was reported by the actual conditions, while a gain of $1,440,275 was shown by the averages. The actual surplus was $38,395,625; the average was $39,788,525. The above-noted actual gain in loans and in deposits and the loss in reserve were attributed in part to movements incident to the resumption of business by the Knickerbocker Trust Company; loans of non-reporting State banks and trust companies were augmented, the former by $37,642,000 and the latter by $47,571,800.

As elsewhere noted, rates for money on call were abnormally low for the season this week, and the tone of the market for time loans was easy, with liberal offerings of contracts at more or less important concessions compared with quotations in recent weeks. The call money branch of the market was directly affected by loaning of the temporary deposits with banks and trust companies of funds in anticipation of the disbursement of April dividends and interest; probably some influence was exerted by the resumption of business by the Knickerbocker Trust Company, such resumption having, as above stated, partly contributed to the expansion last week of deposits and loans. The inability of trust companies to employ their balances with their depository banks at better rates than 2% did not seem to deter them from directly loaning such balances in the market; the prevailing lower rate was accepted, and to the extent that these concerns effected loans, their offerings were in competition with bank lenders. The prospect that call money would continue cheap in the near future caused commission houses who were not otherwise provided with funds to borrow on call from the market in preference to borrowing on short time; the business in fixed-date contracts was therefore confined to long maturities. Though money is freely offered on stock collateral, merchants seem to be experiencing little relief because of such condition of the market, for rates for the choicest paper have receded but slightly.

Money on call, representing bankers' balances, loaned at the Stock Exchange this week at 2% and at 1%, averaging about 1⅝%; banks quote 1¼% as the minimum and trust companies 1½%. On Monday loans were at 2% and at 1%, with the bulk of the business at 1½%. Thereafter during the week transactions were at 2% and at 1½% with the majority at 1¾%. Time loans on good mixed Stock Exchange collateral were 3% for sixty and 3¼@3½% for ninety days, 3¾@4% for four, 4% for five to six and 4½% for eight months. Commercial paper was quoted at 5@5¼% for choice sixty to ninety day endorsed bills receivable and 5½% for prime four to six months' single names.

The Bank of England rate of discount remains unchanged at 3%. The cable reports discounts of sixty to ninety day bank bills in London 2½%. The open market rate at Paris is 2½@2⅝% and at Berlin and Frankfort it is 4¼%. According to our special cable from London, the Bank of England lost £1,040,540 bullion during the week and held £39,722,848 at the close of the week. Our correspondent further advises us that heavy shipments to the interior of Great Britain account for the loss in bullion holdings. The details of the movement into and out of the Bank were as follows Imports, £331,000 (of which £150,000 from Egypt and £181,000 bar gold bought); exports, £180,000 (of which £130,000 to Buenos Ayres and £50,000 to Paris), and shipments of £1,192,000 net to the interior of Great Britain.

The foreign exchange market was active and higher early in the week; though the tone was firm after Wednesday the business was small. One feature on Monday was a sharp rise in long sterling, following good buying thereof on Saturday of last week; this movement on the first-named day was attributed to the fall in open market discounts in London, as elsewhere noted, which made long preferable to short for remittance. At the same time sight sterling and cables rose in sympathy with long and there was a good inquiry for the former for remittance by the fast Bremen steamer on Tuesday and by the Mauretania on Wednesday; there was, however, such a scarcity of bankers' sight drafts that the demand had to be largely satisfied with long. Another influence operating on the market early in the week was the effort to cover a short interest which had developed towards the close of the previous week. Latterly, when the market had been oversold and rates for exchange had consequently sharply advanced, there were liberal offerings by one of the prominent drawers of bills which, as reported, were against credits resulting from the negotiation of American securities abroad; speculators have therefore apparently grown more confident in their operations, expecting that their short sales could be covered with the bills drawn, as above noted, against credits created from securities. This week, however, these expectations were not realized and consequently cover for short sales had to be procured at a disadvantage.

The coincident rise in exchange in our market and the fall in rates for sterling at Paris on London this week seemed to indicate the possibility of an export of gold hence to Paris as an arbitration operation. French bankers were in competition with the Bank of England for the 5 million dollars Cape gold which was offered in the London bullion market on Monday—3 million dollars being secured by the Bank and 1½ millions by Paris bankers—and consequently the price of the metal was advanced to 77 shillings 9⅞ pence per ounce and later to 77 shillings 10¼ pence; this higher price was an important factor in calculations as to the advantage that might be obtained by shipments of gold to Paris. French bankers during the week were drawing more or less gold from London, as was shown by the declining tendency there of exchange on the British capital. It was suggested that as such exchange rates were even lower this week than they were last there might be some urgent requirement for gold at Paris other than that which would be caused by the withdrawal of capital from London for employment at home or at Berlin on account of the relatively higher discount rates on the Continent, compared with those at London. Should there be such urgency, it might be that French bankers would offer inducements for the shipment hence of the metal to Paris as an arbitration operation. Our bankers did not, however, seem to be greatly interested in the speculation as to possible gold exports to Paris. They admitted that some of the metal might go forward, and perhaps soon, for calculations showed that a rise of half a cent per pound sterling or a further fall in Paris exchange on London would make gold shipments profitable, even though no inducements were offered to attract the metal. But it was asserted our exchange market is so narrow that were there to be a rise in rates on London, it might be difficult to dispose of the reimbursing bill against the gold shipment at figures which would insure a satisfactory profit; therefore the volume of the gold exported would most likely be small and hence it should cause no uneasiness. Possibly the emission of the new German and the Imperial loans which was announced on Thursday may attract capital from Paris and London to Berlin for investment, but it is thought unlikely that much gold will move thereto unless exchange at Berlin on London or Paris shall decline so as to make shipments profitable.

On Saturday of last week the exchange market was strong and, compared with the previous day, rates were 15 points higher for long at 4 8385@4 8390, 20 points for short at 4 8630@4 8640 and 15 points for cables at 4 8655@4 8665. On Monday long rose 15 points to 4 84@4 8405, short 15 points to 4 8640@4 8645 and cables 15 points to 4 8670@4 8675. On Tuesday long was 20 points higher at 4 8415@4 8425, short 5 points at 4 8640@4 8650; cables were unchanged. On Wednesday long rose 10 points to 4 8425@4 8430, short 10 points to 4 8650@4 8655 and cables 5 points to 4 8670@4 8680. On Thursday there was an advance of 5 points in long to 4 8425@4 8435, a fall in short of 5 points to 4 8645@4 8655, while cables were 5 points higher at 4 8675@4 8680. On Friday long rose 5 points and short and cables fell 5 points.

a The division (between gold and silver) given in our table of coin and bullion in the Bank of Germany and the Bank of Belgium is made from the best estimate we are able to obtain; in neither case is it claimed to be accurate, as those banks make no distinction in their weekly returns, merely reporting the total gold and silver; but we believe the division we make is a close approximation.

b The Austro-Hungarian Bank Statement is now issued in Kronen and Heller instead of Gulden and Kreutzer. The reduction of the former currency to sterling Pounds was by considering the Gulden to have the value of 80 cents. As the Kronen has really no greater value than 20 cents, our cable correspondent in London, in order to reduce Kronen to Pounds, has altered the basis of conversion by dividing the amount of Kronen by 24 instead of 20.

d The total of gold in the Bank of Russia includes the balance held abroad—that is, the amount held for Russian account in other Continental banks. The proportion so held, and consequently duplicated in the above statement, is about one-quarter of the total.

THE BOMB-THROWING INCIDENT.

Quite as much that is encouraging as of what is discouraging may be deduced from the bomb-throwing episode in Union Square last Saturday afternoon. It was disheartening, as it always is, that such a thing could have happened in this city, and it gave to those who read of it the sense of helplessness which the use of such a weapon at the hands of people with disordered minds must always create. But on the other hand, the manner in which the episode was commented on, not only in conservative but in radical and socialistic circles, gave an opportunity for some very welcome evidence as to the view which is taken in this country of such a recourse. That the young socialist in whose own hands the bond prematurely exploded had intended to throw it at the advancing ranks of the police, there seems to be no question. That he was acting as the agent of a body of conspirators has been shown to be wholly improbable. It was, in short, one of those acts of a single disordered mind against which no provision seems to be possible. Exactly how the community would have been affected by the incident had the bomb thrower succeeded in his purpose it is not easy to say. As it is, there is a double lesson taught by the fortunate result.

Two questions arise in connection with the incident. One is, whether the prohibition of the mass meeting of unemployed, as a result of which this man had planned to throw the bomb at the police who undertook to disperse it, was in itself wise or not; the other, whether the bomb-throwing was a sign of further underlying danger in the same direction.

The first question is not wholly easy to answer. It must be remembered that the city authorities, and the police in particular, have always had before them the incident of the Chicago bomb-throwing in 1886, where the existence of an organized anarchist conspiracy was plainly demonstrated after the deed itself. It must be remembered, too, that by its very nature the proposed meeting would have been of an inflammatory order. To gather together a great body of the dissatisfied and unemployed with the purpose of addressing them in exciting speeches, and to call on them, as the unbalanced young gentleman who organized the meeting had proposed to do, for a demand on the city and State governments for employment on public works, was a program embodying undoubted elements of danger. The police were probably too severe; yet it must be remembered that physical severity, falling short of actual brutality, has always been the only practicable means of dealing with a great body of angry men under such conditions. The more serious question is whether the apparent denial of the right of free speech would not necessarily of itself help along the spirit of agitation. It certainly goes some distance toward making martyrs of the men who proposed to address the meeting and of the men who attended it. We are inclined to think that the wiser course would have been to allow the meeting to proceed, watched and closely guarded, however, by a sufficient detail of police.

When we ask whether the bomb-throwing incident indicates an unsafe or unpleasant position of affairs as regards the disposition of the socialist element to use violence, the inference is very much more pleasing. The chief socialist organ in the Yiddish quarter, in its immediate comment on the episode, declared bluntly that "if there is an element that had nothing to gain and everything to lose by the throwing of the bomb, it is the working class and its socialistic teachers." And taking the same consideration up in a more virulent, and, perhaps, for that reason more effective, strain, it added: "One thing is certain. The throwing of the bomb was highly desirable to the capitalistic class." The meaning of this statement, coming as it does from a fairly representative quarter, is obvious enough. The people who in Russia have been carrying on deliberately a propaganda for the use of bombs and the assassination of objectionable individuals are in this country as strongly convinced, not only that the expedient is useless, but that it is injurious in the extreme to their own cause.

This is a conclusion at which the most intelligent people arrived long ago regarding the entire expedient of assassination. But the fact that it has now been proclaimed with such emphasis by the leaders of the agitator class themselves, notwithstanding that events in Russia had lent to it a sort of countenance, makes the view now taken considerably more important. The "Chronicle" has always believed that whether this sort of recourse is adopted in Russia or anywhere else, it is bound to react upon its authors. The tyranny which immediately preceded the Russian uprising of 1905 was of a character to provoke almost any retaliation, and it will be remembered that in some very respectable organs of public opinion, in England and even in this country, the assassination of Minister Plehve was discussed as a regrettable affair, to be sure, but as something which was wholly natural under the circumstances. With this judgment we have never had the slightest sympathy. Our position in any and all cases of the sort has been that the assassin necessarily constitutes himself both judge and executioner, and that when the slightest color of approval is lent to such a procedure, the safeguards of the entire social system are instantly undermined. But since neither the penalties of the law nor the opposition of an enlightened public opinion can stop the use of these terrible weapons by revengeful individuals, it is of the highest importance that the arguments appealing so directly to the self interest of the class represented should have been brought to light, as they have been in this latest incident.

SENATOR ALDRICH'S EMERGENCY CURRENCY BILL AS AMENDED.

Senator Aldrich must be said to have piloted his bill for an emergency currency through the Senate with great adroitness, as is evident from the fact that, on passage in its final form last week Friday night, it secured 42 votes in its favor, while only 16 Senators voted against it. In the long discussions in the Senate the bill appeared in peril on several occasions, but Mr. Aldrich accepted one amendment after another in open Senate in the endeavor to gain friends for it, and also made amendments himself in committee in order to avoid objections which he knew he could not overcome. The bill, hence, is a widely different measure from that originally designed. Yet its main purpose, and the principle underlying the same, remain unaltered. Its object is to provide an emergency currency in a time of panic and financial stress, such as the country passed through last October and November, and the basic principle of the bill is that such emergency notes shall rest, as does our existing banknote currency, upon bond collateral. There is nothing in the bill suggesting even remotely a credit currency—that is, a currency based on commercial assets.

Perhaps Mr. Aldrich's cleverest move was when he eliminated that portion of the original bill which would have allowed the use of railroad bonds as security for the new notes. At present, as is well known, only United States bonds can be used as a basis for banknote circulation. Mr. Aldrich had provided that for the special or emergency currency to be created by the Act either municipal bonds or railroad bonds fulfilling certain requirements and conditions might be accepted as security. But political hostility against the acceptance of railroad bonds appeared to be developing with great rapidity, and at the same time there were ominous signs that the retention of this particular provision would lead to the grafting on the bill of some features entirely foreign to its scope and purpose. For instance, Senator La Follette allowed it to become known that he intended offering as an amendment his bill providing for a physical valuation of the railroads, the plea being that such a valuation was necessary before railroad bonds could become safe collateral for the circulating notes to be issued. Mr. Aldrich averted both dangers—that is, the danger of defeat for the bill itself and the danger of its being made the basis for the enactment of the law providing for physical valuation of the roads—by striking out in committee the part of the bill referring to railroad bonds.

As now changed, only bonds or other interest-bearing State and municipal obligations, and bonds of Porto Rico and the Philippine Islands, or the City of Manila, will answer as a basis for the new notes. This is an important change, but preserves adherence to the idea that bond security of some kind is necessary in the issue of the notes. We cannot get ourselves to think that a bank-note currency conforms to sound economic principles which retains that feature. It seems to us that in any scientific system—a system allowing note issues to expand and contract automatically in response to the needs of the mercantile community—the notes must rest on mercantile assets, on goods and products in process of conversion, which process the notes are to further, returning thence to the issuer when they have performed their work. Yet, while obliged to take exception to the bill on that point, we do not wish to be understood as claiming that the emergency currency to be created under the bill may not possess a degree of utility in certain contingencies.

In the speech which Mr. Aldrich delivered in support of the measure in the Senate, he let it be plainly known that his chief purpose was to make provision for such an extraordinary situation as arose during the panic last October and November. The country was then in an utterly helpless state, as far as concerns dealing effectively with the crisis which had arisen If it had not been for the heroic work done by Mr. J. P. Morgan and the resort to very unusual expedients on the part of the United States Treasury, some of which were of doubtful validity, no one knows when and how the panic would have been stopped. But with the recurrence of another such panic in the future, the same methods of dealing with the matter may not again be available. Conditions may be different and we may not possess the same ability to command gold from abroad as we did last autumn, while public opinion will certainly not tolerate again such arbitrary assumption of Government authority as then became necessary. Mr. Aldrich's desire is to be forehanded and prepared for such an emergency. In view of recent experiences, failure to be adequately prepared, with the recurrence of a like critical and acute state of panic, would most assuredly be a lasting disgrace. Should the Aldrich Bill become a law, it would be possible to put out new notes to a maximum of $500,000,000 with great facility and dispatch. Thus, the calls of clamorous depositors could be readily and promptly met, while the reserve money held by the banks could be retained for their own use. For it must be remembered that during the late panic there was not at any time the slightest discrimination against bank notes; depositors were just as willing to take bank notes in payment of their deposits as any other form of money.

How the bill, supposing it a law, would work at other periods can only be determined by practice. It is urged against the emergency currency to be provided that it would be an expensive kind of note issue for the banks to take out. This might not be a very grave objection in a time of great need, when the whole community is panic stricken, and yet might be a serious bar at other periods, when there was call for an extra supply of currency. As the tax on the notes is to be at the rate of 6% a year, the ruling rate for money would have to be above 6% before it would be profitable to take out any of the notes. It is to be said, however, that the need of an addition to the volume of the circulating medium could hardly be regarded as very urgent unless money commanded 6% or over. At all events, unless the tax imposed were a high one, notes of the type here provided would be sure, once they were out, to stay out—at least in periods of trade activity such as existed from 1896 to 1907. With authority to issue $500,000,000 of additional notes in that way, speculation would be fanned and promoted to an inordinate degree, and there would be the same lack of elasticity, the same lack of correspondence with business needs, that there has been all along. Accordingly, when an extreme emergency was reached, like the panic of last autumn, the notes, having previously gone out and been retained in circulation, there would be none available at the very time of greatest need. The country would therefore be as helpless as it was last October. It follows that a high tax is essential—at least in the case of notes of the character of those proposed. From that standpoint, too, the amendment incorporated in the bill providing for an increase in the tax after the notes have been out long enough to meet the special needs they are to serve must be regarded as wise. Mr. Aldrich had arranged for a tax on the notes at the rate of 6% per annum. As changed, this is to be the rate for the first four months; after that the tax will be at the rate of 9% per annum—that is, ¾% per month.

Another objection urged on the score of expense has been that the banks would not be the owners of bonds to any considerable extent; that therefore they would either have to buy them or borrow them in order to avail of the provisions of the Act. To buy the bonds, it would be necessary, of course, to pay out money in the process of acquiring them, and thus a bank would be denuding itself of currency at the very time when it needed it most; moreover, it would get back less than it paid out, since notes are to be issued only to the extent of 90% of the market value of the bonds, not exceeding par. There can be no doubt that the bill is wrong in principle, and that the proper mode would be to allow the banks to use their mercantile assets as a basis for the issue of the additional notes. Assuming that, instead of purchasing the bonds, the banks should borrow them, they would be also handicapped, since they would have to pay for the loan of the bonds. This would mean an additional cost of 1@2% in addition to the tax of 6% a year.

However, one of the amendments incorporated in the bill will serve to provide a supply of bonds in the possession of the banks themselves. We have reference to the section requiring the country banks—that is, the banks outside the reserve and central reserve cities—to retain a larger portion of their reserves in their own vaults. The law now is that the country banks must keep a reserve of 15%, only two-fifths of which, or 6%, need be cash in their own vaults. By the amendment to the Aldrich Bill, four-fifths of the 15%, or 12%, must be on hand after Jan. 1 1909, and of this 12%, one-third, or 4%, may consist of the State and municipal bonds enumerated in the Act. As this 4%, if held idle in bank vaults, would be earning nothing, whereas if used in purchasing bonds of the class designated it would be earning the current rate of interest prevailing for such bonds, we may be sure that the 4% would practically always exist in the form of such bonds.

Moreover, there is a further requirement, to which we have seen no reference in any of the papers—it was inserted at the very last moment—that, after Jan. 1 1909, all national banking associations located in reserve cities shall at all times have on hand, in lawful money or in the securities enumerated in the Act, not less than two-thirds of the amount of reserves of lawful money required to be held by existing law and one-sixth of the reserves so to be kept in vaults may consist of bonds. Thus a supply of bonds will always be on hand, both with the banks at the reserve centres and those elsewhere. And as, when a bank is once the owner of the bonds, any rate of interest that it can obtain in excess of the tax it will have to pay to the Government on the new notes will be a clear gain, it is quite within the bounds that Mr. Aldrich's emergency currency might, in times of active trade, become a feature even when there was not a crisis or other extreme emergency—might, for instance, be availed of during the crop-moving season.

We should like, however, to see one further step taken. We should like to have the House of Representatives, which now has possession of the bill, follow the suggestion made by the Chicago Association of Commerce last month, and add a clause providing for the receiving as security for the new notes clearing-house certificates issued by the banks in reserve cities and based chiefly on commercial paper. We agree with the Chicago Association that the bill, so altered, might prove a wise step towards currency reform. We should not, however, favor reducing the tax to only 2%, as is urged by this mercantile body.

Another amendment inserted in the measure provides for the payment by the banks of interest on Government deposits. There is, it will be recalled, a similar provision in the Fowler Bill. But, while Mr. Fowler would have a fixed rate of 2% per annum, the Aldrich Bill as amended would leave the rate at the discretion of the Secretary of the Treasury, but not less than 1% per annum, the rate charged at all times to be equal and uniform throughout the United States.

Still another amendment deserves noting. It was proposed by Senator La Follette, and provides that "no national banking association shall invest any part of its funds or deposits in the stocks or other securities of any corporation or association any of the officers or directors of which are officers or directors of such banking associations." The purpose of this provision is laudable enough. It aims at a practice on the part of unscrupulous directors of using the funds of a bank to promote their own private schemes. Often possession of a bank is acquired with this very object in view. This being so, the idea embodied in the proposal is not to be lightly dismissed. On the contrary, if there is any legitimate and feasible way of eradicating such indefensible methods, it should have the support of every right-thinking person.

On the other hand, the question arises whether, in these times, when commercial and financial relations are so closely interwoven, a requirement of the kind suggested could really be carried out, and whether if carried out it would not do more harm than good? If the people in control of a bank are dishonest, and have ulterior designs in view, they can just as surely accomplish their purpose through dummy representation on the board of directors as by holding places themselves on the board. In this sense the provision would be ineffective. It would fail to cover the very cases it was intended to embrace or to attain the object sought. There remains the case of the honestly-managed institutions, which far outnumber the others. By these, we may be sure, the provision would be implicitly obeyed, but as business is now almost entirely carried on through corporate undertakings, and as these undertakings are managed, controlled and directed by people of leading position in the several lines of industry and business—men of experience, of judgment, of unexceptional character and of high attainments—it would follow that these men could no longer be admitted to the boards of directors of our national banking institutions. The result would be that the banks would lose the benefit of the advice and counsel of men of that class, and suffer by reason of that fact, making the law oppressive in its operation. All things considered, the provision referred to would appear to be of questionable wisdom.

THE NEW YORK CENTRAL SYSTEM OF LINES.

Figures from consolidated statements showing the results for the calendar year 1907 of the New York Central & Hudson River RR. Company and all its controlled and subsidiary lines have been given out this week, and furnish food for thought and reflection at this juncture. The combined totals may with propriety be termed the results for the New York Central System. The innovation is a recent one, the management having made public consolidated statistics in this form for the first time twelve months ago in a presentation covering the operations and accounts of the calendar year 1906. Similar compilations, it is proper to say, were also made up the two preceding years, but these were not at the time of their preparation meant for the public eye, being intended solely for the use of the officials in the conduct of the every-day affairs of the various properties.

The practice is a most useful and commendable one. Though the different companies are all separate corporations and make separate reports, and each stands on its own bottom, they all form parts of the New York Central combination of roads, and it is hence both interesting and instructive to see what the New York Central System is doing as a whole. The Pennsylvania Railroad has for years given out certain totals covering all the lines owned, operated and controlled, but these totals have been limited to showing merely the length of road embraced and the gross and net earnings and the number of passengers and the tons of freight handled, with the number moved one mile. The New York Central compilations go much further than this, including a consolidated balance sheet and giving many of the details of traffic operations, such as the train load, the earnings per train mile, &c.

The present consolidated data serve at once to direct attention to the magnitude of the business and operations and accounts of the New York Central System and to indicate the trying conditions under which railroad affairs generally in the United States have had to be carried on in recent years. Last week we reviewed the report of the New York Central Company and showed that on the Central proper—comprising the lines directly operated east of Buffalo—the gross earnings for the calendar year 1907 had approached close to the 100-million mark, the exact amount being $98,369,059. But when the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, the Michigan Central, the Nickel Plate, the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, the Big Four, the Lake Erie & Western, the Rutland, and the other allied roads, are added, we get figures of still more imposing magnitude. The aggregate of the gross earnings in that event does not fall very far short of a quarter of a thousand million dollars; not counting at all income from investments, which has also been growing very fast, gross earnings of the combined lines for the calendar year 1907 reached $241,456,945. The earnings have been brought up to this large figure within a very few years. In 1904, for instance, the Central System showed aggregate gross of only $187,274,529. Hence in the short space of three years there has been an addition to the gross earnings in the sum of $54,000,000 per annum, or say roughly 30%.

Thus the record of growth has been a most gratifying one. To handle the increase in business—passengers and freight—represented by such a gain in gross earnings obviously required very skilful management, and was a task calling for a high order of executive talent. The officials were equal to the occasion and no fault whatever can be found on that score. The Central lines got their share of the increased traffic resulting from the tremendous expansion in the country's industries and the additional business was handled with promptness and dispatch and with due economy, so as to yield the best results.

But what additional net earnings flowed from this tremendous expansion in gross revenues? In a word, how far were the large gains in gross revenues productive of additional net? It is when answer is furnished to this inquiry that the difficult and trying nature of the conditions under which railroad operations had to be carried on becomes apparent. As compared with the year immediately preceding, we find that net earnings have actually decreased over a million dollars, notwithstanding that the gross earnings were larger in amount of almost $16,000,000—this, too, in face of the fact that the outlays for new construction and new equipment included in the expenses were reduced almost two million dollars. If we carry the comparison further back, the result becomes still more impressive. The following table has been compiled with the view to bringing out the situation in that respect.

| | Miles of Road. | Gross Earnings. | Operating Expenses. | Net Earnings. |
| 1907 | 12,282 | $241,456,945 | $186,997,205 | $54,459,740 |
| 1906 | 12,159 | 225,591,500 | 169,973,871 | 55,617,629 |
| 1905 | 12,029 | 206,728,132 | 156,168,015 | 50,560,117 |
| 1904 | 11,183 | 187,274,529 | 139,691,628 | 47,582,901 |
| 1903 | 11,163 | 189,602,186 | 140,768,701 | 48,833,785 |

Note.—Operating expenses include $10,645,396 spent for new construction and new equipment in 1907; $12,595,440 in 1906; $13,705,869 in 1905; $10,521,782 in 1904; $11,068,368 in 1903.

It will be seen from the foregoing that, while gross earnings in the three years from 1904 to 1907 increased from $187,274,529 to $241,456,945, the net earnings have risen only from $47,582,901 to $54,459,740. In other words, $57,000,000 of additional gross earnings brought with it less than $7,000,000 additional net. Such figures as these show in a graphic way how operating cost has mounted up as the result of the reduction in rates, the increase in wages and in the cost of materials and supplies, and last, but not least, the additions to expenses occasioned by arbitrary and vexatious Government regulation.

These bare figures, however, do not tell the full story of the hardships imposed upon the railroads—the Central being only one instance out of many and typical of them all. It is obvious that to take care of the additional traffic represented by the great expansion recorded in the gross earnings, very large capital outlays had to be made in the shape of new stock and bond issues. The New York Central consolidated balance sheet enables one to get an idea of the extent of this additional capital, and on which of course a return had to be earned. We find that at the end of 1904 the capital stock of the combined companies was $326,894,698. But at the end of 1907 the amount stood at $418,783,600. Here in this one item, therefore, we have an increase in the three years of $91,888,902. But the funded debt has also increased, having risen in the three years from $460,480,579 to $549,176,672, giving a further increase of $88,696,093, and making the total increase in stock and funded debt no less than $180,584,995. Even this, however, does not tell the whole story. The balance sheet now shows $55,000,000 of short-term notes, which were entirely absent in previous years, and also shows $17,850,259 of loans and bills payable which did not appear three years ago. These two items add $72,850,259 more to the $180,584,995 of increase already reported, and bring the aggregate of addition in stock and debt and other obligations for the three years up to the huge sum of $253,435,254.

In the case of the Cleveland Cincinnati Chicago & St. Louis and one or two of the other companies, the Central has been obliged to take itself a good part of the stock increases made by these companies, and has had to issue its own obligations in one form or another to provide the means for so doing. To that extent the increase in outstanding capital and debt, as disclosed by the consolidated figures, is a duplication. But we are dealing with capital additions of enormous magnitude—considerably over one-quarter thousand million dollars—and the general result and the general conclusion would remain unaffected even after making an allowance of thirty or forty million dollars on that account.

The salient, the striking, fact, therefore, is that in the short space of three years, to meet the demands of a growing business, new capital outlays to the extent of over 200 million dollars had to be made. The result of this large investment was satisfactory enough, we have seen, as far as gross earnings are concerned—an addition of over 54 million dollars having occurred in the three years—but in the case of the net earnings there has been a beggarly increase in the three years of only $6,876,839 as return on an added capital investment of 200 to 250 million dollars. As showing how a considerable portion of the new money was invested, we may note that, including the so-called trust equipment (covering equipment acquired in 1907 under a trust agreement), the New York Central lines at the end of 1907 had 5,445 locomotives, as against only 4,095 at the end of 1904, an increase of one-third in three years; while there are now 4,512 cars in the passenger service, against 4,300 in 1904; 205,255 freight cars, against 154,309, and 9,369 cars in the companies' service, against 5,379. In brief, in three years 1,350 locomotives have been added, besides 55,148 cars of all kinds, the aggregate of the latter in the three years having been increased from 163,988 to 219,136.

The poor showing as to net earnings has come in face of growing economy and efficiency in operations.

For instance, in the three years the average train-load has been increased from 445 tons to 498 tons. By enlarging the train-loads, the management has succeeded in adding to the earnings of the trains, so that the trains earned $2 77 per mile run in 1907, against only $2 53 per mile run in 1904. Economy here, however, was offset by the numerous other circumstances tending to enhance operating cost. In the last analysis, therefore, it is the public—the "poor, suffering public"—that is getting the benefit of the economies effected in management and the application of enormous amounts of new capital. Aside from the additional accommodations and train and station facilities which travelers and shippers are enjoying, further evidence of the truth of this statement is furnished in the record of declining rates paid for the transportation services rendered, the Central in the calendar year 1907 having realized an average of only 6.01 mills per ton per mile, against 6.20 mills in 1904, and only 1.82 cents per passenger per mile, against 1.86 cents in 1904. This was the situation when traffic was still large and the country's industries remained in a state of activity. Now, with traffic undergoing enormous contraction, with a considerable portion of the equipment idle, the railroads are facing a period of declining dividends (the Central has already reduced its dividend), and the weaker lines are fast approaching insolvency, and some of them have already landed in the hands of receivers.

Verily, the lot of the railroad manager is a hard one. And yet, Government officials, instead of recognizing the fact and modifying their policy towards the roads accordingly, are still at work, with one hand cutting down railroad revenues and with the other adding to their outlays. During the past week one of the members of the Inter-State Commerce Commission has been active in an attempt to demonstrate that the railroads were not so badly off, after all, that they are earning (according to specious computations of his) as much per mile now as five or six years ago. But arguments are of no avail when they run counter to stubborn facts. The weekly and monthly returns of the roads furnish incontrovertible proof that revenues are falling away in an appalling fashion. To attempt to minimize these losses is merely temporizing with a serious and critical situation. The effort should be to provide relief and means of escape. The attitude of hostility towards railroad interests must be abandoned; otherwise there can be but one outcome—general disaster. The hope must be that this desideratum will be attained without the country being obliged to endure additional painful experiences.

ITEMS ABOUT BANKS, BANKERS AND TRUST CO.'S.

—The public sales of bank stocks this week aggregate 242 shares and were all made at auction. The transactions in trust company stocks reach a total of 124 shares. A lot of 10 shares of Chase National Bank stock was sold at 230, an advance of 20 points over the price paid at the last previous sale, and a sale of 10 shares of stock of the Importers' & Traders' National Bank was made at 520 as against 503¼ in January. The table below, given in our usual form, shows the actual sales of New York City bank stocks made during the week at auction and at the Stock Exchange. Extensive tables showing the bid and asked quotations, deposits, surplus, &c., of banks and trust companies in all important cities of the United States are published monthly in the "Bank and Quotation" Section, the April issue of which accompanies to-day's "Chronicle." Bid and asked quotations for all New York City bank and trust company stocks are also published weekly in another department of the paper, and will be found to-day on pages 838 and 839.

—For perhaps the first time on record, the galleries of several of the local exchanges are closed to visitors. The New York Stock Exchange closed its gallery some time since, and its example has been followed this week by the Cotton and Produce Exchanges. The action is taken as a precaution against possible disorders.

—A further advance in the price of New York Stock Exchange memberships to $65,000 has been recorded, a transfer having been reported on Saturday of last week at this figure. A sale was recently reported for $60,000 which represente d an advance of $8,000 over a transfer made some three or four weeks ago.

—A presentment against New York State Attorney-General Jackson was returned on Monday by the Grand Jury which has been investigating alleged charges that the Attorney-General sought a division of fees in the receivership of the Hamilton Bank. The presentment was read before Judge Foster in the Court of General Sessions, and is as follows:

> Testimony has been given before the Grand Jury affecting the integrity of the Attorney-General of the State and an offer has been extended to the Attorney-General to appear before the Grand Jury and give his testimony in respect thereto. The Attorney-General has appeared and testified before the Grand Jury, and there appears to be a conflict of the testimony in respect to the matters brought before us.
> The office of Attorney-General is one of such transcendent importance in the administration of the business of the State, and the confidence of the people of the State in the integrity of the Attorney-General so essential to the public welfare, that we deem it our duty to respectfully call the attention of Your Honor to it and request the Clerk of the Court to transmit this presentment and a copy of the testimony and of the proceedings to the Governor of the State of New York, the President of the Senate of the State of New York and the Speaker of the Assembly of the State of New York for action.

The Attorney-General sought to have the presentment expunged from the records of the Court on the ground that it was without warrant, and was in contravention of the statute which imposes secrecy upon the Grand Jury. The motion, however, was denied on Thursday by Judge Foster, who held that the Grand Jury had acted entirely within its province, and copies of the presentment were accordingly sent to the Governor and the Legislature.

—The Aldrich Currency Bill was passed by the Senate late in the evening of March 27 by a vote of 42 to 16. As reported in an earlier issue of our paper, the bill provides that national banks having circulating notes outstanding secured by a deposit of United States bonds to an amount of not less than 50% of their capital, and a surplus of not less than 20%, may issue additional circulating notes to be secured by the deposits of State bonds and bonds of certain described counties and municipalities. In addition the bonds of the Government of Porto Rico, the Philippine Islands and the City of Manila have also been made a basis for the security of the notes. The bill fixes the limit of circulating notes to be issued at $500,000,000. Before the taking of the final vote on the bill last Friday, March 27, Senator Bailey's substitute authorizing the Government, instead of the banks, to issue the notes, was submitted, and defeated by a vote of 42 to 13. Several important amendments to the bill were made just before its passage by the Senate. One of these was referred to last week as having been incorporated in Committee. It provides that after January 1 1909 national banks outside of reserve or central reserve cities required to maintain 15% reserve shall hold in their own vaults four-fifths of such reserve (instead of two-fifths as now), and one-third of the four-fifths so held may be in the securities named in the Act. A further amendment accepted by the Senate at the same time provides that after the above-named date (January 1 1909) all national banking associations located in reserve cities shall at all times have on hand in their own safes or vaults, in lawful money of the United States, or in the securities enumerated in the Act, not less than two-thirds of the amount of reserves of lawful money required to be held under the existing law, and that not more than one-sixth of the re serves required to be kept in vault shall be held in such securities. As is known, national banks in reserve cities are now obliged to maintain a reserve of 25%, of which 12½% may be kept on deposit with an approved depositary in a central reserve city.

The tax to be paid on the proposed notes has been changed to one-half of one per cent monthly for the first four months; thereafter the tax is to be three-quarters of one per cent monthly. A new section has been added to the bill which stipulates that "no national banking association shall invest any part of its funds or deposits in the stocks or other securities of any corporation or association any of the officers or directors of which are officers or directors of such banking associations. Any officer or director of any national banking association who knowingly violates or consents to the violation of the foregoing provision shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall upon conviction thereof in any circuit or district court of the United States be imprisoned not less than one year and not more than five years." The section with reference to deposits of money for the retirement of notes has been changed by an addendum at the end and now reads as follows:

Sec. 5. That Section 9 of the Act approved July 12 1882, as amended by the Act approved March 4 1907, be further amended to read as follows:

Sec. 9. That any national banking association desiring to withdraw its circulating notes secured by deposit of United States bonds in the manner provided in Section 4 of the Act approved June 20 187 is hereby authorized for that purpose to deposit lawful money with the Treasurer of the United States, and, with the consent of the Comptroller of the Currency and the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, to withdraw a proportionate amount of bonds held as security for its circulating notes in the order of such deposits; Provided, that not more than $9,000,000 of lawful money shall be deposited during any calendar month for this purpose; and in like manner and effect any such association desiring to withdraw any of its circulating notes secured by the deposit of bonds other than bonds of the United States may make such withdrawal at any time by the deposit of lawful money or national bank notes with the Treasurer of the United States, and upon such deposit a proportionate share of the bonds so deposited may be withdrawn; Provided, that the deposits under this section to retire notes secured by the deposit of bonds other than bonds of the United States shall nor be covered into the Treasury, as required by Section 6 of an Act entitled "An Act directing the purchase of silver bullion and the issue of Treasury notes thereon and for other purposes" approved July 14 1890, but shall be retained in the Treasury for the purpose of redeeming the notes of the bank making such deposit.

A further amendment made to the bill provides that "it shall be the duty of the Comptroller of the Currency to cause such reports of notes in circulation to be verified by examination of the bank's records, and any officer of any banking association falsely reporting the amount of its notes in circulation shall, upon conviction thereof in any circuit or district court of the United States, be punished by a fine of not less than $1,000 nor more than $5,000, or by imprisonment for not less than one year and not more than five years, or by both such fine and imprisonment." A proposed amendment to provide for the guaranty of deposits, offered by Senator Nelson, was defeated by a vote of 49 to 11. An amendment providing for the creation of a "Monetary Commission" to investigate the causes of the recent panic was proposed by Senator Overman, but on the assurance of Senator Aldrich that the matter would be taken up by the Finance Committee, and some measure presented to the Senate to cover the proposition, the amendment was not pressed.

—In the New York Senate on Thursday an amendment was made to the Assembly bill requiring trust companies to provide $100,000 capital (in addition to that of the main institution) for each branch opened and to secure the approval of the Superintendent of Banks. As amended, the bill provides that the requirement as to additional capital will have to be complied with by institutions with existing branches, but that the consent of the Superintendent need not be obtained for continuing such branches; to establish new branches both requirements must be complied with, namely, to supply $100,000 additional capital for each branch and to obtain the consent of the Superintendent.

The Assembly on Thursday passed the bill giving to the State Superintendent of Banks the same power over insolvent State institutions which the Comptroller of the Currency has over national banks.

—The New York Chamber of Commerce on Thursday adopted a report submitted by its Finance Committee dealing with the pending currency bills. The report disapproves both the Aldrich and Fowler bills, which are declared to be "distinctly at variance with principles approved by the Chamber, and so antagonistic to each other that comprehensive legislation at an early date is not probable." "These circumstances, it is added, "point unmistakably to the imperative need of further deliberations, the discussion of principles and of methods by means of which such principles may be applied to meet the country's needs." A resolution proposed by the committee and adopted by the Chamber suggests the appointment of a commission (substantially as contemplated in House Bill No. 15,849) to investigate the currency and banking systems of the United States and of other leading commercial nations, with a view to reporting such measure or measures as may be found necessary to place the country's currency and banking system on a sound basis.

A conference of national bank presidents was held in Chicago on Wednesday to protest against the passage of the Aldrich Bill in its present form. The bankers are particularly opposed, it is stated, to the provisions increasing the amount of cash reserves to be held by the banks in their vaults and the proposal prohibiting banks loaning money to concerns in which their officers or directors are interested. James B. Forgan, President of the First National Bank of Chicago, and George E. Roberts, President of the Commercial National Bank, were appointed a committee to draft a statement of the bankers' objections to the bill, and forward copies to both branches of Congress and to President Roosevelt.

—Tentative negotiations are now in progress which may result in a closer business alliance between the Farmers' Loan & Trust Co. of New York and the Franklin Trust Co. of Brooklyn, although nothing definite has been settled.

—The Manhattan Trust Co., Wall St. corner Nassau, has just issued, in conjunction with its March 25 statement, a tabular statement showing the monthly and yearly percentage of reserve carried by the company for the past fifteen years ending Jan. 1 1908, the yearly average for this long period being 31.9% of cash in bank and vault against deposits. This average yearly reserve was: 26.2% for 1893; 50.1% 1894; 46% 1895; 33.7% 1896; 30.8% 1897; 36% 1898; 33.9% 1899; 28.2% 1900; 27.9% 1901; 28% 1902; 27.4% 1903; 35.4% 1904; 26.1% 1905; 23.8% 1906, and 25.1% in 1907. This interesting fiscal record of an institution which has been a long-time member of the New York Clearing House, and has steadily maintained a heavy cash reserve against deposits, must be very gratifying to the directors and stockholders and to its customers. While continuously maintaining an unusually strong position, the Manhattan Trust Co. has during the period referred to added over $1,500,000 to surplus and has paid out in dividends over $1,100,000.

—Gen. Thomas L. James, former member of ex-President Cleveland's Cabinet, and President of the Lincoln National Bank of this city, celebrated his 77th birthday last Monday. Gen. James was the honored guest at a private dinner given by a few of his intimate friends at the Hotel Astor.

—Receiver Charles A. Hanna, of the National Bank of North America of this city, paid off on Saturday last the balance of the indebtedness of that institution to the New York Clearing House, amounting to $250,000. With the taking up of these certificates, the entire amount issued to the banks during the late financial troubles is canceled. The first of the certificates were put out on October 26.

—Notice has been issued of a proposed meeting of the stockholders of the Lincoln Trust Company of this city on April 16, to vote on the proposition to reduce the capital of the institution from $1,500,000 to $1,000,000. By vote of the stockholders on February 6 an addition of $500,000 was provided for, making the capital $1,500,000, and this was to become available about the middle of the present month. The reduction which is now contemplated is for the purpose of carrying the amount to surplus, thus making it available for the general corporate purposes of the company.

—The grand jury on Tuesday filed two indictments against Nathan Vidaver, formerly a Special Deputy Attorney-General under Attorney-General Jackson. The first indictment charges the attempted extortion of $1,500 from President Montgomery of the Hamiltan Bank for supposed protection against attacks by the Attorney-General against Mr. Montgomery and the bank. The second charge is based on the alleged acceptance by Mr. Vidaver of $500 from Mr. Montgomery on March 4.

—Charles H. Imhoff has been chosen Vice-President of the Chatham National Bank of this city. Mr. Imhoff has recently been acting as agent of the Comptroller of the Currency in connection with the liquidation of the Beaver National Bank and the New Amsterdam National Bank. He was formerly identified with the Ninth National Bank as Vice-President before the absorption of that institution by the old Citizens' National Bank, now the Citizens' Central National Bank.

—The Borough Bank of Brooklyn Borough, one of the institutions which closed last October, is shortly to resume business. In the Supreme Court at Kingston on the 28th ult. Justice Betts, after the presentation of the report of Referee Walter S. Brewster and that of State Superintendent of Banks Clark Williams, ordered the discharge of receivers Henry A. Powell and Isaac N. Cox by April 14, provided the recommendations of Superintendent Williams are complied with. These recommendations call for the subscription of $45,000 by the stockholders, the placing of a majority of the stock in a voting trust for two years and the election of a strong and conservative directorate and management. An appraisal of the assets of the bank made by the appraisers appointed by Superintendent Williams was filed last week. It is of date Nov. 27 1907 and gives the book value of the assets as $4,353,847 and the appraisers' value as $4,298,173, a net deficiency of $55,674. There was a difference between the two amounts at first of $816,031, but of this $760,357 was made good by what is termed the "restitution fund," bringing the appraisers' value up to the figure given. This fund, it is stated, is composed of items due to the operations of William Gow, the late Howard Maxwell, A. D. Campbell, John S. Jenkins, R. W. Haff and Frank W. Doolittle, who have deeded or assigned to the bank properties and securities amounting to $1,027,785, this forming a restitution fund against which their operations have been charged. In the report of Referee Brewster, the value of the restitution fund is given as $1,023,424—$263,067 in excess of the amount in the appraisers' report. The report is also said to show that a claim of the Oriental Bank for $250,000 has been waived, and, further, that the Oriental has agreed to pay to the Borough Bank the sum of $90,843, provided the last-named resumes before May 1. It is reported that nearly 90% of the depositors have assented to the deferred-payment plan of resumption. The City of New York, which is said to have had $200,000 on deposit with the institution, is stated to be one of these. Under the plan the bank will pay 10% with its reopening, 15% after four months, 20% after eight months, 25% in one year from the date of resumption and 30% after sixteen months. The bank suspended on Oct. 25.

—The quarterly dividend of 2% paid April 1 by the Franklin Trust Co. of Brooklyn is a reduction in the amount, 3½% having been paid in previous quarters. This places the stock on an 8% per annum basis as compared with 14% paid since 1906.

—The report of the assets of the Williamsburgh Trust Co. of Brooklyn Borough, as made by Appraisers A. K. Alford and Claude Hutchins, was filed by State Superintendent of banks Clark Williams on the 30th ult. It gives the book value of the assets as $8,441,351 and the appraisers' valuation as $7,935,917, a loss of $505,434. The cash assets are given as $374,569, of which $66,448 is on hand.

—Capt. James C. Shearman, Secretary and Treasurer of the Passaic Safe Deposit & Trust Co. of Passaic, N. J., died on the 30th ult., after a short illness, from apoplexy.

—W. F. Rose, heretofore Cashier of the National State Bank of Camden, N. J., has been elected Vice-President of the institution to take the place of E. Roberts. A. D. Ambruster succeeds to the cashiership.

—Watson Depuy, for some years Cashier of the First National Bank of Camden, N. J., has been elected Vice-President of that institution, to succeed the late John F. Starr Jr. H. T. Nekervis has been chosen to replace Mr. Depuy as Cashier.

—An extra dividend of 2%, in addition to the regular semi-annual distribution of 4% has been declared by the directors of the Second National Bank of Boston. Yearly dividends of 8% have been paid by the institution since 1906, previous to which a 7% dividend was maintained for seven years.

—Indictments against Edwin D. Scott, Cashier, and Roy W. Van Hoesen, bookkeeper of the People's National Bank of Franklinville, N. Y., were returned by the Federal Grand Jury at Buffalo on the 18th ult. The indictments, it is stated, charge the making of false entries in the books of the bank and false reports to the Comptroller of the Currency. The bank closed its doors on Jan. 14. Cashier Scott has since been committed to an insane asylum.

—At a meeting of the directors of the National Exchange Bank of Hartford on March 26, Elijah C. Johnson, formerly Cashier of the bank, was elected President, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John R. Redfield. Henry M. Sperry, formerly Assistant Cashier, was elected Cashier.

—At a meeting of the directors of the Philadelphia National Bank of Philadelphia, held on the 1st inst., David S. Ludlum was appointed Assistant Cashier in charge of credits.

—Joseph Channon, Vice-President and Cashier of the Northwestern National Bank of Philadelphia, who had been sojourning on the Pacific Coast on account of his health, died on the 29th ult. at San Francisco, from an overdose of a drug, accidently administered. Mr. Channon had been identified with the bank since its formation.

—Charges of defalcation for large amounts were made last week against two employees of the Farmers' Deposit National Bank of Pittsburgh, namely Henry Reiber, paying teller, and John Young, Auditor. The accused were arrested on the 23d ult. charged with embezzling and misapplying $85,000 of the bank's funds. Later in the week new charges were entered, alleging the embezzlement of $1,105,000 and the making and causing to be made of false entries. Two statements regarding the alleged peculations were issued on Saturday last, the 28th ult., one by President T. Hart Given and the other by National Bank Examiner William L. Folds, by whom the charges were preferred. The following is a copy of President Given's statement:

At a special meeting of the board of directors held at the banking house, corner of Fifth Avenue and Wood Street, at 10.30 a. m., it was resolved that the actual amount of the defalcation of the paying teller and the Auditor having been definitely ascertained to be $1,105,000, this amount was ordered to be charged off at once out of the surplus and other undivided profits of $2,863,000, leaving the capital $6,000,000 and the surplus and other undivided profits $1,758,000.

T. HART GIVEN, President.

The statement by Mr. Folds is as follows:

The total amount of defalcation from the Farmers' Deposit Nationa' Bank is $1,105,000. It is no more and no less. The capital and surplus of $8,863,000 of this bank are sufficient to enable it to sustain this loss without affecting it. The defalcation is no reflection upon the methods employed in the conduct of the bank. There are no better methods used in any bank in the country. When the Auditor, who is supposed to safeguard the bank, joins the men in charge of the money, a situation is presented which defies the best methods and the most alert officials.

The bank examiner's investigation is said to have disclosed the fact that the money was lost in stock speculation. Both men are held under $250,000 bail. Harry Silverman, the Pittsburgh representative of a New York brokerage house, was also arrested on the 25th ult., on charges alleging conspiracy, and released on $15,000 bail.

—N. W. Harris of N. W. Harris & Co., and President of the Harris Trust & Savings Bank, Chicago, has indulged in a most novel benefaction, in the offering of $5 a week for the period of 4 years to any and every boy born in Becket, Mass. (his native town), to be devoted solely to the education of these lads, whether in high school or college; and conditioned on their maintaining a rank of 80% in scholarship. Becket has a population of about 1,100, and it is said there are now about fifty boys ready and eager to avail themselves of this opportunity. A town-meeting of Becket last week unanimously accepted the offer of Mr. Harris and passed resolutions of thanks for his generosity. Mr. Harris is at present traveling with his family in the Orient.

—May 1st, approximately, there will be a number of removals among the banks, bond houses and brokerage offices in Chicago. The approaching completion of the magnificent new "skyscraper" belonging to the Corn Exchange National Bank, on the northwest corner of La Salle and Adams streets, affords an excellent opportunity for many financial houses to better their business locations. The Corn Exchange Bank itself will not take possession of its new quarters before June; but other office floors of th building will be ready for occupancy by tenants May 1. Among prominent Chicago bond houses, Eversz & Co. wil remove to the most desirable office suite in the building, viz.: the corner of Adams and La Salle, on the floor just above the bank. On the same floor Kenneth Cowan & Co., from the First National Bank Building, and Donald A. Campbell & Co., from the Stock Exchange building, have leased offices. On the ground floor the brokerage houses of Hulbert, Warren & Chandler, Von Frantzius & Co., and King, Coleman & Co. will have fine offices. The immediate cause of so many stock-brokerage houses removing to this locality is the removal of the Chicago Stock Exchange from the corner of La Salle and Washington streets (which occurs within the next fortnight) to the bank-floor of the "Rookery" building. Jas. J. Townsend & Co. will, about the same time, remove from the Stock Exchange Building to the spacious offices on the ground floor of the Counselman Building (La Salle and Jackson Boulevard), formerly occupied by Shearson, Hammill & Co.; and Wm. A. Read & Co., the prominent bond dealers, will occupy the corner second-floor suite of the same building—one of the most eligible office locations in Chicago. W. M. L. Fiske is manager of Read & Company's Chicago office. The large quarters vacated by the Chicago Stock Exchange will be at once refitted and occupied by the Foreman Brothers Banking Company, a successful private bank with $500,000 capital; $500,000 surplus; $141,000 undivided profits, and nearly $6,000,000 deposits—according to the statement of February 15.

—The reopening of the National Bank of Commerce of Kansas City, Mo., on Monday under the presidency of former Comptroller of the Currency Edward B. Ridgely, was most auspicious. Flowers sent by the many friends and well-wishers of the institution, were everywhere visible—in the banking room, the directors' room and on the desks of the various officials. During the first hour, we understand, $500,000 was deposited. The bank starts with $2,000,000 capital (the amount having been increased from $1,000,000, and the new shares disposed of at $110 per share) and a surplus of $200,000. Altogether, to comply with the conditions imposed by the Comptroller, $2,870,000 of new money was furnished in the manner described in our issue of March 14, in order to effect the reorganization. Mr. Ridgely was formally elected President of the bank on March 27, at which time George T. Cutts, who had conducted the receivership, was elected Vice-President, and Edward Ridgely was chosen Cashier. The directors are William B. Ridgely, Edward Ridgely, George T. Cutts, W. S. Woods, J. Z. Miller, Hughes Bryant, J. G. Peppard, R. A. Long, David R. Francis, W. A. Pickering, Theodore Hemmelman, J. C. James, D. J. Dean, H. F. Hall, Hugh C. Ward, W. S. Dickey, J. J. The institution was organized in 1899 with $35,000 capital; in June 1903 its capital was increased to $50,000, and in November 1905 there was another addition, making the amount $100,000. —A meeting of the stockholders of the Humboldt Savings Bank of San Francisco is to be held on May 21 to vote on the proposition to increase the capital from $300,000 to $600,000. The par value of the stock was recently changed from $1,000 to $100 per share. The new issue is to be offered to the present shareholders at par.

—The stockholders of the First Federal Trust Co. of San Francisco are to meet on May 6 to authorize the creation of a bonded indebtedness of $1,000,000, to be secured, it is stated, on the property of the institution at Post and Montgomery streets. The bonds will be in denomination of $1,000 each, will run for 35 years and will bear 5% interest. A sinking fund at the rate of 2% per annum will begin in 1918, and is expected to retire $500,000 of the bonds at their maturity. The company commenced business on Jan. 6 It has a capital of $1,500,000 in $50 shares.

—Plans for the rehabilitation of the Market Street Bank of San Francisco, which suspended on Feb. 21, are under consideration. The proposition, it is said, involves the taking over of the assets of the bank by a company to be formed under the name of the Market Street Securities Co., which is to issue $1,000,000 5% bonds, to be secured by the assets of the bank. The bonds, it is proposed, are to be allotted to the depositors in proportion to their deposits, and are to be paid as soon as the assets are realized on. At the time of its suspension the bank reported a paid-in capital of $109,305; its authorized capital was increased in 1905 from $50,000 to $500,000. A report of its condition made by the Bank Commissioners on the day it closed gave deposits as $1,042,815 and total liabilities as $1,256,533. C. G. Fowler is in charge of the institution.

—The annual report of the Canadian Bank of Commerce (head office Toronto) in pamphlet form has been issued. In addition to showing the balance sheet for Nov. 30 1907 (referred to in these columns Dec. 21), the minutes of the annual meeting held on Jan. 14 are also incorporated. Two maps are submitted to show the location of some of the numerous branches of the bank.

—In its annual report for the year 1907, the Deutsche Bank of Berlin reports the number of current accounts at the head office, including those opened at the deposit department in Berlin and suburbs, as 158,657, as compared with 120,442 at the end of the previous year. The total number of accounts carried at the bank amounted at the end of the year to 212,214, as against 164,494 in 1906. In presenting the report, reference is made to the industrial conditions in Germany during the past year, and the fact is noted that that country's foreign trade again established a record, the imports (exclusive of gold) showing an increase of $137,850,000 and the exports an increase of $121,670,000. For the first time in many years the amount of gold exported was in excess of that imported, due, of course, to the unusual demand from the United States, the excess, according to the Imperial statistics, amounting to $4,047,600. It should be pointed out, however, the report continues, that, in spite of the growth of imports, the balance of trade of Germany during the last decade has, on the whole, been a decidedly favorable one, and that in all the years from 1897 to 1906 Germany received more gold from abroad than it sent out, the average for the ten years amounting to approximately $39,500,000

Monetary and Commercial English News

(From our own correspondent.)

London, Saturday, March 21, 1908.

The directors of the Bank of England on Thursday put down their rate of discount from 4% to 3%, but the reduction had very slight influence upon the Stock Exchange. Chiefly this is due to the fact that the Government, for some unexplained reason, is unusually delaying its payments out of the Treasury to large contractors. On Wednesday night, when the Bank return was made up, the Government deposits exceeded 19½ millions sterling, which was more than three millions in excess of the amount held at the corresponding date last year and is between two and three times as great as those deposits usually are throughout the year. There are only eight working days of the financial year yet to run and therefore the disbursements out of the Exchequer during those eight days must be on an immense scale. But for the time being the outside market is exceedingly ill-supplied. So scarce, indeed, is money that on Thursday, just at the time when the directors of the Bank of England were lowering their rate of discount, men who were in the habit of borrowing £100,000 or £150,000 in a lump sum were running about the market picking up £3,000, or £4,000 or £5,000 when and where they could. It is quite true that the Bank of England up to Wednesday night was lending freely at 4% and since midday on Thursday has been lending at 3%. But the outside market is indisposed to pay these very moderate rates when the rates quoted outside are decidedly lower.

The absence of business on the Stock Exchange is also due in no small degree to the falling off in the railway traffic returns shown week after week. There is no question at all that trade is shrinking in every direction and investors are not disposed to buy much just when the business of the railways is declining so decidedly. Over and above this, the engineers have refused to accept the terms suggested for the settlement of the apprehended strike. It is feared, therefore, that the strike may take place after all, although the best opinion is that an arrangement will be arrived at. Lastly, there is a great absence of Continental buying in this market. Apparently, for the time being the French banks are withdrawing balances from London, to be employed most probably in Berlin, where money is very scarce and dear. Although on the Paris Bourse there is a fair investment in foreign stocks, more particularly in Russian bonds, French people in general are not disposed to buy freely.

There is a better prospect now of a restoration of some kind of order in Morocco and therefore of a great lessening of the difficulties of France in that country. But until the situation there decidedly improves, it is not likely that there will be much activity on the Paris Bourse.

In Germany the Bank rate continues at 5½% and is likely to remain so for a long time. Very little is doing on the Bourse, although there is a fair investment in Government securities where they yield at least 4½%. In London there has been a large number of new issues during the past ten days. The issues have not been very freely subscribed. The public, in fact, can so easily buy good securities that yield a high return for its money that it is not inclined to take new issues that give only 4%. Of course there are exceptions—where the borrower is an important Government or is in possession of exceptionally great resources. But, speaking roughly, new issues offering to the subscriber only about 4% are not proving attractive.

Money, as already said, is very scarce in the open market. But it can remain so now only a very short time. At the latest the open market will be in possession of an immense amount of funds by the 5th or 6th of April. After that there is every reason to look for a long period of cheap money. No doubt the Easter holidays will take away many people from the city and with them a considerable amount of money. No doubt, also, the usual spring demands will take both coin and notes into the interior. But these movements will be only temporary. The money that goes out will come back soon and there is no prospect at the present time of a foreign demand for gold. On the contrary, the Bank of England up to the present is obtaining a very considerable proportion of all the gold offering in the open market, and according to all appearances will continue to secure a large proportion.

The India Council offered for tender on Wednesday 20 lacs and the applications amounted to less than 6¾ lacs, at from 1s. 3 7/8d. to 1s. 3 29-32d per rupee. Applicants for bills at 1s. 3 29-32d. per rupee were allotted in full.

Messrs. Pixley & Abell write as follows under date of March 19.

GOLD.—The arrivals this week were about £600,000, the Bank receiving about half and the balance after satisfying India and the trade, was taken for the Continent. Since our last the Bank has received £500,000, of which £349,000 is in bars and £130,000 sovereigns from Egypt. £176,000 has been withdrawn, mostly for the Argentine. Next week we expect £460,000 from South Africa. The Bank rate, which was lowered to 3½% on March 5, was further reduced to-day to 3%. Arrivals—Cape, £520,000; Bombay, £68,000; West Africa, £15,000; Australia, £11,000; total, £614,000. Shipments—Bombay, £74,844; Madras, £7,000; total, £81,844.

SILVER.—The market has again moved within a very small compass, and, after touching 25½d. and 25¾d., closes 1-16d. higher on the week at 25⅝d. Indian Bazaars have bought moderately for immediate shipment, and the spot market is still strongly held in Bombay at a premium of 1½ rupees over forward. Business generally has been quiet. America is a readier seller, and it is believed that the U. S. Government has purchased all the silver it requires for the present. The price in India is Rs. 66 per 100 Tolahs. Arrivals New York, £117,000. Shipments—Bombay, £179,000; Hong Kong, £5,000; Madras, £5,000; Freemantle (coin), £4,600; total, £193,600.

MEXICAN DOLLARS.—There is nothing to report in these coin.

Wall Street, Friday Night, April 3 1908.

The Money Market and Financial Situation.—Erie's financial affairs have attracted a good deal of attention in Wall Street throughout the week and were one of the causes of a decidedly irregular movement of Stock Exchange prices. The tendency of the latter, which had been steadily downward for several days, was checked on Wednesday on reports of what was then regarded as a more favorable outlook for the Erie plans.

Another matter which is looked upon with some favor is the evidence in traffic reports which have come to hand this week of the success that has attended the efforts of railway managers to reduce expenses.

On the other hand, a reduction of dividend rates by the Atchison Railway and by the International Paper Company had a depressing effect, as did the unsettled state of labor in the bituminous coal regions—and the result of the various influences which have affected security values is a level of prices substantially lower than that of last week.

The announcement of a loan by the German Government is the important event of the week abroad. Otherwise the situation there as well as here has not materially changed.

The open market rates for call loans on the Stock Exchange during the week on stock and bond collaterals have ranged from 1% to 2%. To-day's rates on call were 1½@2%. Commercial paper quoted at 5¼@5½% for choice 60 to 90-day endorsements and 5½@6% for prime 4 to 6 months' best single names.

The Bank of England weekly statement on Thursday showed a decrease in bullion of £1,040,540, and the per cent of reserve to liabilities was 49.50, against 48.64 last week.

The rate of discount remains unchanged at 3%, as fixed March 19. The Bank of France shows an increase of 1,725,000 francs gold and a decrease of 6,150,000 francs silver.

Note.—The Clearing House now issues a statement weekly showing the totals of the actual figures on Saturday morning. These figures, together with the return of separate banks, also the summary issued by the State Banking Department showing the condition of State banks and trust companies not reporting to the Clearing House, appear on the preceding page.

Foreign Exchange.—The market was active and higher early in the week, influenced by a demand, chiefly for long, which was due to a fall in open market discounts at London; short was also in request for remittance, but the offerings were limited. After the inquiry for the mid-week mail and to cover short contracts was satisfied, tone was steady.

To-day's (Friday's) nominal rates for sterling exchange were 4 84½@4 85 for sixty-day and 4 87½ for sight. State and Railroad Bonds.—Sales of State bonds at the Board $25,000 Virginia 6s def. trust receipts at 26½ to 27

The transactions in railway and industrial bonds have fallen off to about one-half the recent amount, and in the limited volume of business now being recorded there are few exceptional features.

United States Steel 5s have been the active issues and relatively strong. Interboro-Metropolitan 4½s were active earlier in the week and have lost just the amount of the coupon. Brooklyn Rapid Transit 4s are a point lower on limited transactions.

United States Bonds.—Sales of Government bonds at the Board are limited to $14,000 2s, reg., at 103¾. The following are the daily closing quotations; for yearly range see third page following.

Railroad and Miscellaneous Stocks.—The stock market has been less active than for several weeks past and the higher quotations referred to last week were not maintained.

For reasons noted above, prices declined rather sharply on Saturday, Monday and Tuesday, the active list suffering a loss averaging nearly 4 points. A general reaction from this movement on Wednesday resulted in a recovery of about half the decline mentioned, but the market was weak to-day and in many cases closing quotations are at or near the lowest.

The Erie issues were naturally more prominent than usual, but were not forced upon the market unduly. The 1st preferred declined 5½ points, the 2d preferred nearly 8 points, the common only a little more than 3, and all have partially recovered. Reading has been by far the most active stock, has covered a range of almost 5 points and closes near the lowest. Union Pacific declined over 5 points and recovered less than 1. Missouri Pacific has been relatively strong throughout the week.

The copper stocks lost practically all the advance recorded last week and all the active "industrials" are lower except Colorado Fuel & Iron and Consolidated Gas, each of which has been strong for a special reason. The United States Steel issues are nearly 2 points lower than last week.

Outside Market.—Curb trading this week, after the excitement attending the introduction of Yukon Gold had subsided, was much less active and irregular. A general weakening of prices ensued and in some instances considerable losses were sustained. Enormous amounts of Yukon Gold changed hands at the opening on Saturday last, amid frenzied trading, between 5½ and 7½. On subsequent days, however, the stock on lessening activity sank to 4⅞. It closed to-day at 5. United Copper common was unusually active and gained over a point to 6¼. Transactions to-day were a feature at an advance of 1¾ points to 8, though later it reacted to 6½. Boston Consolidated Copper moved down 2 points to 12 and up finally to 12½. British Columbia Copper declined from 5¼ to 4½ and recovered to 4¾. Butte Coalition from 22½ advanced to 23, but fell off to 20½. Cumberland-Ely ran down from 9⅜ to 8¼ and closed to-day at 8½. Davis-Daly Estates sold up from 3½ to 3⅞. Greene Cananea went down from 9½ to 8¾. Nevada Consolidated Copper dropped from 13⅜ to 11⅛, with the final figure to-day 11⅜. Nevada-Utah was traded in down from 4½ to 3 15-16 and up to 4. Nipissing weakened from 7 to 6½. Trading in the specialties was limited to few issues, of which Guggenheim Exploration was conspicuous for a break of about 35 points to 150, a recovery of 3 points to 153 being recorded to-day. Standard Oil went down from 555 to 526, recovered to 535, but suffered a loss to-day to 530. Chicago Subway sank from 18¾ to 16½ and to-day rose to 17¾. Consolidated Steamship 4s, after a fractional advance to 13¼, sold down to 11. Nevada Consolidated Copper 6s fell from 132 to 116 and recovered to 119.

RAILROAD GROSS EARNINGS.

The following table shows the gross earnings of every STEAM railroad from which regular weekly or monthly returns can be obtained. The first two columns of figures give the gross earnings for the latest week or month, and the last two columns the earnings for the period from July 1 to and including such latest week or month. We add a supplementary statement to show the fiscal year totals of those roads whose fiscal year does not begin with July, but covers some other period. The returns of the street railways are brought together separately on a subsequent page.

Street Railway Net Earnings.—In the following we show both the gross and the net earnings to latest dates of all STREET railways from which we have been able to procure monthly returns. As in the case of the steam roads, the returns of the different roads are published by us each week as soon as received, and once a month we bring together all the roads reporting, as is done to-day.

Chicago Indiana & Southern Railroad.

President W. H. Newman says in substance:

Bonds.—Fifty-year 4% gold bonds have been authorized to the amount of $20,000,000 (V. 85, p. 1401). Of these there are outstanding $10,000,000 and there are issued and in the treasury $4,540,000, leaving a balance unissued of $5,460,000; of these last, $4,850,000 are reserved to retire the same amount of outstanding first mortgage bonds of the Indiana Illinois & Iowa RR. Co., reducing the balance available for general purposes to $610,000.

Equipment Trust.—To obtain the locomotives and cars necessary for immediate requirements, the company has become a party to an equipment trust agreement and lease dated Nov. 1 1907, known as "New York Central Lines Equipment Trust of 1907." The cost of the equipment to be leased under the terms of the agreement by this company will approximate $4,200,000. Of the equipment certificates issued on account of rolling stock delivered prior to Dec. 31 1907, this company has purchased $548,000. Delivery of the remainder of the equipment will be made during 1908. (Compare N. Y. Central & Hudson River RR. in V. 86, p. 168; also V. 86, p. 798.)

Contracts.—An agreement was entered into between this company and the Pullman Company providing for Pullman car service for 25 years from Jan. 1 1905; also an agreement with the Western Union Telegraph Co. providing for telegraph service for 30 years from Jan. 1 1906. These contracts supersede all prior agreements with these companies, and are more favorable in their terms.

General Results.—The gross earnings for the year increased $671,751, as compared with last year. Freight earnings increased $599,470, due principally to the large increase of bituminous coal handled over the Danville Division. Passenger earnings increased only $32,000, owing to the reduction in passenger rates on intra-State business. The earnings from express increased $13,478. Miscellaneous earnings decreased $19,508 and rent earnings increased $44,791, due to rental received account Dune Park branch and Gibson yards.

Maintenance of way and structures increased $94,957, mainly on the Kankakee Division, due to relaying tracks with heavier rails, additional ballasting and strengthening and renewing of bridges. Maintenance of equipment increased $155,681, $45,231 of this being due to replacement of destroyed freight cars. Conducting transportation decreased $150,287. "Other income" increased $55,929, due to profit on fittings purchased for new equipment.

Fixed Charges.—The first charges show an increase of $671,482, due to increase in interest on gold bonds and loans, heretofore the interest having been charged to cost of road and equipment. There are also slight increases in taxes and rental of terminals.

New Equipment.—During the year $212,387 was expended for new equipment and charged to "cost of road and equipment," viz.: Locomotives, $43,598; freight cars, $138,617; other cars, all classes, $30,172.

New Construction and Improvements.—There was expended $1,313,328 for new construction and improvements to the property, and charged to "cost of road and equipment," viz.: New yards, shops, general office and other facilities at Gibson, $778,695; land for right of way between Gibson and Ivanhoe, $82,346; various industrial and passing sidings, other new construction, &c., $359,112; improvements on Kankakee Division, $93,175.

Pittsburgh Cincinnati Chicago & St. Louis Railway.

President James McCrea, Pittsburgh, Pa., March 25 1908, says in part:

New Stock.—There was an increase of $3,858,900 in the common capital stock, $3,853,800 having been issued in the acquisition of the franchises and corporate property of the Chartiers Railway, and the balance of $5,100 in the conversion of scrip and underlying stocks.

Bonds.—The funded debt increased $6,038,000, due to the issue of consol. mortgage 4% bonds, series "G," due 1957, $6,000,000, and the assumption of first mortgage 3½% bonds Chartiers Ry. Co., due Oct. 1931, $625,000; less $580,000 consol. mortgage 3½% bonds, series "E," redeemed through sinking fund, and $7,000 7% bonds Jeff. Mad. & Indianapolis RR. Co. matured and canceled.

In order to provide for the second mortgage bonds of the Jeff. Mad. & Ind. RR. maturing in the near future, and to repay advances made by the Pennsylvania Company for construction expenditures, purchase of real estate and new equipment, as mentioned in the report for 1906, the creation of $10,000,000 of consol. mortgage bonds was authorized, to be known as series "G," to be dated Nov. 1 1907, to run for 50 years, and bear a rate of interest not exceeding 4%. Of these bonds, $6,000,000 have been sold to the Pennsylvania Company.

Earnings.—The gross earnings increased $2,735,106, or 9.24%. The operating expenses, including taxes, increased $2,545,572, or 11.49%, due to increased business handled, to the increased rates of pay prevailing throughout the year, and to higher cost of materials and supplies used in all departments; also to an increase of 6.44% in taxes.

The earnings from freight traffic increased $2,125,147, or 9.72%; the ton mileage increased 12.11%. The items showing the largest increase were grain, coal, coke, stone, sand, lumber and pig and bloom iron. The average earnings per ton mile were 6.1 mills, a decrease of 2-10 of a mill, and the average cost was 4.7 mills, the same as in the preceding year, resulting in net earnings per ton mile of 1.4 mills, a decrease of 2-10 of a mill as compared with the year 1906.

The earnings from passenger traffic increased $337,143, or 5.81%, the number of passengers carried increased 511,793, or 6.05%, and the passenger mileage 37,777,095, or 13.55%. The average earnings per passenger per mile were 1.89 cents, while the cost was 1.99 cents, resulting in a loss of 1-10 of a cent per passenger per mile.

Improvements and Additions.—The charges to capital account for construction, equipment, &c., were as follows: Second, third and fourth tracks, $657,192; freight tracks, passing sidings and coal storage tracks, $178,218; bridges, &c., $85,147; track elevation, Chicago, Ill., $47,625; total, $968,182; less amount from sale of interest in certain main tracks at Chicago (being a half interest in the four main tracks from Northwestern Ave. to Union Depot tracks at Canal St., sold to Chicago Milwaukee & St. Paul Ry. Co.—Ed.), $477,055; balance, $491,126; car trust and other equipment, $610,894; total, $1,102,020.

"Construction, right of way and real estate" was also charged with the cost to this company of acquiring the Chartiers Railway, $4,496,540, making the total charge to the first-named account $4,987,666.

General Results.—After providing for all charges and liabilities, the net earnings were sufficient to provide for the payment of dividends of 5% on the preferred stock and 4% on the common stock, to supply nearly $600,000 for one-half the principal of maturing car trusts, nearly $900,000 for extraordinary expenditures not properly chargeable to capital account, and leave a balance of $437,746, which was transferred to the credit of the profit and loss account.

All the roads operated directly by your company show increases in gross earnings, and also in net earnings, with the exception of the Chicago Indiana & Eastern Ry., whose property was in poor physical condition when acquired, and large expenditures thereon thus made necessary. The Chicago Indiana & Eastern Ry., extending from Converse to Muncie, Ind., about 43 miles, was acquired on May 1 1907 by the Pennsylvania Company, through the purchase of its stock and bonds, and has since that date been operated by your company for the owner, who is responsible to your company for any deficit in the operations.

Owing to the changed conditions brought about by the financial panic which occurred in November last, there has been a very large falling off since that date in the traffic and revenues of your system. This has resulted in the enforced idleness of a heavy percentage of your equipment and a material reduction in your operating forces.

Little Miami RR. Securities.—In accordance with the agreement effective Jan. 1 1907, further modifying the lease of Feb. 23 1870, all the outstanding 3½% betterment bonds of the Little Miami RR. Co. dated Feb. 1 1901, amounting to $2,422,000, which had been heretofore issued in payment for betterment expenditures made upon that property and nearly one-half of which were held in your treasury, were exchanged for an equal amount of its special guaranteed betterment stock bearing dividends at the rate of 4% per annum, and the entire issue of the betterment bonds was canceled and the mortgage satisfied of record. Additional special guaranteed betterment stock to the amount of $775,950 was also received from the Little Miami RR. Co. on account of the balance due this company for betterment expenditures made upon the property of that company to Dec. 31 1906.

Telegraph Lease.—On Sept. 23 1907 a new contract was entered into with the Western Union Telegraph Co. providing for the operation of the telegraph system on your company's lines for a period of 20 years from Oct. 1 1907.

(The) Washington Water Power Company, Spokane, Wash.

The report signed by President Henry M. Richards and Vice-President and General Manager David L. Huntington under date of Spokane, Dec. 31 says in substance:

Improvements and Additions.—During the year the company's expenditures for betterments aggregated $148,000, including cost of completing new office building ($68,193), paid on account of purchase and development of additional water power ($55,123), &c. The extensions to electric light and power system amounted to $1,577,410, notably, station buildings and station apparatus, $219,317; extension of distributing system, $301,665; underground distributing system, $221,964; steam relay station, Spokane, $458,859; Coeur d'Alene Transmission line No. 2, $248,442; other transmission lines, &c., $127,162. The extensions to electric railway system cost $624,529, including additions to car barn, $84,162; new cars and equipment, $167,357; suburban line to Cheney, $250,233, &c., &c.

Electric Railway System.—We have completed the 9-mile branch line to Cheney and have operated it since December, with satisfactory results. The principal work on our street railways has been renewals of special track work and replacing light rails with 60 and 70-lb. steel rails, and a moderate amount of paving. Seventeen additional passenger cars and 11 freight, flat, sand and sprinkling cars have been added to our equipment. The addition to our car barn is completed. The automatic sprinkling system will be completed early in the year and will considerably reduce insurance premiums. There has been a substantial increase in the number of passengers carried, and we expect a continuance of increase through the coming year.

Electric Light and Power System.—The Palouse transmission line has been completed, and the business done over it fully equals our estimates. We have added one more unit of 2,250 kilowatts (i. e., 3,000 horse-power) to our Post Falls plant, making the capacity of that plant 9,000 kilowatts (i. e., 12,000 horse-power). Another unit of the same capacity will be installed during 1908. Two additional motor-generator sets of 1,000 kilowatts capacity were installed at our Spokane station. The duplicate line to the Coeur d'Alenes from Post Falls through the Fourth of July Canyon is completed to Cataldo, Idaho, 38 miles, connecting there with the existing line, leaving 21.7 miles to be completed to Wallace. The distance by this route from Post Falls is 35 miles shorter than from Spokane to the Coeur d'Alenes by the old line, and it has twice the capacity of the old line. Our steam relay station at Spokane is nearly completed as to the first unit of 3,000 kilowatts capacity, and was of temporary service during the low-water period. This plant is installed to insure the continuous delivery of the maximum capacity of our hydraulic development. The company owns water power on the Spokane River aggregating 248 feet of head, of which only 120 feet have been developed. Approximately 27 miles of service lines have been added to our distributing system in Spokane during the year.

Work will shortly begin on the construction of a transmission line 90 miles in length to the Big Bend country, southwest and west of Spokane. A number of local flour mills in that district now using steam power have agreed to change to electric power, and contracts of requisite amount have already been signed. Among the new towns in that district that will take the company's service for general lighting and power purposes are Reardan, Davenport, Sprague, Harrington, Ritzville, Paha, &c. When this line is completed, our transmission lines will reach points about 100 miles distant from Spokane to the east, south and west. Underground ducts have been laid to the extent of 57 duct miles, in which have been drawn 14 miles of lead-covered cables, all within the fire district. The total ducts now installed measure 84 duct miles, in which are drawn 24 miles of cable.

Financial.—The increase shown this year in the gross and net earnings of 29% and 36% respectively indicates the rapid growth of the business in all departments.

At the annual meeting in March 1907 an increase in the capital stock from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000 was authorized. An issue of 20% of new stock was sold to our stockholders, pro rata, at par. During the year we also sold $1,077,000 of our 5% coupon notes due July 1 1908, and negotiated temporary loans of $200,000.

During the past eight years (1900 to 1907 inclusive) we have charged off for depreciation $785,061, and in addition have spent from earnings $576,240 for betterments, extensions and additons to the company's property, making a total of $1,361,301 spent on the property out of current receipts. We estimate that the requirements of the company in 1908 for unfinished construction, and such extensions and improvements as are absolutely necessary, will amount to more than $1,000,000 above the surplus earnings applicable thereto after paying dividends, &c. It is proposed to issue $3,000,000 of 6% coupon notes, payable in three years from July 1 1908, using the proceeds to retire the $2,000,000 of notes due July 1 1908, and the balance for extensions and betterments. (See offering and official statement in V. 86, p. 669.)

We anticipate that 1908 will show a considerable increase over 1907 in both gross and net earnings, and will justify the large expenditures for betterments ($2,304,468), made during the past year.

American Malt Corporation.

(Report for Six Months ended Feb. 29 1908.)

President Charles A. Stadler, New York, March 20 1908, writes in substance:

Stock of American Malt Co. Owned, &c.—The amounts of capital stock of the American Malting Co. (1) issued (2) deposited under the plan of readjustment of capitalization and owned by your company and (3) held by the public is as follows:

| | Issued. | Owned. | Not Owned. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Common stock | $13,400,000 | $12,455,400 | $944,600 |
| Preferred stock | 14,440,000 | 13,805,500 | 634,500 |

(The balance of the outstanding $14,500,000 common stock of the American Malting Co. ,viz., $1,100,000, is held in the treasury of that company.)

Stock of American Malt Corporation.—In accordance with the plan of readjustment (V. 81, p. 266, 1043), the following disposition has been made of the capital stock of the corporation, namely:

| | Common. | Preferred. |
|---|---|---|
| Issued in exchange for stock of the American Malting Co., deposited under the plan | $5,480,376 | $8,559,410 |
| Reserved for outstanding stock of Malting Co. as yet undeposited | 415,624 | 393,390 |
| Left free in Treasury for general purposes of the Corporation | 104,000 | 47,200 |
| Total authorized capital stock of American Malt Corporation | $6,000,000 | $9,000,000 |

Status and Outlook.—The Corporation, therefore, is in the position of owning and holding virtually all of the preferred and common stock of the American Malting Co., thereby being in practical control of said company, naming at each annual election the board of directors.

The current expenses of the corporation consist only of incidental expenses of maintaining organization, such as the annual franchise tax to the State of New Jersey, cost of transfer and registry of stock to meet requirements of New York Stock Exchange, etc. The officers and directors serve without salary or fees.

The American Malting Co., whose fiscal year ends on Aug. 31, has furnished your directors with a brief statement summarizing the conditions affecting the business this year, together with a balance sheet as of Feb. 29 1908, which are herewith submitted. It will be seen by this statement that the outlook for the current year ending Aug. 31 1908 is very encouraging. (Compare statement to New York Stock Exchange in V. 84, p. 156.)

Annual Meeting.—As the annual meeting of the American Malting Co. is held in November in each year and the fiscal year of said company ends on Aug. 31 in each year, your directors at a recent meeting amended the by-laws so that the annual meeting of your company will be held on the same day as that of the American Malting Co. namely, on the second Thursday of November in each year.

Wilberforce Sully, Chairman of American Malting Co., under date of New York, March 20 1908, says:

General Results.—The unfavorable weather conditions during the spring and summer of 1907 resulted in a barley crop estimated by the Government at 153,317,000 bushels as against an estimate by the Government of 178,916,484 bushels as the production of 1906. Furthermore, an unusually large percentage of the 1907 crop is unfit for malting, leaving that portion graded as desirable malting barley relatively small. The quality of the barley was adversely affected by the cold and wet weather of the early spring and summer. These conditions resulted in high prices for all grades of barley from the opening of the season in August. The desirable malting grades have ruled in the chief markets therefor at prices ranging from 80 cents to $1 12 per bushel.

Our current fiscal year beginning with Sept. 1 1907 will be a notable one in the history of the malting business because of the short supply of malting barley and high prices for the same, combined with a reduced demand for malt, keen competition and financial panic. However, notwithstanding these adverse conditions, it can be said confidently that the operations of the American Malting Co. will result in satisfactory net earnings, sufficient, it is hoped, to enable that company in October 1908 to resume the payment of dividends on its preferred stock, the greater portion of which will be paid into the treasury of the American Malt Corporation, thus enabling that company to inaugurate the payment of dividends on its preferred stock.

Balance Sheet, &c.—The balance sheet of Feb. 29 1908 shows net working capital (including inventories, &c.), $5,050,458; deduct outstanding bonds (including treasury bonds), $3,714,000; balance of net quick assets, $1,336,458. The reserve fund of $100,000 is much more than sufficient to cover all possible losses that might accrue by reason of bad debts, &c., so that this $1,336,457 represents the actual cash value of the net balance of the quick assets after deducting all offsets, including bills payable and outstanding bonds at par.

Plants.—At the time the properties were mortgaged in 1899, competent appraisers valued the real estate and plants of the company under oath at $8,000,000. Since that date a large modern plant has been built at Buffalo costing $1,300,000, and additions and improvements have been made to other plants of the company, the equivalent of new construction, of a value of $700,000, making upwards of $2,000,000 expended in new construction since the appraisal above-mentioned. During this period various unimportant parcels of real estate have been sold realizing the sum of $530,000.

|---|---|
| Therefore in view of the above facts, it would seem that the real estate and plants now owned by the American Malting Co. may safely be valued at | $7,000,000 |
| To this add the net quick assets shown above, after deducting bills payable and outstanding bonds, namely | 1,336,458 |
| And we would have as a conservative valuation of the assets of the company, over and above all indebtedness of every kind and nature | $8,336,458 |

The last-named amount, namely, $8,336,458, therefore fairly represents what may be said to be the book value of the preferred stock of the American Malt Corporation. (Compare list of plants, &c., V. 84, p. 156.)

No income account is given but the balance sheet shows "Profits (six months) to Feb. 29 1908, $368,622."

Great Northern Iron Ore Properties.

(Report for Fiscal Year ending Dec. 7 1907.)

The trustees, Louis W. Hill, James N. Hill, Walter J. Hill and E. T. Nichols, under date of St. Paul, Minn., March 16 1908, have addressed a report to the holders of the 1,500,000 certificates of beneficial interest (no par value), saying:

Interest in Companies Owning and Leasing Iron Ore Lands.—The trust holds stocks in certain companies. These companies control by ownership and leasehold valuable iron lands in the Missabe district in Minnesota, aggregating 65,091.40 acres, of which there have been leased to various lessees prior to Dec. 7 1906 1,596.51 acres.

The lease referred to in our circular of Dec. 7 1906 was executed in August 1907 with the Great Western Mining Co., whose performance thereof is guaranteed by the United States Steel Corporation. This lease should ultimately secure a large return to the holders of certificates. It covers 39,295.88 acres.

|---|---|
| Of which there are owned in fee | 19,933.81 acres |
| Owned in fee jointly with other parties (of which the trustee's proportion is 7,914.95 acres) | 15,972.26 acres |
| Held by lease | 3,389.81 acres |

Of the above fee lands in this lease, 3,691.66 acres are owned by the North Star Iron Co., of whose capital stock the trustees hold about 91%.

Terms of Lease Guaranteed by United States Steel Corporation.—This lease provides for the mining and shipment of at least 1,500,000 tons of ore during the year 1908, and for an additional 750,000 tons in each year thereafter, until the total annual amount mined and shipped shall reach 8,250,000 tons in 1917. From that year 8,250,000 tons remains the annual minimum amount to be mined and shipped. Compare V 83, p. 1261, 1290; V. 84, p. 635, 693.

The royalty to be paid by the Great Western Mining Co. to the Trust is based upon the quality of the ore mined. Ore containing 59% of metallic iron is the unit on which all royalties are computed. The lease fixes the royalty for each ton of such ore delivered at the dock for 1907 at $1 65. The royalty rises or falls 4.82 cents for each increase or decrease of 1% in the amount of metallic iron contained in the ore. This makes the minimum payment for the year 1907 $1.1680 per ton of ore carrying 49% of iron, the lowest grade, and the maximum $1.9874 per ton of ore carrying 66% of iron. On all intermediate grades the royalty is fixed by this sliding scale.

These royalties increase 3.4 cents per ton annually during the life of the lease. The basic royalty, therefore, for ore containing 59% of iron is $1.6840 for 1908. There is the same annual increase of 3.4 cents per ton on all other grades carrying more or less than 59% of mteallic iron. Ore containing 49% of metallic iron is fixed as the minimum merchantable standard, but if ores of lower grade than this are shipped, the lessees pay a minimum royalty thereon of $1 10 per ton.

These royalties include the cost of handling and delivery, sorting, rail transportation and dockage. All these charges, amounting at the present time to 80 cents per ton, are paid by the Trust out of the royalty receipts. The lessees of the mines deliver the ore at the nearest convenient point to the Great Northern Ry. Co. and it is re-delivered to the lessees at the docks at Superior, Wis.

Payments of royalties must be made to the Trust at St. Paul quarterly for ore delivered during the preceding three months, and for any deficiency as hereinafter mentioned, below the required minimum, on Jan. 20 in each year.

An important provision to insure the full working of the properties and all the revenue anticipated under the lease relates to the possibility of shipment in any year falling below the minimum quantity of ore provided by the lease to be shipped in such year. If there is any such deficiency in shipments, royalty must be paid the same as if the ore had been mined and shipped, and this royalty is fixed at the basic rate of $1.65 per ton for the first year and 3.4 cents per ton additional for each year succeeding, less the transportation, dockage and other charges regularly paid by the Trust. The fixed minimum revenue from royalties as provided by the lease for each year is thereby secured; but any such deficiency payment may be credited against the surplus shipment of any subsequent year when more than the minimum amount stipulated for that year shall be shipped.

Lands on which merchantable ore has been exhausted may be given up by the lessees.

The Great Western Mining Co. pays all taxes on the properties and guarantees the Trust against labor and all other liens. Full protection is afforded by a provision that title to the ore does not pass to the lessees until it is delivered at Superior, Wis., and all their obligations relating thereto have been discharged.

To insure immediate development, the lease requires, under penalty of forfeiture, exploration first of the lands held under leases, and then of fee lands, with not less than forty drills, until fully covered. At least five holes must be sunk in each forty-acre tract, and where ore bodies are found, the extent of every such ore body must be determined. The lessee has fulfilled these requirements, over 50 drills being now operated upon the lands in question. Large bodies of ore have been discovered upon lands not heretofore explored, and the results of the work have been very satisfactory.

The lessees, if they have complied with all the conditions of the lease, may surrender the same in 1915, by giving two years' written notice. Unless so terminated, the lease continues in effect until all merchantable ore containing 49% of iron has been shipped from fee lands and as long thereafter as the minmum royalty is paid. As relates to lands held under leasehold, it terminates three months before the leases under which they are controlled expire.

Mining Operations Under Aforesaid Lease.—Mining and exploration operations under the lease during the short time it has been in effect have been satisfactory, and it is expected, that during the coming season additional mines will be opened and the tonnage correspondingly increased.

Ore Mined During Season Under Lease Made Prior to Dec. 7 1906.—Under the leases made prior to Dec. 7 1906 3,307,244 tons of ore were mined and shipped during the past season.

STATEMENT OF RECEIPTS AND DISBURSEMENTS.

International Salt Company.

(Report for Fiscal Year ending Feb. 29 1908.)

The report of Treasurer Mortimer B. Fuller, presented at the annual meeting in Jersey City on March 23, says:

General Results.—The business of your company, while healthy, has suffered recently on account of the general business depression throughout the country during the past five months, and the tonnage shipped as well as the price received shows some decrease for this period as compared with the same period during the previous year.

New Plants—New Process for Manufacture of Salt.—In the last annual report (V. 84, p. 802) we recommended and the shareholders approved of the policy of devoting the earnings to the acquisition and installation of new and improved processes for the manufacture of salt. Since the suspension of dividends in December 1906 this policy has been rigidly adhered to. It was hoped that this work, which was commenced over a year ago, would be completed by this time, but notwithstanding that it has been pushed very rapidly, and the greater part has been finished, three of the four plants which were authorized are not yet completed. Two of them will be completed within sixty days and the other one within ninety days. One of the new process plants has now been in operation for the past three months, and the results obtained have fully met the expectations of the management.

The expenses incident to the installation of these new processes and the necessary new buildings and machinery have been large, but the results thus far obtained have fully justified this expenditure, and have convinced the management that the best interests of the company would be conserved by erecting at least three more of these plants. While the locations of these additional plants have been decided upon, it is deemed advisable to defer their erection until the work now under way has been completed.

Earnings, &c., during Last Six Years.—Your company was incorporated in Nov. 1901, but, owing to the preliminaries incident to the acquisition of subsidiary companies, it practically commenced active operations March 1 1902

The net earnings of the company to March 1 1908 were $5,455,700. During this period there have been retired and canceled $819,000 of the bonds of this company and subsidiary companies.

In addition to the expenditures for dividends and bond interest, for the purchase of additional properties and other capital requirements, there has been expended for new construction $1,948,835.—V. 85, p. 1464.

National Fire-Proofing Company, Pittsburgh, Pa.

(Report for Fiscal Year ending Dec. 31 1907.)

President W. D. Henry, Pittsburgh, March 16 1908, says:

Earnings.—Notwithstanding the financial stringency which prevailed throughout the country, causing the suspension of many large operations, the earnings for the year, after deducting all expenditures for operation, repairs, interest, &c., and before providing for depreciation, were $502,233.

Bonds.—During the year the bonded debt was reduced $250,000.

Surplus.—The total undivided surplus, after making all deductions was $1,114,825.

Improvements, &c.—During the year $104,073 was expended on additions and improvements, and in the purchase of real estate and clay properties, including (1) $25,000 for realty situate in Chicago and occupied by the company for a testing station and storage yard. (2) $12,130 for additional clay properties adjoining those on which we have plants.

Sewer Pipe Department.—In February 1907 it was decided to engage in the manufacture of other products, and having several plants advantageously located for the manufacture of sewer pipe, the company proceeded to make the changes necessary to that end, which have been effected on several of the plants with satisfactory results, and work is now progressing on other plants.

RAILROADS, INCLUDING STREET ROADS.

Atchison Topeka & Santa Fe Ry.—Dividend Reduced to 5% Basis.—The directors on Wednesday declared a semi-annual dividend of 2½% on the common stock, payable June 1 to holders of record May 8, thus reducing the annual rate to a 5% basis, contrasting as follows:

Annual Dividend Record (Per Cent.)

| | 1899. | 1900. | 1901. | 1902 to '05. | 1906. | 1907. | 1908 (s.-a. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Common stock | 0 | 0 | 3½ | 4 yearly. | 4½ | 6 | June, 2½ |
| Preferred stock | 2 | 4 | 5 | 5 yearly. | 5 | 5 | Feb., 2½ |

Victor Morawetz, Chairman of the Board, says:

Every one knows the conditions which made it advisable to cut the rate. How long the stock will remain on a 5% annual basis will depend upon future conditions.

Crop prospects are good along the lines of the Atchison, and in my opinion traffic returns will show a slow but gradual improvement. The falling off in net earnings of the company has been due chiefly to the decline in the volume of high-grade traffic, such as merchandise, machinery, &c. There has been little or no decrease in the volume of business originating along the company's own lines. The movement of merchandise ought to increase from this time, but it is hard to tell how soon machinery shipments will be resumed on the usual scale. That will depend on money conditions.—V. 86, p. 284.

Camden & Trenton Ry.—Receivership.—More than a majority of the company's first mortgage bonds has been deposited with the Union Trust Co., Philadelphia, under the call of the protective committee. The committee has decided to receive further deposits up to April 20th inst.—V. 86, p. 793, 601.

Carolina Clinchfield & Ohio Ry.—New Name.—At a meeting held at Bristol, Tenn., on March 23, arrangements were completed for changing the name of the South & Western RR. to the Carolina Clinchfield & Ohio Ry., in accordance with the papers recently filed at Nashville. It was also voted to authorize the making of a mortgage to the Farmers' Loan & Trust Co. of New York, as trustee, to secure an issue of $15,000,000 5% 30-year first mortgage bonds dated June 1 1908. There will be reserved $3,000,000 to retire the bonds of three constituent railroads of the former South & Western RR. in Virginia, Tennessee and North Carolina, which latter bonds are deposited as collateral to secure the recent issue of $3,000,000 Cumberland Corporation 1-year notes. See "Chronicle" of May 14, p. 668. There will be a further amount of $3,000,000 of the new bonds reserved for equipment. The balance will be issued for construction. See South & Western RR. in "Chronicle" of May 14, page 669.

Chicago Cincinnati & Louisville RR.—Notice to Bondholders.—In view of the receivership, a committee consisting of N. W. Jordan, John F. Hill, A. C. Raymond, Felix Rosen and G. H. Kinnicutt, and representing a large amount of the "general and refunding mortgage 4½% bonds," requests deposits of those bonds without delay at the American Trust Co., 53 State St., Boston. A. C. Raymond, 67 Milk St., Boston, is Secretary to the committee, and its counsel are C. K. Cobb, Boston, and Underwood, Van Vorst & Hoyt, New York. See advertisement on another page.—V. 86, p. 793, 479.

Chicago City Ry.—Bonds Offered.—E. H. Rollins & Sons, Boston, Chicago, Denver and San Francisco, are offering by advertisement on another page, at 96½ and interest, yielding about 5.3%, $1,000,000 first mortgage 5% gold bonds, dated July 1 1907, of which $14,000,000 are outstanding as of April 1 1908. The firm says:

The above bonds are secured by an absolute first mortgage on all property now owned or hereafter acquired, which on Jan. 31 1908 comprised 214 miles of single track, covering the South Side of Chicago, operated by the company under a franchise which runs until Feb. 1 1927, under the terms of which the City of Chicago, through its Board of Engineers, appraised the property at $21,000,000 as of June 30 1906. The net earnings for the year ending Jan. 31 1908 (January estimated), after deducting operating expenses, taxes and renewals, were $2,464,948, being nearly four times the annual interest charge on the bonds now outstanding. The company has paid dividends uninterruptedly since 1870, and since 1901 dividends of 9% on $18,000,000 of capital stock have been paid. See further particulars in V. 84, p. 1550; V. 86, p. 668.

Chicago Indiana & Southern RR.—Earnings, &c.—See "Annual Reports" on a preceding page.

Report Denied.—As to the reported sale to J. P. Morgan & Co. of $10,000,000 50-year 4% gold bonds which appeared in the daily papers last week, E. V. W. Rossiter, Vice-President of the New York Central, replying to our inquiry, says: "The report referred to above is unwarranted and incorrect."—V. 86, p. 793.

Chicago & Milwaukee Electric RR.—Application to Issue Receivers' Certificates on Wisconsin Division.—On March 30 receivers Osborne, Haugan and Hanna, filed a petition in the United States Circuit Court at Milwaukee in behalf of the Chicago & Milwaukee Electric RR. of Wisconsin, asking authority to issue on that division $1,000,000 6% receivers' certificates. "Chicago Inter Ocean" March 31 said:

The petition recites that it will require $896,000 to finish the line to Milwaukee, so that through trains from Evanston can be operated by June 1. The corporation has built 2 out of 3½ miles in the city of Milwaukee, and has laid tracks to a point 12 miles north of Racine, Wis., with grading running 8 miles farther.

The certificates are to be a prior lien to the $10,000,000 bond issue of the Chicago & Milwaukee Electric RR. of Wisconsin. It will have no priority, however, over the $5,000,000 bond issue of the Chicago & Milwaukee Electric RR. Co. of Illinois, which is the parent company. Over $5,000,000 of the par value of the bonds of the Wisconsin corporation, it is announced, have already been deposited in assent to this agreement.—V. 86, p. 668, 336.

Chicago Railways.—Assessment.—See Chicago Union Traction Co. below.—V. 86, p. 602, 545.

Chicago Union Traction Co.—Assessment Called.—In accordance with the reorganization plan, each depositing shareholder of the Traction Company and the underlying properties has been assessed to represent his "ratable proportion of the indebtedness incurred by or for account of his company in the protection of its interests and the preservation of its rights since April 22 1903, other than so much thereof as may have been heretofore otherwise provided for." The assessments, which aggregate $905,078, are as follows:

| | Stock Assessed. | Assessment — Per share. | Total. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Chicago Union Traction preferred | $12,000,000 | $3.33 1-3 | $399,996 |
| Chicago Union Traction common | 20,000,000 | 1.00 | 200,000 |
| West Chicago Street Ry. Co | 9,973,000 | 1.28 | 126,454 |
| Chicago West Division Ry. Co | 624,600 | 7.65 | 47,782 |
| North Chicago Street Ry. Co | 5,897,400 | 1.98 | 111,768 |
| North Chicago City RR. Co | 249,400 | 7.65 | 19,078 |

The assessment on the shares of the Chicago Union Traction Co. must be paid at the Central Trust Co., New York, on or before May 1. Only the shareholders who pay the assessment will be entitled to receive "participation certificates" in exchange for their holdings.—V. 86, p. 52.

Chicago West Division Ry.—Assessment.—See Chicago Union Traction Co. above.—V. 85, p. 530.

Cincinnati Hamilton & Dayton Ry.—74% of the $11,558,000 Refunding Bonds already Exchanged.—The committee, consisting of J. N. Wallace, Frederick Strauss and Mark T. Cox, under date of April 2, makes the following announcement to holders of the 4% refunding mortgage gold bonds:

The undersigned committee under the bondholders' agreement of Dec. 9 1905 has already effected the exchange of over 74% of the above-described bonds for the 5½-year collateral trust 4% gold notes of the Railway Co. maturing July 1 1913, bearing interest from Jan. 1 1908, payable semi-annually Jan. 1 and July 1, redeemable at the option of the Railway Co. on any half-yearly interest day at par.

The notes, which are now ready for delivery, are issued against the deposit, dollar for dollar, of refunding mortgage bonds of the Railway Co., under a trust agreement with the Central Trust Co. of New York. Holders of the bonds may now effect such exchange at the office of the Central Trust Co. of New York, 54 Wall St., on paying $9 per bond on account of the expenses and compensation of the committee.

[The new note issue is to be limited to $14,286,000; of this amount $11,558,000 is to be reserved for issue to purchase the $11,558,000 refunding bonds outstanding, and the remaining $2,728,000 is "to be reserved to be used only to take up, on their issue, $2,728,000 additional refunding bonds which may be issued to refund a like amount of consolidated mortgage 5% bonds of the Dayton & Michigan RR. Co. maturing Jan. 1 1911, and except for this purpose it is contemplated that the refunding mortgage shall be closed."] See further facts in V. 86, p. 108, 337, 720.

Colorado Texas & Mexico RR.—Bond Issue.—This company, which was originally incorporated in 1889 and in 1905 had completed the grading of a piece of road from Llarno to Fredericksburg, Tex., 48 miles, has recently made a mortgage to the Carnegie Trust Co., as trustee, to secure an issue of $75,000,000 5% bonds, to be issued at the rate of $30,000 per mile to provide for the construction and equipment of its projected lines of railroad as hereafter constructed in Wyoming, South Dakota, Nebraska, Colorado, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas, or in the States of Coahuila, Chihuahua and Sonora, in Mexico.

The bonds are dated Jan. 1 1908 and will mature Jan. 1 1958, without option of earlier redemption. Denomination $1,000; interest payable July 1 and Jan. 1. Bonds issuable at the rate of $30,000 per mile of road constructed (and equipped) in sections of 25 miles, upon sworn certificate of President and Chief Engineer. Morris R. Locke is President and General Manager; W. E. Oliver, Vice-President; H. M. Ferguson, Secretary and Treasurer. General office, Mangum, Okla.

President Morris R. Locke, Mangum, Okla., is quoted as saying that there will first be constructed 285 miles of main line and branches between Mangum, Okla., and Abilene, Tex., including the Hollis, Okla., branch, and the Vunn and Merkel, Tex., branches, and that this division will be fully completed and in operation within eighteen months.—V. 84, p. 930; V. 80, p. 2457.

Delaware & Atlantic City (Electric) RR.—Receiver for Defunct Project.—William S. Casselman, Vice-President of the West Jersey Trust Co. of Camden, N. J., has been appointed receiver for the company.

The company was incorporated July 11 1899 with $6,000,000 authorized capital stock to build an electric road from Gloucester City to Atlantic City, 52 miles, and went as far as depositing $104,000 with the State Treasurer, as required by the Railroad Act. Its assets now include this deposit. No construction was ever done. Newspaper reports speak of loans aggregating $172,600, of which $52,000 due the estate of V. C. Sweatman. The receivership was sought by the executors of this estate.

Delaware & Hudson Co.—Proposed Merger of Controlled Property.—Arrangements, having been made to acquire the last outstanding share of the (common) capital stock of the New York & Canada RR., application has been made to the Public Service Commission for authority to merge the company with the D. & H. The price paid for the share is said to have been $1,500.—V. 86, p. 720, 668.

Detroit Flint & Saginaw Electric Ry.—Sale Ordered.—A press dispatch from Flint, Mich., March 31, states that this road has been ordered by Judge Wisner to be sold to satisfy $479,775 due on the mortgage for $1,000,000 under which the Detroit Trust Co. is trustee.—V. 83, p. 1290.

Erie RR.—$15,000,000 New Notes Authorized Due July 1 1913.—At Albany on March 31 the up-State Public Service Commission authorized the company to issue $15,000,000 notes, dated April 1 1908, and payable on or before July 1 1913, or any earlier date; also to issue $9,457,000 general lien bonds secured by the first consolidated mortgage and $750,000 bonds secured by the Pennsylvania collateral indenture and to pledge both blocks as part security for the notes. It is stipulated that the bonds so pledged shall not be sold at less than 80% and that if sold the amount of the notes shall be proportionately reduced.

On April 8 $5,500,000 of one-year notes will mature (see V. 84, p. 803), and negotiations, it is understood, are in progress looking to the exchange of the same for notes of the new issue.

Removal of Office.—It is announced that on May 1 1908 the general offices will be removed to the Fulton Building of the Hudson Terminal, at No. 50 Church St., this city.—V. 86, p. 602, 546.

Houston & Texas Central RR.—Called Bonds.—First mortgage bonds of 1890 aggregating $125,000 have been drawn by lot and will be redeemed at 110 and interest on presentation at the company's office in the Equitable Building, this city, interest ceasing May 29 1908. See advertisement on another page of to-day's "Chronicle."—V. 85, p. 1645.

Idaho Northern RR.—New Enterprise.—This company, incorporated in Idaho in 1906 with $2,500,000 of authorized capital stock, all of one class (par $100), of which $875,000 is outstanding, recently filed a mortgage to the Guaranty Trust Co. of New York, as trustee, to secure an issue of $875,000 first mortgage 5% gold bonds of $1,000 each; dated Nov. 1 1907 and due Nov. 1 1927; interest payable May 1 and Nov. 1 at office of trustee.

The company was organized to build 76 miles of standard gauge railroad in the Coeur d'Alene district, of which 33 miles, extending from Enaville on the Wallace-Tekoa branch of the Oregon Railroad & Navigation Company's line near Kingston, Idaho, to a point on Prichard Creek, about 6 miles east of the town of Murray, and adjacent silver lead mines, is under construction and will probably be completed by Dec. 1 1908, about 20% of the work having already been completed. The cost of this 33 miles of railroad, it is stated, will be about $800,000. The road will be operated at the start with steam, but probably within two years' time by means of electric power furnished by the Big Bend Water Power Co., (see under "Industrials" below). Branches aggregating about 43 miles will be built as soon as conditions warrant. The officers are: President, B. F. O'Neil, Wallace, Ida., President of the State Bank of Commerce at Wallace and also of the Big Bend Water Power Co. (see that company under "Industrials" below); Vice-President and General Manager, E. P. Spalding, 416 Lindell Block, Spokane, Wash., Vice-President Big Bend Water Power Co., and E. L. Proebsting, Secretary and Treasurer.

Neither the power company nor the railroad company owns any of the stock of the other corporation, nor does the power company guarantee the bonds of the railroad company, as they are being financed and operated as two distinct companies.

The Idaho Northern Railroad should not be confounded with the Idaho Northern Railway, which is in operation from Murphy to Emmett, Idaho, 59 miles, with 45 miles additional under construction.

Interborough Rapid Transit Co., New York.—New Bond Issue Authorized.—The shareholders on March 28 adopted the proposal of the directors to execute a mortgage for $55,000,000 on the company's property, with a view to using a portion of the issue to refund or extend the $15,000,000 of 4% notes which mature on May 1. Compare V. 86, p. 603, 664, 668.

Inter-State Commerce Commission.—No Control Over Ocean Transportation.—The Inter-State Commerce Commission on March 22, in the case of the Cosmopolitan Shipping Co. of New Jersey against the Hamburg-American Packet Co., the North German-Lloyd Steamship Co. and the Wilson (Hull) line and Scandinavian-American line, constituting the so-called "Baltic pool," held that "the pooling of traffic by water carriers is plainly a matter over which the Commission has no jurisdiction."

The complaint alleged that the "Baltic pool" determined the ultimate rates for forwarding merchandise on through and local bills of lading from Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City and other points in the United States via the North Atlantic ports of the United States to European points reached by the steamships of the defendants, and divided such freight traffic on the basis of the following percentages: Hamburg-American Packet Co., via Germany, 56%; North German Lloyd, via Germany, 17.5%; Wilson (Hull) Line, via England, 2.5%; Scandinavian-American Line, direct to Denmark, 24%.

The Commission holds that there has never been such a thing as stability of ocean rates, and perhaps it is not desirable there should be, the ocean being a highway free to all, and in the end the public will be more equitably served by leaving the water carriers to foreign lands entirely unhampered by such restrictions as it has been found necessary to impose on railroads.

Alleged Rebating.—The Commission on March 17 announced, on the report of Commissioner Lane, that it has recommended the prosecution of the Chesapeake & Ohio Ry. for alleged rebating at the expense of the Seaboard Air Line, Atlantic Coast Line and Southern Ry., its connections at Richmond, Va., and the destruction of certain records late ast year by the Auditor of Disbursements.—V. 86, p. 603.

Klondike Mines Railway Co.—New Mortgage Trustee.—The company has duly appointed Sir William Lawrence Young, Baronet, of London, England, as a trustee under the mortgage dated July 29 1908 in the stead of John Carlisle resigned. The co-trustee is Robert Allen Lawther. Andrew Haydon of Ottawa is Secretary of the company.—V. 81, p. 725; V. 82, p. 509.

Lima-Honeoye (N. Y.) Electric Light & RR.—Reorganized Company.—This company was incorporated under the laws of New York on March 20 with $50,000 authorized capital stock as a reorganization after foreclosure sale of the Lima-Honeoye Electric Light & Railroad Co. Incorporators: C. E. Georger, E. A. Georger, J. Jewett Jr., J. O. Moore, Buffalo; E. D. Watkins, Lima.—V. 69, p. 1103.

Little Miami RR.—New Securities.—See Pittsburgh Cincinnati Chicago & St. Louis Ry. under "Annual Reports" on a preceding page.—V. 84, p. 271.

Louisville Traction Co.—Earnings of Subsidiary Company.—See "Annual Reports" on a preceding page.

New Preferred Stock.—The shareholders will vote April 15 upon a proposition to increase the share capital to $18,500,000 by raising the preferred stock from $2,500,000 to $3,500,000.—V 86, p. 168.

Matamoras & Santa Cruz Street Ry.—Sold.—The property of this company, it is stated, was recently purchased by Henry E. Scott, Samuel Fordyce and other stockholders of the Union Trust Co. of St. Louis. An exchange says:

The purchase includes all the holdings of the ferry company and tracks at Santa Cruz. It is understood that the present mule car line is to be operated by electricity. The same parties also own the Rio Grande RR., running from Brownsville to Point Isabel, which, it is said, will later be converted into an electric railway.

Metropolitan Street Ry., New York.—$3,500,000 Receiver's Certificates for Rehabilitation.—Judge Lacombe of the United States Circuit Court in this city on Monday granted the receivers of the New York City and Metropolitan Street Railway companies authority to issue $3,500,000 6% receivers' certificates to provide for the rehabilitation of the surface lines of the two companies. Judge Lacombe said:

There seems to be a very urgent necessity for the issue of certificates to the amount asked for, $3,500,000, and the prayer of the petition is therefore granted. The certificates will be superior in lien to the two mortgages, viz.: the general and collateral trust mortgage and the refunding mortgage. The certificates are to run for one year and to pay 6% semi-annually. Details as to offering for sale may be arranged on settlement of order. The order will not contain any specific appropriation of the proceeds, but instead there shall be inserted a general clause to the effect that the receivers shall keep a separate account of the proceeds of these certificates, and that no part thereof shall be used except in the improvement, acquisition, preservation or maintenance of property which is covered by both of said mortgages, and that all rolling stock bought with such proceeds shall be marked to that effect See further particulars in V. 86, p. 668, 603.

Default—Offer to Purchase Coupons.—In view of the default in the payment of interest due April 1 1908 upon the $16,604,000 of outstanding 4% refunding mortgage 100-year gold bonds, Kuhn, Loeb & Co., referring to their letter of March 27 addressed to Edwin S. Marston, Chairman of the bondholders' committee, offer to purchase, on or before May 15, at its face value, the semi-annual coupon due April 1 from such of the bonds as may be deposited with the Farmers' Loan & Trust Co., depositary, subject to the bondholders' agreement, prior to May 15 1908. The purchase is made for the firm by the aforesaid trust company.

This offer is in line with similar action of Kuhn, Loeb & Co. in the matter of the default in the payment of the Jan. 1 coupons of the first consolidated mortgage 4% 100-year gold bonds of the Third Avenue RR. Co.

The bankers take this course simply that the bondholders may have full opportunity, with income unimpaired, to investigate the present financial position of the Metropolitan Company and the value of the bonds. The coupons have no prior lien over the bonds and the bankers take their chances with the bondholders to get back any part of the moneys which they will now disburse.

In 1902 Kuhn, Loeb & Co. brought out $11,000,000 of these bonds. At that time President H. H. Vreeland stated in a letter to the firm that the Metropolitan in the previous year had earned a surplus over and above all its fixed charges of $3,431,567, while the interest on the new $11,000,000 of bonds would call for a disbursement of only $440,000 per annum.

Rental Payments Delayed.—The dividends due April 1 as rental on the stocks of the following companies were not paid at maturity, owing to lack of funds, but will probably be met after a short delay, as in the case of the January installments: Broadway & Seventh Avenue, Central Crosstown, Christopher & Tenth Streets, Central Park North & East River, Ninth Avenue, Eighth Avenue and Sixth Avenue.

Pay-as-You-Enter Cars.—This new type of car was put in service on the Fourth Avenue line on March 22. It is expected to increase materially the receipts of the road, which, it is claimed, have suffered seriously from dishonest and careless conductors.

Transfers with Third Avenue Line to Be Abolished.—Judge Lacombe, in the United States Circuit Court on March 31, directed the receivers of the Metropolitan Street Ry. and of the Third Avenue RR. to discontinue transfers between the two systems on ten days' notice, except in certain places where lines are used in common for over 1,000 feet, and the further exception below noted.

Judge Lacombe says: "As a business proposition, it is obvious that a curtailment of transfer privileges in this manner will increase the cash receipts, and since receivers are trustees for the creditors and owners, their duty to operate the roads so as to increase earnings is equally obvious. As to the Dry Dock East Broadway & Battery RR., there appear to be so many places where it and the Metropolitan lines use portions of each other's track exceeding 1,000 feet in length (the limit set by law without the issuing of transfers) that it seems inadvisable to undertake to make any changes now; possibly future modifications in operation of the line may eliminate enough of these 'used in common'' to leave a less complicated situation."

The receivers for the Metropolitan system show that in 1907 376,629,571 revenue passengers were carried on Manhattan Island, compared with 194,765,342 transfer passengers, the latter being 51.73% of the former, the average fare paid being 3.29 cents. In 1888 the transfer passengers were 1,996,871, or 1.10% of the revenue passengers, and the average fare 4.94 cents. During the six months ending Dec. 31 1907 approximately 29,500,000 passengers, or about 28% of the entire number (194,765,342) of transfer passengers carried on Manhattan Island surface lines, were transferred from the Third Avenue to the Metropolitan lines, or vice versa.

Receiver Whitridge of the Third Avenue lines says that the property cannot be taken out of the hands of the court or reorganized until an approximate idea of its earning capacity can be obtained, which cannot be done without the abolition of transfers; this, he thinks, will increase earnings from 10 to 20%.

The statement of the receivers of the Metropolitan lines says that, eliminating all dividends on the stock and bonds of the Third Avenue system, the guaranteed dividend on the Metropolitan stock, the interest on the Metropolitan 4% refunding and 5% general and collateral trust mortgage bonds, and paying only the operating expenses, taxes, dividend rentals and the interest on securities of the lessor companies, there will probably be a deficit of $1,000,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30 1908, without including any expenses charged to construction.—V. 86, p. 668, 603.

Missouri & North Arkansas RR.—John Scullin Notes Offered.—Francis Bros. & Co. of St. Louis have bought $300,000 and the Mercantile Trust Co. (the trustee) also of St. Louis has bought $600,000 6% "John Scullin collateral trust (coupon) gold notes" of $1,000 each, dated April 1 1908 and due Oct. 1 1911. Total amount of issue, $900,000. The notes are offered at 100 and accrued interest, yielding 6%. A circular says in substance:

The John Scullin 6% notes are secured by a deposit with the Mercantile Trust Co., trustee, of $1,123,000 Allegheny Improvement Co. 5% collateral trust gold notes due Oct. 1 1911, the total authorized issue of which is $6,000,000. (Compare offering V. 85, p. 101.)

The Allegheny Improvement Co. is an Illinois Corporation and has contracted with the Missouri & North Arkansas RR. Co. to construct 211 miles of extensions for which it is to receive the railroad company's bonds and stock at the rate of $25,000 per mile of completed line. The railroad company had 122 miles in operation before the contract above referred to was made and the securities on this portion of the road are deposited as additional collateral for the note-holders. The notes of the Improvement Company are therefore secured by collateral constituting a first lien on the entire line constructed and to be constructed, and will be a collateral first lien on the 333 miles at the rate of about $18,000 per mile. The proceeds of said notes are disbursed under the joint direction of the St. Louis Union Trust Co. and the following committee: David R. Francis, John F. Shepley, John Scullin, Powell Clayton and R. C. Kerens.

The railroad company was incorporated under the laws of Arkansas in August 1906 with a capital of $11,500,000, and an authorized issue of $11,500,000 first mortgage 50-year 4% bonds, issuable at the rate of $25,000 per mile of completed main line and $1,500,000 for terminals, as successor of the St. Louis & North Ark. RR. Co. It is now operating over its own lines between Leslie, Ark., through Eureka Springs to Seligman, Mo., 122.52 miles, and between Woodruff and Neosho, Mo., (32 miles). It operates between Seligman and Woodruff over the St. Louis & San Francisco RR., 9 miles, and will shortly be operating between Neosho and Joplin, Mo., 19 miles, under an agreement with the Kansas City Southern. An extension of 179 miles from Leslie to Helena on the Mississippi River is now in course of construction. It is expected this will be completed and in operation the latter part of this year. The company will then own 333 miles of main line with trackage rights of over 28 miles additional.

Mr. Scullin is a resident of St. Louis, a man of large means, and a railroad builder of years of experience, and we have absolute confidence and belief in his ability to pay these notes at maturity.—V. 86, p. 168.

Montreal Bridge & Terminal Co.—Contracts With Railroad Companies.—The company announces its intention to apply to the Parliament of Canada for an Act extending the time for the completion of the bridge, to confirm agreements entered into with certain railway companies, and for other purposes. Compare V. 80, p. 2621.

St. Louis & San Francisco RR.—Application to List.—The New York Stock Exchange has been asked to list $995,000 additional 4% refunding mortgage bonds, due 1951, making the total listed $64,447,000.—V. 86, p. 286, 230.

Seaboard Air Line Ry.—Coupons, &c., Due April 1.—The semi-annual interest due April 1 on the $12,775,000 4% first mortgage bonds remains unpaid. The following payments were made promptly:

Equipment bonds, Series C, 4½s, $42,000 of principal paid at office of Blair & Co., New York.
Equipment bonds, Series E, 5s, interest and $25,000 of principal paid at office of Blair & Co., New York.
South Bound RR., $2,033,000 first mortgage 5s, interest paid at Baltimore Trust & Guaranty Co.
Roanoke & Tar River $55,000 first mortgage 6s, interest paid at Mercantile Trust & Deposit Co., Baltimore.—V. 86, p. 795, 722.

Spokane & Inland Empire RR.—Dividends Suspended.—The last dividend paid on the $6,286,900 preferred stock, we are informed, was the fourth quarterly distribution of 1¼%, Oct. 20 1907.—V. 86, p. 721.

Third Avenue RR., New York.—Transfers with Metropolitan System to Be Abolished.—See Metropolitan Street Ry. above.

Receivership of Subsidiary.—See Union Ry. below.

Payment of Coupon.—See Yonkers RR. below.—V. 86, p. 722, 548.

Toledo & Indiana (Electric) Ry.—Receivership.—Judge Brough at Toledo on March 30, upon application by Schuyler C. Schenck and Jacob M. Longnecker, respectively President and director of the railway, appointed C. F. M. Niles receiver of the company, on the ground of insolvency, pending reorganization. The "Toledo Blade" of March 31 says:

As explained by the attorneys representing the various interests, the receivership is only temporary, and is a friendly arrangement made to obviate the necessity of the trustees taking charge for the bondholders. Mr. Niles is President of the Security Savings Bank & Trust Co., which is trustee for the $1,650,000 bond issue of the railway company. The T. & I. defaulted on its bonds Jan. 1.—V. 86, p. 53.

Union Railway Co. of New York.—Receivership.—Judge Lacombe, in the United States Circuit Court in this city on Wednesday, in a suit brought by the Lorain Steel Co. of Pennsylvania to recover $23,323 for materials furnished and labor performed, the railway company assenting, appointed as receiver of the property Frederick W. Whitridge, already receiver of the Third Avenue RR.

The company's entire $2,000,000 capital stock is pledged as part security for the first consolidated mortgage bonds of the Third Avenue RR., dated 1900. According to the allegations in the aforesaid suit there are $4,715,064 notes of the defendant outstanding issued to the trustee under said consolidated mortgage of the Third Avenue RR. Co.; there are notes held by the New York City Railway Co. or its receivers amounting to $127,013; also $200,000 additional indebtedness outstanding. Claims for $500,000 are pending. On April 1 the cash balance was only $75,000 (compare V. 85, p. 1643). On June 30 1906 the company's outstanding "loans" additional to the $2,000,000 first mortgage bonds as reported to the New York State Railroad Commission aggregate $6,272,592.—V. 70, p. 77.

Vandalia RR.—Report.—For calendar year, of all lines directly operated:

| Cal. Year. | Gross Earnings. | Net Earnings | Other Income. | Fixed Charges. | Dividends on Stock. | Balance Surplus. |

| 1907 | $10,053,186 | $2,105,714 | $27,772 | $1,053,541 | (5%) $729,320 | $350,625 |
| 1906 | 8,904,859 | 1,972,969 | 81,906 | 994,322 | (4½) 647,009 | 413,543 |

From the balance as above was deducted $80,542 for extraordinary expenditure fund in 1907, against $400,000 in 1906, leaving $270,083 in 1907, against $13,543 in 1906.—V. 86, p. 110.

Virginia & Southeastern Ry.—Reduction of Capital Stock.—It was this paper company which last week reduced its capital stock from $1,000,000 to $65,000, not the Virginia & Southwestern Ry., formerly controlled by the same interests, but recently sold to the Southern Railway Co.—V. 80, p. 223.

Virginia & Southwestern Ry.—Correction.—See Virginia Southeastern Ry. above.—V. 80, p. 796.

Wages.—Southern Ry. Defers Reduction to July 1.—Chairman Knapp of the Inter-State Commerce Commission and Commissioner of Labor Neill, who were asked under Section 2 of the Erdmann Act to act as mediators between the Southern Ry. and allied companies and their employees working under contract, make substantially the following announcement:

The employees are unwilling at this time to accept a reduction of wages because, in their opinion, the present depression in business has not continued for a sufficient period to justify a reduction. Under all circumstances of the case, irrespective of its merits, the interests of the public and of all parties to the controversy will be promoted if the companies shall not insist upon the proposed reduction at this time. We have recommended to the companies to continue the present schedule of wages until July 1, upon the understanding that if, by that time, business conditions have not substantially improved, the matters in dispute will be taken up again by the mediators with the view of reaching such an agreed adjustment of the wage scale as may seem to be just under the conditions then existing.

This recommendation has been accepted by the companies and their employees in the operating, mechanical and roadway departments represented by their organizations. Compare V. 86, p. 604.

Norfolk & Western.—The employees on March 21, after a conference of the officials of the company with the labor unions connected with the road announced that they declined to accept the proposition that in any month in which the gross earnings are less than $2,500,000 their pay shall be computed on the rates in effect previous to the last adjustment, this arrangement to remain in effect for 10 months. Compare V. 86, p. 604.

West Chicago Street RR.—Assessment.—See Chicago Union Traction Co. above.—V. 85, p. 532.

Western Maryland RR.—Receiver's Certificates.—Judge Morris, in the United States Circuit Court at Baltimore on March 27 authorized receiver Benjamin F. Bush to issue 6% receiver's certificates for a sum not exceeding $850,000, to provide funds to pay the semi-annual interest due April 1 on the $42,518,000 first mortgage 4% bonds, upon petition by the Bowling Green Trust Co., trustee under the "general lien and convertible" mortgage. This issue of certificates has been sold to friendly interests. "Baltimore Sun" says:

The receiver's certificates are to be payable in installments of $140,000 on the 30th days of April, May, June and August, and $150,000 on Sept. 30 next, or sooner, under the order of the court. They are to be a first lien on the income of the property in the receiver's hands, after paying operating expenses, taxes, rentals, interest on underlying bonds and receivership expenses.

Until the further order of the court the net revenues from the coal properties of the Western Maryland RR. and from the Davis Coal & Coke Co. are to be applied to the payment of interest on the first mortgage bonds and to the payment of the principal and interest of the receiver's certificates.

Coupons Paid.—Receiver Bush accordingly announced on March 31 that he would "pay at maturity, upon presentation at the office of The Mercantile Trust Co., No. 120 Broadway, New York City, coupons due April 1 1908," from the aforesaid first mortgage bonds.

Time Extended.—The stockholders and "general lien and convertible" bondholders' committee, of which Richard Sutro is Chairman, announces that the time for the deposit of stocks and bonds with the Bankers' Trust Co. has been extended to April 10, after which date no securities will be received except on such conditions as the committee may prescribe.—V. 86, p. 796, 722.

Yonkers RR., New York.—Interest Paid.—The semi-annuannual interest on the $1,000,000 5% first mortgage bonds was paid at maturity on April 1.

The Union Ry. Co. which guaranteed the aforesaid bonds, principal and interest, was placed in receiver's hands April 1. The Yonkers RR. was put in charge of a receiver on Jan. 20. (Compare report of Third Avenue receivers in V. 85, p. 1642.)—V. 86, p. 230.

INDUSTRIAL, GAS AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Allegheny Improvement Co.—Notes Pledged.—See Missouri & North Arkansas RR.—V. 85, p. 101.

American Caramel Co.—Earnings.—For calendar year:

| Year— | Profits. | Bond Interest. | Miscellan's. | Pref. Div., (8%) | | Common Dividend. | Balance, Surplus. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|

The preferred shares receive 2% quarterly Jan. 1, &c. Total surplus Dec. 31 1903, $369,900.

American Ice Securities Co., New York.—New Director.—W. A. Tucker and Louis G. Boissevain have been elected directors, succeeding Isaac Guggenheim and Charles M. Schwab.—V. 86, p. 796, 422.

American Screw Co., Providence.—Dividend.—This company paid on March 31 a quarterly dividend of 1¾%, being the same amount as paid in December 1907, previous to which the company paid 2½% quarterly. Compare V. 86, p. 549.

American Telephone & Telegraph Co.—New Directors.—Harry H. Brigham and George L. Green have been elected directors, succeeding Frederick P. Fish, who resigned, and Charles E. Perkins, deceased.

Bernard E. Sunny has been made Vice-President, to take the place of Thomas Sherwin.—V. 86, p. 722, 733, 718.

Big Bend Water Power Co.—Bond Issue.—This company, incorporated in 1905 under the laws of the State of Washington, has filed a mortgage to secure an issue of $250,000 first mortgage 6% gold bonds; denomination $1,000 and $100; dated Nov. 1 1907 and due Nov. 1912; interest payable May and November at office of Washington Trust Co., Spokane, trustee. The whole issue has been sold; capital stock, $2,000,000; outstanding, $1,116,000; par $1. The officers are: President, B. F. O'Neil, Wallace, Ida.; Secretary and Treasurer, A. M. Phillips, Spokane, and Vice-President and General Manager, E. P. Spalding, Spokane, Wash. The same interests are back of the Idaho Northern RR., which see under "Railroads" above.

The Water Power Company is developing a power site on the Spokane River 30 miles west of Spokane which will furnish 20,000 h. p. over a line 132 miles long at a tension of 80,000 volts, for operation of mining machinery and railroads in Coeur d'Alene district, Idaho. No portion of the plant is in operation, but it is expected that the 20,000 h. p. will be available for use in 1909. The cost of this development, it is said, will be $1,750,000.

Bituminous Coal Companies.—Many Miners Suspend Work.—The miners' convention at Indianapolis having failed to obtain a response from the operators, finally consented to a renewal of the district contracts for one year only, with existing wage rates as a minimum, but without withdrawing from the position in favor of a general inter-State agreement. On April 1 the old agreement expired and the union bituminous coal miners in large sections of the country stopped work pending the making of new agreements.

The "Iron Age" of April 2 said:

It is estimated that over 225,000 bituminous coal miners stopped work March 31. It is not believed that a prolonged strike will result. However, there are sharp differences between operators and miners in some districts. In the Southwest District a meeting is being held at Kansas City which may result in an agreement affecting 35,000 men. In the Kanawha field in West Virginia an agreement is probable. President-elect Lewis of the miners' national organization says that no move will be made for some days. In Michigan it was agreed that last year's scale of wages should continue in effect until March 31 1909. At Pittsburgh it is said that mine owners employing 45,000 miners will insist on a two-year contract, with the sympathatic strike eliminated and with a proviso for arbitration of differences. The open winter and much reduced demand for coal for industrial purposes have resulted in considerable accumulations, and the strike will, therefore not be detrimental to manufacturing unless it should be prolonged.

[Press reports say that the one-year wage agreement has been signed in Central Pennsylvania and that in the Indiana block-coal district the men are working pending negotiations. Thomas L. Lewison April 1 succeeded John Mitchell as President of the United Mine Workers of America.—Ed. "Chronicle."]—V. 86, p. 667.

Brooklyn (N. Y.) Ferry Co.—Reorganization.—The bondholders' committee, consisting of James Jourdan, Chairman, Joseph J. O'Donohue Jr., George H. Prentiss, Marcus Mayer, Theodore F. Jackson and Isaac Jackson, with H. M. Delanoie as Secretary, 66 Broadway, New York, has addressed a circular dated March 25 to the holders of the first consolidated mortgage bonds who have deposited their bonds under the agreement dated Aug. 2 1906, and the plan adopted thereunder, dated Dec. 18 1906, saying in substance:

There has been deposited with your committee approximately $6,000,000 of the aforesaid bonds out of a total outstanding issue of $6,500,000. A judgment of foreclosure has been obtained, but your committee has thus far deemed it best to cause the sale to be postponed.

The ferry business has become unprofitable through the construction of subways and bridges, and the gains that are to be expected through growth of population will probably be offset by the diversion of traffic to new bridges and tunnels. Your committee has therefore, in connection with the holders of more than a majority of the capital stock, approved the method described herein for carrying out the plan of Dec. 18 1906, by which it is expected that the property can, upon acquisition thereof, be devoted to the purposes of a freight terminal instead of to the ferry business.

A committee of stockholders has co-operated in the organization of the New York Terminal Co. under the laws of New Jersey. It is intended that the Terminal Co. shall acquire the consolidated bonds, and, for said purpose, shall issue its 6% income collateral trust mortgage gold bonds limited to the same aggregate par value as the said outstanding consolidated bonds, to be secured by a collateral trust mortgage to the Knickerbocker Trust Co., as trustee, with the consolidated bonds as security therefor. The new bonds will provide that the property, when acquired by the Terminal Co. by means of said consolidated bonds, shall be transferred to the trustee as security for the new bonds, in which event the collateral trust mortgage will be a lien upon such property, subject to the present outstanding $1,000,000 first mortgage of the Brooklyn & New York Ferry Co. maturing Jan. 1 1911. Said new bonds will provide for the payment of interest, if earned, at a rate not exceeding 6% per annum and for their redemption at the option of the Terminal Co. as follows: On or before Aug. 1 1908 at 70%, with interest accrued, if any, and thereafter at an increase of 2½% of the principal for each succeeding semi-annual interest day, until the redemption price shall reach 110% of the principal, and thereafter for one year at 110% of the principal and said accrued interest, if any.

It is the intention of your committee that the said consolidated bonds deposited by you be exchanged at par of principal for said new bonds.

If an adequate offer is made by the City of New York to the New York Terminal Co., it may sell to the city all or part of the property and utilize such part of the proceeds as may be required to redeem the said new bonds in the manner provided in the mortgage.

All depositing bondholders who dissent may withdraw their bonds from participation in this plan by paying their proportionate share of the expenses incurred to the date hereof, and withdrawing their bonds within thirty days from the date hereof, otherwise they shall be deemed to have expressly consented to the action of the committee.—V. 86, p. 422.

Consolidated Steamship Lines.—$47,000,000 4% Collateral Trust Gold Bonds Deposited.—There have been deposited with the Krech committee $47,000,000 of the above-named bonds. On and after April 6, further deposits will be subject to charge of two-tenths of 1% to reimburse the committee for advertising expenses.—V. 86, p. 796.

De Long Hook & Eye Co., Philadelphia.—Dividend Reduced.—The directors on March 19 declared a quarterly dividend of 1½% on the $1,000,000 stock (par $10), payable April 1 to holders of record March 21. From July 1905 to Jan. 2 1908 2½% was paid every three months. The "Philadelphia News Bureau" says:

The company has paid since organization in May 1900 30 quarterly dividends, aggregating $750,000, in addition to the dividend just declared, amounting to $15,000, making a total of $765,000, or over 76% on the capital stock.—V. 84, p. 999.

(E. I.) du Pont de Nemours Powder Co., Wilmington, Del.—Change in Time for Declaration of Dividend on Common Stock.—The directors have declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¼% on the preferred stock, payable April 25 to holders of record April 15. The time for the declaration of the next dividend on the common shares has been changed from April 1 to May 27, as appears from the following announcement.

The regular quarterly meeting of the directors has been changed from first Wednesday in January, April, July and October to the last Wednesday in February, May, August and November, so that the declaration of dividend on the common stock will not come up until the next quarterly meeting, which is on May 27. V. 86, p. 667.

Empire Oil & Development Co., New York.—Bonds Authorized.—The shareholders have authorized an issue of $4,000,000 6% 10-year first mortgage bonds, to provide, it is said, for developing property owned by the company in California. See V. 86, p. 723.

International Paper Co.—Preferred Dividend Reduced from 6% to 4% Basis.—The directors on Wednesday declared a quarterly dividend of 1% on the $22,406,700 (6% cumulative preferred stock, payable April 15 on stock of record April 9. From organization in July 1898 to Jan. 15 1908 inclusive, the preferred shares received their full 6% per annum. In 1898 1% and in 1899 2% was paid on the common stock. An official statement says:

Although the earnings have been well maintained and would warrant the declaration of the usual dividend on the preferred stock, the directors, in view of the general business depression, have decided that a conservative policy in the interest of the stockholders justifies a temporary reduction in the cumulative dividend in order that important improvements to the plant may be completed and the finances of the company maintained in a strong position.—V. 86, p. 423.

Lindsay Light Co., Chicago.—Dividends.—This company which previously made monthly distributions to its stock holders, paid its last dividend, 2%, in February 1908. An officer writes: "Further dividends deferred until June 1, from which date they will be paid quarterly."—V. 86, p. 112.

Majestic Copper Co.—Interest Payment Deferred.—The directors have voted to defer for a short time the payment of interest on the $514,000 7% bonds due April 1. Important plans, it is asserted, are pending.—V. 79, p. 2150.

Marquette (Mich.) Gas Light Co.—Called Bonds.—Bonds No. 78 and 103 called for redemption will be paid at the American Trust & Savings Bank, Chicago, on May 1 at 105 and interest.—V. 79, p. 273.

Nashville (Tenn.) Gas Co.—Management Re-elected.—At the annual meeting on March 11 the old management, headed by President D. S. Williams, was re-elected by a vote of 6,176 shares.

The opposition vote was 4,756 shares, the total capital stock consisting of 11,500 shares of $100 each, or $1,150,000. A report submitted by President Williams shows total net earnings for 1907 of $93,519, a gain of $11,600 over 1906; "total value of manufactured products," $349,099, an increase of $29,679. Dividends have been paid at the rate of 6% per annum for some time past. No bonds.—V. 86, p. 340.

National Candy Co.—Earnings for Calendar Years.—Whitaker & Co., St. Louis, report as follows:

To obtain the locomotives and cars necessary for their immediate requirements, the Michigan Central Railroad Company, together with the New York Central & Hudson River Railroad Company, the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railway Company, the Cleveland Cincinnati Chicago & St. Louis Railway Company and the Chicago Indiana & Southern Railroad Company, has become a party to an equipment trust agreement and lease, dated November 1 1907, known as "New York Central Lines Equipment Trust of 1907." This agreement provides for an issue of $30,000,000 of equipment trust certificates; being ninety per cent of the total cost of the equipment to be furnished under the terms of said agreement. The cost of the equipment to be leased under the terms of the agreement by this company will approximate $4,200,000. Certificates representing ninety per cent of the cost of the equipment delivered prior to December 31 1907, to all of the railroad companies parties to the agreement, were issued, and this Company purchased $1,357,959 72 of such certificates. Delivery of the balance of the locomotives and cars to be furnished under the "trust" agreement will be made during 1908, and the annual report for that year will contain full particulars concerning the character and cost of the equipment.

An agreement was entered into between this company and The Pullman Company providing for Pullman car service for twenty-five years from January 1st 1905; also an agreement with The Western Union Telegraph Company providing for telegraph service for thirty years from January 1st 1906. These contracts supersede all prior agreements with those companies, and are more favorable in their terms to the railroad company.

| Balance December 31 1907 | $9,131,127 34 |

The gross earnings were $28,547,109 94, an increase of $2,271,521 81 over the previous year.

The freight earnings were $19,926,803 28, an increase of $1,276,573 72. This was due to an increased movement in nearly all commodities.

The passenger earnings were $6,541,102 67, an increase of $612,228 65, due to a general increase in both local and interline business.

The express earnings were $1,241,632 68, an increase of $340,217 68.

Earnings from transportation of mails were $429,173 16, a decrease of $25,421 08, due to decreased compensation allowed by the United States Post Office Department from July 1 1907.

The expenses of operation were $23,131,750 65, an increase of $1,401,486 66.

This increase is largely due to the higher cost of material, and the increase in rates of pay for labor.

Maintenance of way and structures showed an increase of $1,502,734 11.

Maintenance of equipment decreased $1,472,301 22.

Conducting transportation increased $1,362,266 28.

The principal fluctuations were as follows:

"Fuel for locomotives," increase $276,971 51.
"Superintendence," increase $45,191 47.
"Loss and damage," increase $143,989 71.
"Car mileage and per diem," increase $31,016 94.
"Injuries to persons," increase $116,633 90.
"Engine and roundhouse men," increase $158,883 75.
"Switching charges," increase $72,462 34.
"Station service," increase $156,793 11.
*"Outside agencies," increase $120,785 41.
"Train service," increase $38,184 20.
"Train supplies and expenses," increase $45,119 16.
"Switchmen, flagmen and watchmen," increase $128,341 02.

* Changes in method of book-keeping account for a large portion of this increase.

The heavier general expenses are largely due to increase in clerical force and to expenses occasioned by the additional requirements as to reports, &c., for the Inter-State Commerce and State Commissions.

The net earnings were $5,415,359 29, an increase of $870,035 15.

Other income was $702,518 99, an increase of $300,515 14, due to increased revenue from securities and interest on advances.

First charges, $4,388,512 80, increased $429,012 33, the prinicpal items being interest on additional bonds issued, and interest on loans.

The profit from operation for the year, after payment of 8% in dividends upon the capital stock, was $230,325 48, which has been carried to the credit of Profit and Loss.

The gross earnings were $26,447,804 27, an increase of $1,852,888 45.

The freight earnings were $17,238,347 59, an increase of $1,554,614 54, due to the large increase in coal traffic from the Cairo Division and to a general increase in other commodities handled.

The passenger earnings were $7,127,049 44, an increase of $163,185 21. The local earnings show a decrease of 2% and the interline an increase of 11%.

The express earnings were $849,998 84, an increase of $203,231 83, due to increased business and increased compensation.

The mail earnings were $741,728 05, a decrease of $40,848 97, due to decreased Government allowance from July 1 1907.

The rent earnings were $464,533 10, a decrease of $23,193 32, due chiefly to decreased rentals received from foreign roads.

The expenses of operation were $20,133,629 21, an increase of $1,700,915 88.

Maintenance of way and structures showed an increase of $146,260 75, due to increased track mileage, increase in rail renewals and increase in rate of wages.

Maintenance of equipment showed an increase of $636,071 03, due to increased equipment, increase in rate of wages and to heavier general repairs.

Other income was $186,543 73, a decrease of $22,025 26, due principally to decreased interest earned from notes and deposits.

First charges were $4,527,501 35, a net increase of $221,461 43. The principal fluctuations consisted of an increase in interest on funded debt, due to the issue of additional bonds, increased taxes and increased interest on loans.

The net income for the year, after paying first charges, was $1,973,217 44, out of which was paid a dividend of 5% on preferred stock and 3% on common stock, leaving a surplus for the year of $61,528 44.

An agreement was entered into between this Company and the Pullman Company, providing for Pullman car service for twenty-five years from January 1st 1905; also an agreement with the Western Union Telegraph Company providing for telegraph service for thirty years from January 1st, 1906. These contracts supersede all prior agreements with those companies, and are more favorable in their terms to the railroad company.

The Mt. Gilead Short Line (for which separate accounts are kept) shows earnings for the year $6,081 27, operating expenses and taxes $7,026 50, deficit $945 23.

Speculation in cotton for future delivery, though not at all active, has been dominated on the whole by bullish influences, and prices show some advance for the week. The idea has been very general, apart from other considerations, that after the recent severe decline a rally was due, an idea re-enforced by the fact that a large short interest seemed to exist in some of the months, particularly in July. Moreover, the Liverpool market has shown greater activity on the spot, the Continent has been buying there and more than once the unexpected firmness of the English quotations has set the pace for a New York rise. And spot markets at the South have been in the main firm, particularly for the better grades, despite some increase at times in the receipts and reports from time to time that it was somewhat difficult to dispose of the lower grades. The statistics, too, have been in the main of an encouraging kind to the believers in higher prices, showing a much greater decrease in the visible supply of all kinds of cotton than at the corresponding period last year and some increase recently in the spinners, takings, which has not been without its effect, despite the admitted fact that there is a considerable deficit in the total of such takings for the season thus far. The smallness of the Bombay movement has also had some influence and of late the weather at the South has become colder. The weather news has had no very great effect but it has, nevertheless, been remarked upon, and the time is approaching when it may possibly have a more direct bearing upon quotations. Of late, too, Liverpool has been buying here pretty steadily and also certain prominent spot interests, while some of the local operators have been rather aggressive on the bull side. The South at times has also bought, some of the purchases being against sales in New Orleans. The belief among some of the bulls that the trade of the country is gradually improving has also counted for not a little in their attitude towards the market, while it is also contended that unless the receipts increase very materially, there is every likelihood that by the first of September the visible supply in this country will be reduced to a very low stage. Meantime, however, speculation contnues quiet. Nothing seems to be able to revive it. In other words, it remains for the most part a narrow, professional affair and the belief of most people is that it must remain so unless something new and striking is injected into it in the shape of bad weather, a crop reverse, or something no less pronounced, which shall have the power to dispel popular indifference and bring about a return of former activity and widespread interest. To-day prices advanced, owing partly to unexpected firmness in Liverpool, liberal spot sales there and European buying. Cold weather, some Southern purchases, local covering and buying by commission houses also had more or less effect. Spot cotton has been dull. Middling uplands closed at 10.50c.

The rates on and off middling, as established Sept. 11 1907 by the Revision Committee, at which grades other than middling may be delivered on contract, are as follows:

JUTE BUTTS, BAGGING, &c.—The market for jute bagging has been without animation the past week. Prices, 7¼ cents per yard for 2-lb. domestic bagging and 6½ cents per yard for re-woven and inferior foreign. Jute butts dull at 2@3 cents per lb. for bagging quality.

NEW YORK COTTON GRADES.—Further Eliminations.—With the elimination of strict low middling stained from among the official grades of the New York Cotton Exchange it is believed that everything within reason has been done to silence criticism of that body and its future-delivery contract. Up to the time of the beginning of the agitation for a cutting down of the number of grades officially sanctioned by the Exchange and a bettering and simplification of its option contract, there were in all thirty full or fractional grades into which cotton was classed by the classification committee. Some time ago eleven of the fractional grades, including some stains and tinges, were done away with, and on Wednesday of the current week strict low middling stained was eliminated.

The result has been to reduce to eighteen the number of grades tenderable, with good ordinary the lowest in value. The list as it now stands comprises seven grades above middling, the price basis, which call for premiums ranging from ¼ of a cent to 1¾ cents upon the middling quotation, nine grades below the official standard of quality upon which discounts varying from 1-5 of a cent to 2 cents are allowed, and one grade good middling tinged, which classes on a parity in value with middling.

It is worthy of mention in this connection that the New York Cotton Exchange is stated to be practically the only body classing cotton up to the American standard adopted some twenty years ago, and we have the authority of one of the best versed cotton merchants for the statement that its contract is now unassailable, being virtually the best.

MANCHESTER MARKET.—Our report received by cable to-night from Manchester states that the market continues quiet for both yarns and shirtings. The demand for both yarn and cloth is poor. We give the prices for to-day below and leave those for previous weeks of this and last year for comparison.

BREADSTUFFS.

Friday, April 3 1908.

Prices for wheat flour have been steady as a rule, though at times the tone of the market has been somewhat easier, owing to continued stagnation of trade and an easier market for wheat. What changes have occurred, however, have been largely nominal, though it has been reported at times that sales have been made at prices lower than those ruling in the open market. Export business has been at a standstill not only here but also at the large milling centres of the Northwest and the Southwest. The output of spring-wheat flour last week showed a material reduction. Rye flour has been dull and easier. Corn meal has been dull and steady.

Wheat has declined, mainly owing to rains in Kansas, where they were much needed. Prices have been dictated very largely of late by weather conditions, at times advancing, owing to reports of drought in parts of Kansas and Nebraska, colder weather and a blizzard at the Northwest, light receipts there and elsewhere and a better milling demand, especially at the Southwest. The two most prominent factors of late have been the reports of damage by drought in the Southwest and small receipts. On the other hand, however, the Argentine shipments have been large, despite repeated predictions of a decided decrease with which America has been favored for some time past. The foreign markets have not responded to drought reports from this country, but have been very evidently under the influence of big Argentine shipments and a favorable crop outlook in most parts of Europe. Moreover, the flour trade in this country has continued dull, and millers as a rule are buying only from hand to mouth. A rather striking corroboration of this is the fact that although the Northwestern receipts have fallen off sharply, stocks at Minneapolis during the week have increased 100,000 bushels. Then, too, despite the reports of damage to the crop in the Southwest, not only by dry weather but also by bugs, reports not without the suspicion at times of sensationalism, the crop advices in the main have been favorable. The plant is making good progress and the outlook appears to be improving. It is said, too, that the spring-wheat crop will be planted under better conditions than have existed for some years past. To-day prices were firm for a time, owing to better cables than had been expected, continued dry weather in Nebraska and parts of Kansas, bullish crop reports from some parts of the Southwest and light offerings and receipts. Commission houses bought and shorts covered. But later on prices weakened, owing to predictions of showers for the Southwest, large Argentine shipments, favorable crop reports from most sections, dulness of the cash market, bearish pressure and liquidation.

Indian corn futures have been easier in the main, though the fluctuations in prices have been confined within a comparatively narrow range. But the grading has shown a noteworthy improvement of late, and shorts show less nervousness. Cash interests, too, have sold to some extent at times, and leading bulls at Chicago are believed to have reduced their holdings. The cash market has been dull. Crop reports from the Southwest have been very favorable as a rule, and ground is being broken in the more northern sections for the new crop. Liverpool has been weak at times. Larger shipments from Argentine are expected in the near future. To-day prices were easier, owing to the depression in wheat favorable weather and crop reports, dulness of the cash trade and liquidation.

Oats for future delivery in the Western market have been somewhat easier, though as the trading has been extremely dull the changes in prices from day to day have been unimportant. Prominent Chicago interests are believed to be still committed to the long side, especially of the May option. From present appearances, however, the deliveries on May contracts are likely to be heavy, as stocks of contract grade at Chicago are already relatively heavy and elevator concerns there are manufacturing contract oats in considerable volume. The cash trade has been dull. Unfavorable reports in regard to the new-crop prospects have had little effect. To-day prices were easier, owing to favorable weather, reports of Argentine shipments to this country and liquidation.

New York, Friday Night, April 3 1908.

The process of readjustment continued in the cotton goods market during the past week and materially lower prices were named on several lines. In some instances, owing to reselling by second hands, levels were reached which agents refused to consider, but in other cases the reductions were made by manufacturers themselves in an effort to attract business. In this they were partially successful, for not only were inquiries larger but the volume of sales showed an appreciable increase over that of the past few weeks. There is a feeling that some classes of goods have now been marked down as low as can reasonably be expected, even after the decline in the price of the raw material and the general wage reductions have been taken into consideration; in others, however, there is still room for revision, and in the opinion of many this is bound to come. An indication of what may be expected is the fact that manufacturers have been willing to ship goods on memorandum, to be paid for at the prevailing price when the goods are sold. Curtailment, particularly in the South, is even more drastic than it has been in the recent past and some mills have closed down indefinitely; it is estimated that not more than 70% of the cotton-mill machinery of the country is now in operation. The bookings by mills during the first quarter of the year are variously estimated at from 30 to 40% of the normal quantity, but sales by jobbers during the same period were probably in the neighborhood of 75% of normal. Many contracts for goods will expire during the current month and this is leading agents to look for a larger business. Collections generally are good, but in some districts, notably the Southwest, they are not satisfactory. The woolen and worsted goods market continues quiet.

The value of these New York exports since Jan. 1 has been $2,852,901 in 1908, against $3,979,653 in 1907.

Some very low prices have been named on heavy brown drills and sheetings, but in spite of this the volume of business passing has been very small. Four-yard sheetings are again lower and there has been some improvement in the inquiries for these and for lighter-weight drills and sheetings. The export trade has been very dull, principally owing to the continued decline in prices, which has unsettled the minds of exporters, and rumors of a sale of $2,500,000 of goods to China by one mill have been denied in the local market. There have been some re-orders for bleached goods for quick shipment, but buying for future delivery has been at a standstill. Trading is very slow in coarse, colored cotton goods, but there are still some contracts to be filled and mills are shipping small quantities of goods all the time. Linings are in quiet demand at unchanged quotations. Buying of domets and other napped goods has continued on a moderate scale, as it is felt that the prices asked are about as low as they are likely to go. Discounts on prints have been widened and goods are being shipped on memorandum, indicating that there may be some further revision on these goods in the near future; in the meantime the demand for staples is generally poor, but there has been some purchasing of fancies. Ginghams move slowly, but for the moment there are no signs of any price changes. Print cloths have again been reduced and regulars are now quoted nominally at 3¼c. Standard gray goods have been sold at 4¼c. and at the lower levels established there has been more general inquiry.

WOOLEN GOODS.—The men's wear woolen and worsted goods market has been extremely quiet during the week and more attention has been paid to the delivering of sample pieces than to the selling of goods. There have been some few duplicate orders, but the whole situation at the present time depends upon the retailer, and his position will hardly be disclosed until more definite knowledeg has been secured of the amount of spring business. Should this be nearly normal, buyers will have more confidence in placing orders for the fall, and re-ordering in the primary market would, of necessity, have to be unusually heavy, owing to the small amount of orders placed during the initial buying period. In the meantime curtailment is not only being continued but is increasing, the latest mill to shut down being the Wanskuck. There is still a fair demand for spring goods, but, as in the recent past, it is confined almost exclusively to goods which are already sold out or nearly so; this has resulted in buyers being forced to take other lines than those they wanted and in this way business is becoming more evenly distributed and the whole situation healthier. In dress goods buyers at the present time are more occupied in getting out their spring goods than in ordering for fall, although the volume of business already placed in heavy-weights is quite satisfactory. Some attention has been given to cloakings but the demand will not become active until spring trade is further under way.

FOREIGN DRY GOODS.—Some importers of woolen and worsted dress goods have announced important price reductions and it is expected that this will affect domestic manufactures, if continued. There has been little doing in silks or ribbons. Linen prices are still firm for goods already on this side, but buyers are looking for reductions in the future. Burlaps are slightly easier.

News Items.

Des Moines, Iowa.—New Commission Plan of Government Declared Constitutional.—The constitutionality of the new form of city government which the people approved at the election held June 20 1907, and which we outlined in V. 85, p. 113, was unanimously affirmed by the Supreme Court of the State of Iowa on Feb. 18. The opinion, which was written by Judge Charles A. Bishop, is very lengthy and overrules every contention of the opponents of the plan. The city, it is stated, will now proceed to elect five commissioners, to be composed of the Mayor and four Councilmen, and who will take charge of all the business and discharge all of the duties of managing the affairs of the municipal corporation.

Eau Claire, Wis.—Water-Works Litigation.—The Milwaukee "Evening Wisconsin" of Feb. 26 has the following to say in connection with the ruling of the Supreme Court regarding the purchase of the water-works by the city:

Eau Claire, Wis., Feb. 25.—(Special).—Eau Claire has, it is thought, won out in the water-works case after the Supreme court last week ordered the case tried on its merits in the lower courts. Judge Vinje of Superior has decided that Eau Claire has the right to take over the water-works plant at the price specified by the appraisers—$253,000. The case will again be appealed, this time by the attorneys for the water-works company and the Farmers Loan & Trust Company of New York. The city has the $253,000 which was raised by $200,000 in bonds and $53,000 by taxation.

Florida.—Amendments to State Constitution.—The Legislature, prior to adjournment on May 31 1907, adopted resolutions proposing three amendments to the State Constitution to be voted on this November. One of these relates to the salaries of the Justices of the Supreme Court, Circuit Court Judges and Judges of Criminal Courts of Record. Another relates to the establishments of Courts. The third amends Article 12 of the Constitution and provides for a special tax of one mill on the dollar of all taxable property in the State for the support and maintenance of the University of Florida, the Florida Female College, the Institute for the Blind, Deaf and Dumb, and the Colored Normal School. If approved by the people, the following will be known as Section 16 of Article 12:

Section 16. A special tax of one mill on the dollar of all taxable property in the State shall be levied annually for the support and maintenance of the Universty of Florida, the Florida Female College, the Institute for the Blind, Deaf and Dumb and the Colored Normal School, which shall be paid to the State Treasurer and set apart by him to the credit of the State Board of Education, to be apportioned and disposed of for the benefit of said institutions as required by the Act creating and maintaining the same, known as Chapter 5384 of the Laws of Florida, approved June 5, 1905

Greenville, Greenville County, So. Car.—Bonds Declared Valid.—The Charleston "News and Courier" of March 28 has the following to say regarding the decision of the State Supreme Court in a friendly suit brought by Thackston & Son to test the validity of the $18,000 5% refunding bonds awarded to them (V. 86, p. 620) on Feb. 26:

Columbia, March 27. (Special). The Supreme Court this afternoon filed an opinion dismissing the petition for an injunction in the case of John M. Jordan against the city of Greenville, in which it was sought to restrain the sale of certain bonds. The case is similar to that of Thackston against the city of Greenville, which was recently decided in the same way by the Supreme Court.

In Feb. 1888 the city of Greenville issued $18,000 in bonds for the purpose of erecting graded school buildings and the bonds were to run for twenty years, falling due this year. The city council passed a resolution to make another issue of bonds to refund these school bonds, and the issue was made and placed on the market. Mr. Jordan, a taxpayer, brought suit to restrain the sale, and the Court now dismisses his petition for an injunction.

The grounds in the petition were in the main that there had been no election on the bond issue, but the Court holds, as in the Thackston case, that the city may issue bonds to refund outstanding maturing bonds without an election when it is so authorized by its charter. The validity of the new bond issue, is thus established, the suit being a friendly action.

Kansas City, Kan.—Park Law Held Valid.—Justice Benson of the Kansas Supreme Court handed down a decision on Feb. 8 declaring valid and constitutional the Act passed by the last Legislature (Chapter 85, Laws of 1907) relative to the establishment of a Board of Park Commissioners in cities of the first class having a population of more than fifty thousand, for the acquisition, maintenance, improvement and regulation of public parks, playgrounds, parkways, boulevards, streets, bridges, viaducts, public buildings, grounds and places. Under the law the board is authorized to levy an annual tax of not to exceed one-half a mill on the dollar on all taxable property of the city to create a general park fund to be used by them in carrying out the provisions of this Act. In order to obtain funds for various improvements the board has the authority to sell, at not less than par, negotiable bonds of the city in a sum not to exceed the estimated cost of the proposed improvement.

The case reached the Supreme Court on appeal from the District Court of Wyandotte County, where the bonds were declared valid by Judge McCabe Moore in a suit brought by H. F. Wulf and others.

According to the Kansas City "Star," the only portion of the law not upheld by the Court is that provision which makes the term of office of the Park Commissioners six years. This is declared void because of a constitutional prohibition that officers must not be appointed for more than four years. The court holds, however, that this does not invalidate the law, as the term of office is made optional with the appointing power, and the Commissioners may hold their positions as long as the Mayor sees fit to appoint them.

Maryland.—Legislature Adjoins.—The 1908 Legislature of this State adjourned March 30 after a session of ninety days, the limit prescribed by law.

North Dakota.—Amendments to State Constitution.—At the 1907 session of the Legislature resolutions were adopted providing for three amendments to the State Constitution, to be voted on at the next general election in November. One of these relates to the number of judges of the Supreme Court, another pertains to the sale of State lands, while another proposal amends Section 162 of the Constitution and prescribes the manner in which moneys of the State Permanent School Fund and other educational funds shall be invested. If approved by the people, this Section will read as given herewith:

SECTION 162. The moneys of the permanent school fund and other educational funds shall be invested only in bonds of school corporations or of counties, or of townships, or of municipalities within the State, bonds issued for the construction of drains under authority of law within the State, bonds of the United States, bonds of the State of North Dakota, bonds of other States; provided such States have never repudiated any of their indebtedness, or on first mortgages on farm lands in this State not exceeding in amount one-third of the actual value of any sub division on which the same may be loaned, such value to be determined by the Board of Appraisal of School Lands.

For comparison we give below this section as it now stands:

SECTION 162. The moneys of the permanent school fund and other educational funds shall be invested only in bonds of school corporations within the State, bonds of the United States, bonds of the State of North Dakota, or in first mortgages on farm lands in the State, not exceeding in amount one-third of the actual value of any sub-division on which the same may be loaned, such value to be determined by the Board of Appraisers of School Funds.

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.

The current week may, we assume, be called epochal —containing within its cycle a time of good omen, marked by events of better outlook and promise. A conference of "negro Americans" at which there were delegates from thirty-seven States, held in Philadelphia, closed their meeting on Wednesday, after adopting a set of resolutions in which they declared their convictions that neither President Roosevelt nor Secretary Taft can or will be supported by the negro voters of the United States; while stating also that the convention favored either Senator Foraker or Senator Knox. We record this incident, not by any means as having a determining influence in the Presidential election, but as probably of weight, perhaps, in Ohio, and possibly in other Northern States where the number of negroes is large. On the same day a possible straw of the opposite complexion was the Republican convention in Virginia, which in a very pronounced manner resented any affiliation with that race.

An improving impulse in business circles was an especially favorable report of the winter-wheat prospects issued by the Agricultural Department, it being looked upon as a factor of interest in future freight business offering railroads. Of still greater moment, if the hope is realized, is the idea that prevails in political circles that an advance in railroad freight rates is likely to take place not long hence. This latter thought is urged as a kind of necessity to ward off railroad insolvency, it being widely threatened by the close economies railroads are practicing, enforced thereto by the condition of earnings, the gross receipts not leaving sufficient revenue to meet necessary outgoes. To keep the roads going concerns and to bridge this chasm, the managers, under the combination of the alarming circumstances of the situation, are being forced to stop every piece of work that can wait.

It so happens that this industry, which is thus made to face insolvency, is the chief in size, the most prominent in sources of inherent activity, and the basis of many more other branches of trade than any other single industry in the land. It means much when we say that such a multipotent agent is being set to work exercising its ingenuity to its utmost limit, devising means to keep itself alive. For that is just what it does, and does it automatically, as every living thing does that is cornered, with its life at stake. One can get a pretty clear idea of what such economy stands for by recalling the events of the two previous years and noting what railroad expansion did for the country's activities. Reverse that development, and what do we have? All those sources of work are gradually being dried up.

Remember, likewise, that while the retrenchment in industrial affairs is going on and labor is being discharged, the elections are approaching. We say that because a good many think there is no reason in the suggestion of higher rates for the railroads. They tell us that Mr. Roosevelt will not allow it. There are some things that even the Almighty cannot reverse. Two and two will always make four, and never five. Is it not short sighted for any who has had the experience of Mr. Roosevelt's political methods to assert that he will see all we have recalled transpiring without attempting to stop it? Or, say he does the other thing; suppose he takes his big stick and puts up a fight against the inevitable. We hardly need say that course can only make a bad situation worse. He is President, and no doubt has sources of power no one else has. Does our country's history tell us of any election which an existing Administration carried against a big industrial decay in progress? Not one! Besides, any appearance of compulsion would prove a poor recourse even as a bare suggestion in this free country, and would avail little.

It may be, some will claim, insolvency is not an inevitable event. Look at the evidence. Note first the changes in earnings. Study each recurring month's reports. Start with the first month subsequent to the panic. There is evident a constantly developing decline. Nearly every one was preaching before the new year opened that with the first of January there would be a turn. There has been no such re-action. Instead of that, the losses in earnings have increased. There can be no turn except by a process that strikes at the root of the disease. It is, too, a case where there is a constantly increasing irritant. Every day and every month while this situation of an insufficient income to cover the outgoes continues, the strain must be more tense. What would that mean in the case of an individual? It must be just the same, only greater with the railroad. But, says the objector, when the crops begin to move there will be more freight offering and necessarily more earnings to divide among the carriers.

That is a comforting thought, no doubt; it would be, though, of more importance if election came next year instead of in 1908. Then, too, a fact to be remembered, is that the amount of losses in earnings is so great that the chasm to be filled is a big one, especially as the old left-over stocks of wheat (the only crop that will begin to be marketed before election) is remarkably small, and that wheat promises to sell at a lower price than last year's crop, and will move presumably later and in smaller volume.

Fortunately Mr. Harriman has, we presume, saved the Erie road from a receivership. In doing it he has taken a heavy load from off the market and ought to receive the gratitude of the public for what he has attempted. Just at this time it would have been a disaster of no small proportions to have had the road pass through its natural course; for it was inevitably and boldly heading towards a condition in which its revenue came short of its outgoes. Consequently, at this juncture the holders of the notes which had become due, finding no funds to meet them, and the holders having apparently determined not to extend the notes, the tender of cash to take them up relieved the market for the time being, so that the Erie securities led a material advance which the general market followed along the same lines. As to the future of the Erie road, it is still somewhat of an enigma. Not all its trials interfering with prosperity have been sur mounted. But Mr. Harriman is a many-sided man of great practical ability, of large experience, and commanding abundant capital. It is not, he says, his desire or intention to take the property as his or to take charge of its destiny. At the moment, however, it would seem as if such a course was an inevitable one. Later, it may be found and acknowledged that the Inter-State Commerce and Public Utilities statutes control the situation. When that stage in public opinion is reached we shall be fairly on the road to another cycle of prosperity.

A political event of the week which may possibly have some influence upon the Governmental policy of Great Britain was the elevation of Mr. Asquith from the position of Chancellor of the Exchequer to the Premiership, as the result of the resignation of Mr. Bannerman. There have recently been more or less serious losses to the Liberal Party, due to popular protests against the licensing bill which Mr. Asquith sought to carry through the Commons. If this measure shall continue to be advocated by the new Premier, he may thereby alienate his supporters in the Liberal Party and thus weaken his administration. Perhaps, though, his elevation to higher honors will cause him to see a new light and disclose the dangers which may result from the legislation he advocated as Chancellor of the Exchequer. Such legislation, Lord Rothschild has, it is said, publicly declared, would inevitably be followed by a panic, for it would subject 250,000 persons to losses of the gravest kind through the extinction of licenses for the conduct of business in liquors and beer. While Great Britain has been, and possibly still may be, thus threatened with legislation of a disturbing character, France and Germany are in a state of political unrest through the attempted enforcement of new Governmental policies. The effort to press consideration of the Income Tax bill in the French Parliament despite opposition by all classes of investors is one of the causes for the depression on the Bourse, and the feeling of hostility to M. Clemenceau, who presented the measure, is so great that it is intimated it may compel his retirement from the Premiership. In Germany discussion in the Reichstag of the Government bill for a revision of the Bourse law, which has been harmful to trading in time contracts in securities for many years, and of the measure to regulate, through Imperial law, the right of assembly and association—both of which bills have now been passed—evoked much opposition during their consideration, which had a disturbing effect tending to the development of a pessimistic feeling in the markets. With unsettling legislation in Great Britain seemingly threatened, and party lines closely drawn in the French and the German parliaments, over measures of such a character as to check the natural tendency to recovery from the effects abroad of our late crisis, it is not surprising that public attention should converge upon these political causes for unrest, and that a popular demand should be created for the adoption of Governmental policies of a less repressive character, or the abandonment of such as are of a destructive nature, similar to those that are sought by our Executive to be enforced.

The condition of almost absolute inertia in the exchange market early this week and the practically unaltered rate for sterling at Paris on London allayed any apprehensions, if, indeed, such existed, of exports hence to Paris of gold as an arbitration operation. Moreover, the apparent absence of demand for German exchange seemed to indicate that neither our bankers nor investors were interested in the negotiation of the new German loans which were offered at Berlin to-day (Saturday, April 11). These loans appear to be regarded, at least by our foreign exchange bankers, as almost wholly domestic issues. There may be subscriptions by Parisian or British bankers, in order to secure a profit through the sale of the allotments, or by European investors because of the attractive character of the issues. It is thought probable that this will be the extent of the participation by others than Germans. The rate for exchange at Berlin on London during the week did not disclose a condition favorable to the attraction of gold from the British capital; hence it was concluded that no active preparations were being made in Germany for the emission of the loans.

A rumor was current early in the week that the Secretary of the Treasury would speedily call upon the national bank depositories for the surrender of 50 millions of public funds. The rumor failed to have even a sentimental effect upon the market for money, indicating that the congestion was of such a character as to cause it to be unrelievable through the process of contraction in supply. There are now about 191 millions of public funds in the banks; probably the majority of such deposits is in institutions in the large centres, for those in our local banks were, as last reported, 43½ millions. The recall of 50 millions, if such should be the amount required, would most likely be apportioned among the banks at the chief centres, where congestion is greatest, because of concentration therein of unemployable balances of correspondents in the interior zones. Therefore, until monetary activity shall begin to develop as the result of an increased demand on account of trade and speculative requirements, it seems improbable that the recall of public funds would make much impression upon rates for money at the principal centres, and hence such recall should not give rise to apprehensions of monetary derangement.

Governor Hughes, taking his cue from President Roosevelt, as he always does, recommends among other things in the special message which he has this week sent to the Legislature the making of an investigation into the subject of speculation in stocks and commodities. It will be remembered that in the extraordinary special message which President Roosevelt transmitted to Congress on Jan. 31, indulging in wholesale denunciations and wholesale recommendations of legislation, in the same manner that Mr. Hughes now does, he declaimed very strongly against speculation, and suggested denial of the use of the telegraph and the telephone to those engaged in speculative operations. The echo of that utterance is found in Mr. Hughes's message of this week. Mr. Hughes makes the statement that there are questions which it is important should form the subject of authoritative investigation. He says these questions "are closely related to the welfare of the people, and cannot be dealt with satisfactorily unless the conditions are accurately known and carefully studied." He accordingly recommends that provision be made by commissions, serving without compensation but with proper appropriations for expenses, for suitable inquiry into these questions, foremost among which he places the following: "The facts relating to speculation in securities and commodities with a view to ascertaining the manner in which illegitimate transactions may be prevented and legitimate business safeguarded." We venture to suggest that no such inquiry or investigation is at all necessary. It so happened that on the evening of the day when Mr. Hughes's recommendation was read in the Legislature, an address was delivered on the subject of the "Relation of Speculation to Business" before the New York Chapter of the American Institute of Banking. We suggest to Mr. Hughes that he read this address, which is one of the very best we have recently seen. If he is really seeking after knowledge and information on the subject, he cannot fail to receive a vast amount of enlightenment from the perusal of that paper.

The address referred to was delivered by Collin Armstrong, the editor of the "Wall Street Summary" and formerly financial editor of "The Sun" of this city. Mr. Armstrong goes into the past for the genesis of speculation. He finds, as is the case to-day, that every act or move in human life has been based upon expectation, which means, as he well says, that there is an element of uncertainty in every human undertaking. It was with a view of making his own future more certain and more comfortable that the savage sought to produce from the soil, or from the chase, more than enough for his own immediate needs. He began to be forehanded for himself and then for others, for the days of bartering had begun to dawn, and men had begun to discover their own varying capabilities and skilfulness. Mr. Armstrong traces the movement to the time of Aristotle and then comes down to the days when the Holland whalers used to contract for the sale of their return cargoes when they set out to get them. The real intention of these transactions was to minimize fluctuations. In the early days of England's great traffic with the East Indies, the cargoes to arrive, or portions of them, were dealt in in the form of warrants, which described the goods and their probable date of arrival. In this way, it was possible for merchants to anticipate their requirements, and the practice also enabled shipping interests and the importers to finance their operations.

Mr. Armstrong shows how these same ship-owners and merchants were responsible for the creation of a form of speculation that had not existed before their time, but which has since become one of the most important factors in commercial life, namely insurance. On account of the great risks that sailing vessels operated under in those days, these ship owners and merchants conceived the idea of pooling their interests to an extent by putting up a certain amount of money, each against his own interest, in the vessels and cargoes in transit, so that in case any loss was sustained, it would be divided pro rata among the group. This, as Mr. Armstrong states, was speculation in its simplest form, and also the simplest form of distributing risks and losses out of which our present comprehensive, perfect and economical system of insurance has been evolved. The practice of dealing in futures was the outgrowth of the same conditions, and received its greatest impetus with the development of steam transportation and the telegraph and the cable. Until the present facilities for transportation and communication were developed, the bulk of speculative transactions in commodities was based upon the probable profits in transferring these commodities from the places where they were the most abundant to others where they were needed. That is, opportunities of commerce consisted chiefly of bringing surplus supplies to localities where a deficit existed.

Now the markets and the great producing tracts of the world are so close to one another that the question of time, rather than distance, is the chief controlling factor. For example, the grain or cotton factor in Liverpool or in any other market is able from the data that come to him from day to day to form an estimate of the requirements of the various importing countries and of the probable supplies that the usual surplus-producing countries may furnish. Mr. Armstrong urges that it is the function, indeed practically the duty, of merchants, manufacturers, original buyers of products and middlemen to watch and take advantage of these conditions. If they had not the legitimate incentive of profit to do so, the world would be very badly served in the matter of supplying it with the necessaries of life. To take advantage, or to attempt to take advantage, of varying crop conditions, those who are engaged in feeding and clothing the world must obviously be in a position to make contracts for the purchase and sale of commodities for future delivery, each according to his own idea of the future. Then, as time goes on and the buyer may find that he has over-estimated the demand or under-estimated the supply, he is in a position to extricate himself by disposing of all or a part of his future contracts to those who may ultimately have need of the goods called for by the contracts, or, it may be, to those whose views of the future of the market are at variance with those of the seller.

Proceeding, the address urges that these varying views of markets, and of supply and demand, always exist and always will, and without them trading would be practically at a standstill, and it is perfectly legitimate for those who entertain these views to give expression to them by selling and buying, not only commodities, but merchandise of all kinds and also securities. By so doing losses are minimized and distributed in a declining market, and so are profits in a rising one. Nor does it make any difference that some of the sellers are not actual producers of the goods sold and some of the buyers are not actual manufacturers requiring raw material, or merchants engaged in distributing finished products. This class of dealers, who may be described as speculators pure and simple, perform the useful function of helping to steady the various markets either by purchasing when prices are in their judgment low enough or by selling when they believe prices are unwarrantably high. In all cases the buyer becomes possessed temporarily of the goods he buys. Speculators who in large numbers intervene between the actual producer and the ultimate consumer really take and bear the burden of the constant and great risks that exist between what may be described as the two terminal points in every industry. It is furthermore pointed out that speculation in commodities is not responsible for the fluctuations in their value. On the contrary, it is the absolutely natural fluctuations in them that invite speculation, and speculation in turn performs the valuable service for producers, manufacturers and consumers of bringing to bear upon the market an aggregation of intelligence, capital and divergent views that, according to statistics, has resulted in an almost constant narrowing of fluctuations in the great commodity markets.

We commend all these things to the consideration of Governor Hughes. Any commission that he might appoint, whether serving for pay or without pay, could ascertain no less and no commission could ascertain more. As Mr. Armstrong well says, efforts to prohibit speculation are almost as old as the hills and they have invariably failed. The thing to be dealt with is not exchanges or business systems and methods, but human nature. There is nothing to indicate that this latter is changing or is likely to change, and we are certain it can not be changed at the behest of our political leaders.

There are as yet no indications of any decided revival in the iron and steel trades. Producing interests this week, according to the accounts in the daily papers, again re-affirmed their determination not to lower, for the time being at least, the prices of finished products of iron and steel. Perhaps this policy has as much to recommend it as any other at the moment, seeing that so long as political assaults render it impossible to secure supplies of new capital for the railroads and keep the roads in poverty, with their revenues shrinking in a frightful way, any considerable increase in the demand for iron and steel must remain out of question in any event. Iron production, which lies at the basis of all other forms of iron and steel, certainly remains on a low basis. The "Iron Age" of this city has the present week made public its usual monthly compilations, and these show that, though the output in March was a little larger than in February, yet it was very small. Our contemporary makes the product for March, a month of 31 days, 1,228,204 tons, as against 1,077,740 tons for February, a short month, and 1,045,250 tons in January. The daily rate of output was 39,019 tons in March, against 37,163 tons per day in February. What little encouragement is to be drawn from this increase is neutralized by the fact that, through the blowing out of a number of furnaces in the last week in March, the capacity of the active furnaces April 1 was only 265,590 tons per week, as against 267,437 tons per week on March 1. Oct. 1 last the active capacity was 511,397 tons per week, and at earlier dates it was still larger. The fact appears to be, therefore, that the output now is only about 50% of what it was at the time of the financial upheaval last October.

The report on the condition of the winter grain crops for April 1 was issued by the Department of Agriculture on Wednesday and it indicated, as expected, a better general average of condition of winter wheat than on the corresponding date in 1907. But, more important still, the report furnishes evidence that the crop passed through the winter without experiencing the adverse conditions which were a feature in some important States the previous winter. The average of condition for the whole country at 91.3 is not materially higher than on April 1 1907, when 89.9 was the figure reported, but since Dec. 1 1907 an improvement of two-tenths of a point is indicated, whereas during the corresponding interval of the previous season deterioration of 4.2 points was noted. Moreover, the current April condition is higher than in 1906 and appreciably better than the average for the ten years, 1898 to 1907 inclusive. All things considered, therefore, we are permitted to conclude that winter wheat entered the spring in better shape to withstand the ordinacy vicissitudes of weather than the average.

As regards the condition in the various States, it is to be noted that in all cases where low percentages were reported last year the situation this season is vastly improved. Texas is most conspicuous in that respect, a condition of 95 this year comparing with 51 last year and a ten-year average of 79. Oklahoma records an improvement of 18 points over last year, the contrast being between 94 and 76; Michigan's current percentage is 90, against 81; condition in California April 1 was 88, against 80, and in Oregon 97, against 92. On the other hand, in Kansas the leading winter-wheat-producing State, containing nearly 20% of the total area devoted to that cereal, the April 1 condition is lower than a year ago, being reported at 95 against 99, but 5 points higher than the ten-year average. It is to be said, however, that unusual conditions last year caused a phenomenally rapid deterioration subsequent to the first of April—conditions not looked for this season. Nebraska is another important State showing a lower condition this year than last, but there also, and in Missouri as well, deterioration was much greater than normal in the two succeeding months last year. The details of the report will be found, with comparisons, in our breadstuffs department.

Reports issued under State supervision are well in accord in percentages of condition with the Department of Agriculture, but furnish other information quite essential at this juncture. The Missouri report, for instance, states that while wheat was not protected by any snow covering during most of the winter, it came through in good condition, owing to comparative freedom from alternate freezing and thawing weather. It is furthermore remarked that only a very few correspondents report damage from insects, although a number refer to some injury through lack of moisture. In Ohio the plant, though small, is reported to be in good condition and thriving. Advices from Oklahoma and Kansas are also encouraging, and the same may be said of winter-wheat growing localities quite generally.

The crop situation abroad, according to late advices, is fairly satisfactory. In Southern Europe winter growth has been favorable in the main. In more northern latitudes putting in of seed is now progressing well. The Argentine corn harvest is progressing satisfactorily, the yield being much the heaviest on record. In Australia, with favorable weather, seeding is progressing satisfactorily, and a large acreage is being devoted to wheat.

Various matters connected with cotton continue to engage the attention of the business and industrial world here and abroad. In this country, of course, the existing depression in the manufacturing trade and consequent reductions in wages and resort to short time, are the most general and absorbing topics of thought; but much interest is also centred on the attempts by legislation to cripple or entirely destroy the usefulness of the various cotton exchanges. That the wave of antagonism to these essential helps in the marketing of our leading agricultural product is on the wane seems to be evident, but it is far from being subdued, as is apparent from the amount of misinformation current. If we are to believe the advocates of the bill now pending in Congress, the greatest of evils is in some way or other intimately associated with cotton exchanges. The purpose of their organization is quite confidently asserted to be the robbery of the Southern planter, and this in face of the highly remunerative return received for cotton in recent years.

But among the more enlightened Southern cotton men such ideas do not obtain. We have heretofore drawn attention to what President Taylor, of the National Ginners' Association, had to say of the folly, and worse, of antagonistic State legislation, and the greater harm that would follow national enactments hampering or prohibiting the business of cotton exchanges. Our attention has recently been drawn to remarks along similar lines by Dr. R. V. Powers, a leading planter of Mississippi. In going over the situation at length with the representative of a New Orleans journal, Dr. Powers said that he, personally, felt the adverse effect and price-depressing influence of anti-option legislation. He regretted that the Mississippi Legislature over the protest of intelligent farmers, merchants and bankers followed the wrongful lead of some other States and passed the Boddie anti-future trading bill. Its repeal in the not distant future he believes will be secured, but if not repealed necessity will prompt its open violation.

Dr. Powers comments adversely upon a number of other features attendant upon the present method of marketing cotton, including the law in force in Louisiana imposing a prohibitive tax on foreign banking capital, which has forced foreign bankers out of New Orleans. Merchants, therefore, he avers, in the absence of competitive banking, have to pay higher rates for money, which in the end is saddled upon and has to be paid by the planter. Dr. Powers clearly depicts the situation when he says that every condition that tells against the people we sell to, comes back automatically to us in the shape of lower prices for our product or in some other way. He advocates, therefore, the repeal of all the recently enacted anti-option measures. Laws aiming at the suppression of bucket shops he favors, as all fair-minded men do, and such other measures as, after a careful investigation, may be shown to be needed for the uplifting of the cotton market. The doctor's remarks all through are fair and to the point, and he fully recognizes the mistake the South is making in pursuing a "take" and not a "give-and-take" policy.

As regards the cotton-manufacturing situation, recent developments merely serve to accentuate our remarks of two weeks ago. By the wage reductions of 10% that went into effect in New England mills on March 30, some 60,000 operatives were affected, and between the first of April and the present time the compensation of upwards of 40,000 more has been similarly cut. The number will be further increased next Monday, bringing up to 125,000 the total of those whose wages have been reduced 10%. In addition, there has been more or less curtailment of production in most of the establishments. At the South the situation has not been appreciably dissimilar, reductions in wages and curtailing of output having been quite generally the rule. Now a call has been issued for a meeting on April 17 of the Southern Hard Yarn Spinners' Association (in which the greater number of the mills of the South are represented) for the purpose of discussing the situation and considering the advisability of shutting down for a time.

Conditions in the manufacturing trade in Great Britain, while in no sense analogous to those here, are nevertheless beginning to be cause for concern. On two or three occasions since the opening of the year labor troubles threatened, but adjustment was reached without resort to strike or lock-out. Now, however, a situation of slow trade, ascribed to recent overproduction of goods in Lancashire, has to be faced. A feature of the last few years has been the large increase in Great Britain in the number of mills, and important additions to the spindleage. That boom in mill-building, started in 1903 and continued up to near the close of 1907, during which interval no less than 125 new establishments, contemplated to contain 11,267,000 spindles, were formed, and up to the close of last year about half of this machinery had gone into operation. But notwithstanding this phenomenal increase in the spinning power of Great Britain (over 5,000,000 working spindles in four years), weaving sheds and looms increased in even greater proportion, furnishing an urgent demand, while active trade lasted, for the output of all spindles—new and old—at highly remunerative rates.

Now that there is a period of depressed trade, the large increase in yarn production is being seriously felt, and prices are unsatisfactory. The home trade in goods, while giving promise of some improvement, owing to lower prices quoted by makers, has been below the normal for some little time, and transactions for export, as indicated by the Board of Trade returns, have fallen off since the first of the year. In fact the outward movement of cotton goods for the month of March reached only 474 million yards, against 556½ millions for the same month in 1907, and since Jan. 1 the shipments aggregate but 1,508 million yards, as compared with 1,617½ millions for the first quarter last year. This was the situation that was discussed by a committee of the Master Cotton Spinners' Association at Manchester on March 26, and prompted a resolution suggesting a shut-down of the mills for a week at Easter. The suggestion was embodied in a circular replies to which were to be forwarded not later than April 7. Up to the time of going to press, however, we have received no word as to what action has been taken.

There was no change in official rates of discount by any of the European banks this week; compared with last week, unofficial or open market rates were steady at the principal centres.

While there was comparatively little difference between the daily averages of the various items of the bank statement last week and the actual condition as disclosed on Saturday, there were important increases in average loans and in deposits, though actual gains therein were much smaller. The average loans were augmented 15 4-5 millions and the deposits 24 2-3 millions; but the actual increase in the former was 4 1-3 millions and in the latter 11 1-3 millions. According to the statement of averages, the surplus reserve was $40,690,300, the highest thus far recorded this year; the actual surplus was $42,671,350. The gain in the average reserve was $901,775; the increase in the actual reserve was $4,275,725. The average and the actual gains in cash were about 7 millions.

As the result of the over-abundant supply, which was indicated by the above noted conditions of the Associated Banks, and also of the distribution among the lending institutions of the April dividends and interest that had been paid during the previous week, the market for money was lower not only on call but for fixed periods. The inquiry for Stock Exchange purposes was small, speculation being held in check until Thursday awaiting the outcome of the Morgan plan for the relief of the embarrassments of the Erie Railway Co. The threatened failure of such plan, through the demand of a majority of holders of the 5½ millions maturing notes for payment in cash, was not made public until after the close of business on Wednesday; the prompt intervention then by Mr. Harriman to prevent the default contributed to restore confidence in the situation on Thursday, and thereafter the stock speculation was active, though call-money rates were not materially affected. A new low record was the feature in the time-loan branch of the market because of liberal offerings by institutions which have hitherto refused to make concessions in rates and have otherwise discouraged borrowing by demanding choice collateral; the inquiry was, however, not stimulated by the lower rates, though some increased business was reported in long-term contracts. Commercial paper was in better request at fractionally lower discounts for the best grades. It is expected that the evidence that was disclosed by the report of the New York Clearing-House Loan Committee this week that the pledges of commercial paper that were accepted by such committee for loan certificates were of an absolutely substantial character, will have the effect of augmenting the demand for mercantile notes and thus tend to establish even lower rates therefor.

Money on call, representing bankers' balances, loaned at the Stock Exchange during the week at 2% and at 1½%, averaging 1¾%; banks loaned at 1½% as the minimum, while trust companies quoted 1¾%. On Monday and on Tuesday loans were at 2% and at 1½% with the bulk of the business at 1¾%. On Wednesday transactions were at 1¾% and at 1½% with the majority at 1¾%. On Thursday and thereafter loans were at 2% and at 1½% with the bulk of the business at 1¾%. Time loans on good mixed Stock Exchange collateral were 2¾@3% for thirty to sixty, and 3% for ninety days, 3½@3¾% for four, 4% for five to six, and 4½@5% for the remainder of the year. Commercial paper was quoted at 4½@5% for choice sixty to ninety-day endorsed bills receivable and for high-grade four months' single names, and 5½% for six months' paper of that class.

The Bank of England rate of discount remains unchanged at 3%. The cable reports discounts of sixty to ninety day bank bills in London 2½%. The open market rate at Paris is 2⅝% and at Berlin and Frankfort it is 4⅛%. According to our special cable from London, the Bank of England lost £1,041,858 bullion during the week and held £38,680,990 at the close of the week. Our correspondent further advises us that heavy shipments to the interior of Great Britain wholly account for the loss in bullion holdings. The details of the movement into and out of the Bank were as follows Imports, £404,000 (of which £20,000 from Egypt, £10,000 from Constantinople and £374,000 bar gold bought); exports, £329,000 (of which £119,000 to South America and £5,000 to South Africa and £205,000 to Paris), and shipments of £1,117,000 net to the interior of Great Britain.

The foreign exchange market was almost stagnant early in the week. Though the Tuesday and Wednesday European steamers were fast vessels, the demand for remittance thereby was small, and it appeared to be supplied with ease, for rates for sight exchange were only fractionally higher. It would seem from mail advices, and also from cables, that there is a good inquiry for American securities in the British market; the operations for new account at the London Stock Exchange settlement developed a strong tone for our stocks, indicating some degree of confidence in the New York situation. There appeared to be quite as much interest manifested this week in London in the plan for the settlement of the Erie embarrassment as was felt here, and quite naturally, because Erie was regarded as, at the moment, an important factor. News of the relief extended by Mr. Harriman was received with much satisfaction, as was shown by the active demand at the British capital for the stock on Thursday. It may be observed that this somewhat unusual interest in American securities is doubtless largely due to the fact that these properties offer at present about the only opportunities for speculation on the London market, other foreign stocks and home rails being regarded with less favor because of the depressed condition of the market therefor. The activity in Americans most likely contributes to more or less arbitrage trading in and investment buying of the most promising of the securities, and this may account for the fact, as has been hereinbefore noted, that important credits have been made available in London against which some of our foreign exchange houses have drawn, at times, when speculative operations in our market have forced rates to figures which have threatened gold exports. As elsewhere noted, there was no evidence in the market for German marks that our bankers or investors intended to subscribe for the new loan; had there been such intention, cables would have been employed for remittance and there did not appear to be any inquiry for such drafts. The strong tone of the market on Friday revived rumors of early exports of gold; such a movement, however, appears unlikely in the immediate future.

On Saturday of last week the market was dull, and the only change, compared with the previous day, was in long, which was 10 points lower at 4 8425@4 8430. On Monday there was a further fall of 10 points in long to 4 8415@4 8420; cables were off 5 points to 4 8670@4 8675, and sight was unchanged at 4 8645@4 8650. On Tuesday long declined 5 points to 4 8410@4 8415, while short rose 5 points to 4 8650@4 8655 and cables 5 points to 4 8675@4 8680. On Wednesday long recovered 5 points to 4 8415@4 8420, short advanced 5 points to 4 8655@4 8660 and cables 5 points to 4 8680@4 8685. On Thursday the tone was strong and long and short were 10 points higher—long at 4 8425@4 8435 and short at 4 8665@4 8670; cables advanced 5 points to 4 8685@4 8690. On Friday long rose 15 points and cables 5 points, while short was unchanged.

ENGLAND'S NEW PRIME MINISTER.

The retirement of Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman from the office of Prime Minister of England, and the succession of Mr. Asquith to that office, were events which have for some time been expected. Sir Henry has long been subject to an exhausting and apparently incurable disease, and physical weakness has at length compelled his withdrawal from active duties. The quiet transfer of his important office to one of his lieutenants, without any action by either Parliament or people, illustrates once more the very remarkable system of executive government which prevails in England. Such a transfer in our own country would, it hardly need be said, have been accomplished only as a result of a prolonged and exciting national election; the only case which is at all parallel to the English practice being the succession of the Vice-President on the death of a duly elected President. Perhaps, in looking back at the public view of the incident, when Mr. Arthur took office on the death of General Garfield, or when Mr. Roosevelt similarly became President on Mr. McKinley's death, we may find a reasonable analogy. It is when the ministry of one party surrenders office to the ministry of another as a result of parliamentary defeat and without appeal to the electors that the peculiar principles of the English system, wholly opposed to those of the American, come more strikingly into light.

Even under the English system, and even when a change of Prime Ministers involves no change of the party in control, issues of considerable importance may hang on the personality of the new incumbent. The power of a Prime Minister over executive and legislative policies has for centuries been one of the foremost traditions of English history. That this personal domination has in a rather marked degree disappeared, or, at all events, been shorn of its former prestige, most students of parliamentary history in the past two decades will be forced to concede. Whether this change has resulted from the absence of such great parliamentary figures, such potent individualities as those of Pitt, Peel, Palmerston, Gladstone and Disraeli, or whether the parliamentary system itself is undergoing something of a change, may be a matter of dispute. Perhaps both causes have operated. Certainly none of the British Premiers since Mr. Gladstone's retirement—except Lord Salisbury, whose last official term was something of an anachronism—can thoroughly measure up against the older leaders above enumerated. On the other hand, it is only fair to recognize that the enormous complexity of interests which have arisen for parliamentary consideration during the past quarter century, and the great variety which they have imparted to popular and parliamentary opinion, have largely made impossible the sort of personal control which was easily practicable under the old regime, when only two organized parties, with issues generally clean-cut and well-defined, confronted one another in Parliament. The rise of Irish Home Rule faction, the secession of the Liberal Unionists from the Liberal Party, the later revolt of the Conservative Free Traders against the protectionism of Mr. Balfour, and, not least of all, the creation of a distinctive labor party, have brought about a very different situation from what can be said to have existed at any time in the two preceding centuries.

In both these aspects of the office, Mr. Asquith's succession to the Premiership is a matter of considerable interest. Every one who has watched the recent course of British politics must have reached the conclusion that a peculiar and extremely perplexing political crisis is likely at any moment to arise. Mr. Balfour's leanings toward protection so distinctly alienated the voting constituency from his party as to return an overwhelming Liberal majority in 1906. This Liberal majority, on the other hand, was found on examination to contain so large an element committed to Socialist legislation first and to labor legislation in general afterwards that the meaning of the victory was in some ways as uncertain as was the celebrated victory of the Democratic Party in this country at the election of 1892. Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, as the various aspects of this perplexing situation developed, found himself doubly embarrassed; first by the demands of this Socialistic faction for the redemption of ante-election pledges, and second by the natural query of a trained politician as to whether existing majorities in Parliament or out of it could be long maintained without such concession. At all events the Premier yielded some very large concessions. Notably, in the much-discussed matter of old-age pensions, steps had already been taken such as threatened serious complications in the future of English politics or finance.

Whether Sir Henry was led to adopt this policy through absolute political necessity or because of a natural leaning toward compromise, is still an open question. It is a question which is likely to be settled as the policies of Mr. Asquith unfold themselves. In personality the new Premier differs greatly from his predecessor. A younger man than Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman—Mr. Asquith was born in 1852, and until he became Chancellor of the Exchequer in the present Cabinet had only seen three years of Ministerial service—the new Prime Minister possesses nevertheless a character and personality which one would naturally impute to the older rather than the younger public man. In manners somewhat austere, in sympathies varying widely from the easy-going good fellowship of Sir Henry, he might from some points of view be imagined to be the very man to deal with the puzzling situation.

He is a lawyer of distinction, and has won a reputation in the past for his clear and courageous view of public questions in their legal aspect. No act of his, when Secretary of State for the Home Department during the three years after 1892, earned more immediate recognition than his prompt rejection of a plea by the Parnellites for leniency in dealing with convicted dynamiters. He had the courage also to refuse approval to the Boer War sentiment in its more violent manifestations, though he certainly did not then commit himself to an unpopular cause with such self-forgetfulness as Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman. When, however, Mr. Asquith's views on actual present questions are tested by his policy in the present Cabinet, the inferences are decidedly less promising.

He has gone out of his way, and to all appearances has severly strained the principles of law and equity, in order to concede certain privileges demanded by the Labor Party in the matter of trade disputes. In the old age pension matter, which is undoubtedly the most formidable measure with which his Cabinet will have to deal, he was induced, after showing some reluctance, to commit himself to a scheme which, although in the nature of a compromise with the first extreme demands, is as certain as were they to launch the Government on unknown financial seas. Little or no challenge, from the point of view of the country's financial situation and history, was heard from Mr. Asquith in the preliminary discussions of these measures. That he heartily approved of them it is difficult to believe; the question is, if he yielded solely to party discipline, how far he can be depended on, now that he is promoted to the leadership, to oppose the still more radical demands which are likely enough to follow.

The event will be watched with absorbing interest, not only throughout England but in this country, where the executive and legislative departments are confronted with problems not at all unlike those which have vexed the Liberal Ministry of England. It happens often enough that a public man promoted from a subordinate Cabinet position to the Premiership will acquire by virtue of his new responsibilities a caution and conservatism which he did not show before. This may prove true of Mr. Asquith. If it does not, it is no very rash prediction to assert that a little more deference to the Socialistic schemes now in the air will involve the Government in such financial burdens as will defeat the party now in power through the revolt of the electorate itself against such burdens and against the rashness with which their leaders are committing the people to an unknown future.

RELIEF FROM POLITICAL OPPRESSION THE NEED.

The country is at present passing through one of the severest periods of trade prostration in history, and this is occasioning the usual distress and suffering, the evidences of which are present on every side. The most unfortunate feature, however, is that few of our people seem to recognize the fact or to be impressed by it. The general disposition is to think that the depression is simply ephemeral in character, due to the panic last fall, and that a recovery is not far off. That this should be the view of the politicians is, perhaps, not surprising, for the average political leader is nearly always blind and fatuous. What is strange is that so many merchants and business men seem to entertain the same happy thoughts, and hence are sitting back, apathetic about what is going on, looking for that recuperation and revival confidently counted on months ago, but which still remains in the dim future.

Under ordinary circumstances, optimism and hope and buoyancy are in the highest degree desirable. They typify that go-ahead spirit to which the country owes all its wonderful past progress and development. But when in the ebullition of enthusiasm we close our eyes and refuse to see the obstacles in the path, we are simply erecting a barrier against further advance; more than that we are inviting disaster which will result in our losing much of what we have gained in the past. This is the goal towards which we are rapidly drifting at the present time. In December we were told that things would mend in January; in January we were told to look for improvement in February; in February the prognosticators, still undaunted, insisted that recovery could certainly not be delayed beyond March. Now that March has come and gone and we have advanced pretty well into April, predictions are just as sanguine as ever. Revival, most assuredly, cannot be far off, so says the same hopeful spirit of prophecy. Why should it be? Is there not just as much real wealth in the country as ever? Are not our people just as energetic, just as industrious and possessed of the same skill and intelligence as before? And have we not the assurance of both President Roosevelt and Governor Hughes, our two grand political high-priests, that there is absolutely nothing the matter with the country, that all that it is necessary to do is to go ahead as if nothing had happened, believe in ourselves, and then everything will come out all right.

The trouble, is, however, that we are confusing cause with effect. If the panic of last autumn were itself without cause, if there had been no antecedent developments responsible for it, then, indeed, the situation which has followed would be inexplicable, and it would be a species of folly, unworthy of an intelligent people, to stop in fright and cease our daily activities. But the financial upheaval of the autumn was itself the outgrowth of other disturbances. It is not the panic that is responsible for the paralysis which has settled over all the industries of the land. It is rather the multiplicity of preceding events and circumstances, which had their logical working out in the October disaster, that explain the country's present predicament. To be strictly accurate, it would be necessary to say that there had been three panic periods last year—one in March, another in August, and the final and overwhelming one in October and November. On each of these occasions the disturbed feeling prevailing was reflected in tremendous collapses in security values on our Stock Exchange; and when the last one came, the country had become so weakened that further healthful reaction was out of the question, and the body had to succumb to the ravages of the malady.

As we have so many times pointed out in these columns, the causes responsible for the three panic periods of last year, the causes responsible for the universal depression of to-day, are wholly political. And we wish our business men, our producing and manufacturing classes, and that huge body of wage-earners whose welfare is most of all involved, could be made to recognize this all-important fact. In a time of unwonted prosperity, when everybody was making money, and when both capital and labor were better employed than at any previous period, it pleased our political leaders to make assaults upon capital and upon wealth, and upon railroad and other corporations, the theory advanced being that these needed regulating, restricting and circumventing. The railroads and other public service corporations were particularly the objects of attack. By degrees we destroyed their credit, and, more slowly (because it takes time for adverse legislation and other governmental measures to show their effects), but just as insidiously we undermined their earning capacity. Long before the acute panic development of last October, the moneyed classes—the small investor as well as the man of large means—began to withhold their money from railroad enterprises. They instinctively saw what was forthcoming. The security and stability of railroad values were threatened, and in anticipation of what was to happen and what has happened, they began to protect themselves by getting rid of their security holdings in these properties at the best prices obtainable, and by refraining from further investments in the same.

The drop in security values which found its most acute manifestation in October had been in progress for over two years previously. During all this time, week in and week out, we warned the politicians of what was coming, and asked them to desist; but all in vain. · As time went on, it became increasingly difficult to raise needed supplies of capital by the floating of bonds except on very onerous terms. It is noteworthy, too, that with the steady drop in prices the income return to the buyer became larger and still larger, and yet no one wanted these securities unless at still further concessions in prices. It is this situation that forced resort to short-term obligations at high cost. These short-term obligations were put out in many cases in the same hopeful spirit with which the business man regards the future at the present time. It was thought that in one or two years the situation would right itself, and then it would be possible to replace these short-time notes with obligations of a more enduring character, and at a better price. But in this reckoning no account was taken of the further sapping of the vitality of the railroads—their further loss in prestige and in credit. In any event, though, no other resource was left open to the managers; to get the needed capital they had to employ the only means available, namely issue short-term paper. Finally, it was no longer possible to put out even these short notes, and then new capital expenditures came altogether to an end. This happened shortly before the panic. These short notes are now beginning to fall due and are causing additional trouble, first because the companies are not in a position to pay them off, and, secondly, because railroad credit is even more badly shattered than it was when they were put out, rendering the floating of other issues to take them up extremely difficult and extremely costly.

The railroads are the greatest industrial fertilizing agency which the civilized world has ever possessed—every outlay and expenditure carrying untold benefits in numerous directions—and when this fertilizing stream was by degrees being dried up, the end of the country's long period of prosperity was certain. It is to be remembered that the collapse in the copper trade preceded by several months the occurrence of the financial upheaval in the autumn. The price of copper dropped from 26c. a pound to less than 13c. a pound, simply because all of a sudden the demand for copper disappeared. The explanation was that by reason of public utility laws in the various States, the credit of street railway and electrical enterprises had been as badly damaged as that of the steam railroads. Such enterprises, being no longer able to raise new capital, had, perforce, to stop giving orders for supplies of copper. The activity in the iron and steel industries continued somewhat longer because the accumulation of old orders was much larger; but new orders became increasingly scarce, and when the panic burst upon the country, these new orders were almost worked off. It will be recalled that well-informed people had been momentarily expecting a collapse in the iron and steel trades before the October storm developed. The reason why revival in those trades has failed to appear since then is simply that the new orders to keep mills and furnaces busy have not been forthcoming, and the reason why these new orders have not materialized when the trade evidently expected them, is that, as the result of the political crusade, every corporate undertaking in the land, whether steam railroad, electric railroad, gas or electric light or power concern, has been brought under discredit, so that it is no longer possible for these to spend money or to raise capital or to engage in developing ventures the same as before.

In addition to all this, railroad revenues are now being reduced in a frightful way, contracting correspondingly the spending power of the railroads. During the month of January, as we showed by some compilations in our issue of March 28, gross earnings of United States railroads fell off no less than $25,000,000. For February, complete figures are not yet available, but the indications now are that for that month the loss will prove equally large; and there is, unfortunately, no reason to think that results for March or April will be any better. Thus the situation which confronts the country is this: gross earnings of United States railroads are falling off at the rate of $300,000,000 a year, whereas in previous years they were increasing at the rate of $200,000,000 a year—a difference adverse to 1908 as compared with what it would be, if conditions were normal, of $500,000,000 per annum.

The politician may shrug his shoulders when he hears that the railroads are suffering a loss of $300,000,000 in earnings, thinking that that is a loss which concerns neither himself nor his constituents. But let him reflect that with railroad income shortened $300,000,000, the railroads have $300,000,000 less to spend for labor and supplies, and he must realize that after all the matter is one of very serious concern to his constituents. Let him reflect also that in addition new supplies of capital for development and improvement work have been almost entirely cut off, scarcely any new issues having been brought out thus far in 1908 except to fund or retire existing debt. At very conservative figures the new capital raised in this way in normal times would be $500,000,000 a year. Thus there is lost to the industrial world as a fructifying agent this $500,000,000 of new capital, plus the $300,000,000 loss of income, making $800,000,000 together. Under these circumstances can there be any wonder that our industries all remain stagnant, that millions of laborers are out of employment (an estimate this week places the number of idle workers at 4,700,000), that wages are being reduced, and that poverty and distress are multiplying on every side?

In this state of things is not the remedy perfectly obvious? Confidence in the security and stability of railroad investments must be restored. If that is not done things will necessarily go on from bad to worse. As already stated, the trouble is almost wholly political. The roads cannot be restored to solvency and prosperity, and capital will not again flow into railroad and other corporate undertakings, until there is assurance that the political crusade, so disastrous in its consequences, is to cease. More than that, the investor will demand a guaranty of fair treatment hereafter. He must be made to feel that if he puts his money in there will be a chance of getting it back and that he will not be treated as a criminal for having money at all and his investment regarded as a proper subject for confiscation.

With this the requirement, what is the status of things in the political world at the moment? In this State we find Governor Hughes insisting on adding still further to the functions and domain of the Public Service Commissions (which have done so much to destroy the value of street railway undertakings in this State) by bringing telephone and telegraph companies under their jurisdiction, and sending a special message to the Legislature demanding this among other things, and also recommending an inquiry into the "facts relating to speculation in securities and commodities," as if our troubles were due to speculation instead of political oppression. From Washington there come threats of the calling of an extra session of Congress in midsummer if the President's demand for an amendment of the Inter-State Commerce Act and the Sherman Anti-Trust Law be not complied with. If these amendments were in the nature of a repeal of existing laws, there might not be so much reason to find fault, but their whole scope and purpose is to give the Federal Government more authority—more power to interfere and regulate, when what is wanted is less meddling, less interference. The Inter-State Commerce Commission, which is a separate disturbing agency, is asking on its part for a large appropriation for the purpose of making a physical valuation of the railroads (which would be very convenient for forcing a reduction in rates); moreover, at the very time when rumors are current of an advance in rates so as to help the railroads out of their present dilemma, the Commission is asking that its power over rates be extended so that it may forbid proposed advances.

Is it not time, therefore, for the business men to bestir themselves and call a halt on the movement for harassing coporations and destroying their standing and credit? Our Merchant Associations and Boards of Trade in different cities throughout the country have been adopting resolutions with reference to the financial measures pending in Congress. This is well enough, but action on the currency question is not half so urgent as the stopping of the crusade against the railroads and their restoration to the confidence of the investment world. Why should not these mercantile bodies express their determination that the existing policy toward corporate interests shall be changed? Let the wage earners, too, meet and declare that they have had enough of idleness and reductions in wages, and that a policy which reduces all to want and misery, capitalists as well as laborer, is not to their liking. Politicians are proverbially cowardly. They persist in their assaults simply because they think it popular to do so and that it will give them a political advantage. Once they understand that this is not so, that they are offending their constitutents rather than pleasing them, they will be quick to shift their position.

There is need for quick action. The situation is rapidly becoming acute. Unless the decline in railroad revenues is arrested and unless new supplies of capital again flow in, wholesale insolvency and reorganization in the railroad world will result, and there will be a repetition of the hard times experienced from 1893 to 1896. In our review of the earnings of United States railroads for the late calendar year, published in our issue of March 14, we showed that in the whole of the eleven years from 1896 to 1907 there had not been a year which had failed to show an increase in gross earnings, and that the aggregate of these increases for the eleven years had reached no less than $1,565,000,000. That is, United States railroads earned 1,565 million dollars more in 1907 than they had earned in 1896, and consequently had 1,565 million dollars more to spend—to pay out for wages and for supplies, only a relatively small part of the whole being distributed in the shape of interest and dividends. By this prodigious increase in their earning power, the railroads carried prosperity to every industry in the land, thereby increasing the consuming capacity of the people and adding further to their own revenues.

Now all this is being changed. Gross earnings at the present time, as already shown, are decreasing at the rate of $300,000,000 a year, which means that $300,000,000 a year less is being spent for reproductive work, in addition to which new capital supplies, as also shown above, have likewise been cut off. The diminution in the outlays of the railroads means diminished activity in the iron and steel and allied industries, diminished consuming power on the part of the population, all of which in turn means further lessening of the revenues of the railroads. Thus, unless a check is put to the movement, the country must continue on a downward course just as for the previous ten years it was on the upward course. Our business and laboring classes, hence, ought not to stand idly by and let that happen which it is within their power to avert. Further hostile legislation must be abandoned and all sources of irritation removed.

If President Roosevelt and Governor Hughes could be got to resign, the country inside of thirty days would be in the midst of the greatest revival in the annals of trade and the beneficent influence would extend to all civilized parts of the globe. For these two men typify in their persons and acts the destructive forces which have been at work. Barring that, the people must make their influence felt with the politicians. Indifference on the part of the business man and the wage earner—the resting in fancied security on the idea that after a while everything will turn out well any way—can only prolong the suffering and end in disaster.

THE MEXICAN RAILWAY MERGER.

A merger of the more important Mexican roads under the control of the Mexican Government is an event of no little interest. For a year or more it has been known that such a merger was impending and that an announcement to that effect could be looked for as soon as financial conditions were propitious and a plan for exchange of securities could be devised likely to be acceptable to the different security holders. Last summer and autumn it would obviously have been risky to have attempted the undertaking, since it involves the raising of considerable amounts of cash. Now, however, ease prevails in the money market, and there is a superabundance of capital available for investment in reproductive enterprises, provided only there is assurance of fair treatment and safety and protection for the funds invested.

In the case of United States railroads, an undertaking of such magnitude could hardly hope to find much support at this moment at the hands of the investing public, since the policy of our State and national governments has been to frighten capital and to drive it out of the railroad field, at one time considered such an inviting one. In the case of the Mexican roads, however, no such drawbacks exist. The Mexican Government, under the presidency of General Diaz, has always pursued an enlightened policy in its treatment of the railroads, doing everything to invite building of railroads and to promote their advance and welfare. This policy remains unaltered, no intention apparently existing of departing from it in the slightest degree.

Formerly the fact that Mexico was on a silver basis, and that silver had so greatly depreciated and the Mexican silver dollar was fluctuating so widely, was an objection and a drawback to investments in Mexico. Even this drawback, however, no longer exists. The Mexican dollar now has a fixed value of fifty cents in gold. Under the reform inaugurated in the Mexican currency three years ago, the stability of the value of the Mexican dollar has been definitely established at that figure. As far as the Mexican railroads are concerned, a two-fold advantage has resulted from that circumstance. In the first place, a given amount of earnings in Mexican silver yields more in gold than before, for meeting interest or dividend payments. In the second place, the Mexican dollar possesses increased purchasing power in the buying of the materials needed in the operation of the roads. As these supplies have to be bought in large part outside of Mexico and paid for in gold, this last is obviously a matter of no small consequence.

The plan of merger now submitted makes provision for the securities of the Mexican Central and the National Railroad of Mexico. These two, however, will not be the only properties controlled. The National Railroad itself controls two other Mexican roads, namely the Mexican International and the Interoceanic Railroad of Mexico. Control of the International is held through the ownership of $15,785,400 of the $20,708,200 stock of the International, besides the whole $4,499,000 income bonds of the same company, and $3,000,000 of the 4% consolidated mortgage bonds of that company. In the case of the Interoceanic Railway, the National Railroad owns 125,533 out of the 170,000 £10 ordinary shares, 10,200 out of the 100,000 £10 preferred shares, and £1,038,400 out of the £1,150,000 4½% second debenture stock. Thus the merger really embraces four railroad properties. The Mexican Central is the largest of these, comprising 3,428 miles of road. The National Railroad embraces 1,379 miles of standard-gauge line and 526 miles of narrow-gauge, making 1,905 miles together. The Mexican International has 918 miles of standard-gauge line and the Interoceanic Railway 736 miles of narrow-gauge road. Altogether, therefore, roughly 7,000 miles of road will be included in the merger, the exact figure given in the plan being 6,987 miles. The earnings, too, are of considerable magnitude. No figures on this point appear in the plan, but, taking the reports of the separate companies for the fiscal year ending June 30, and combining the earnings, it is found that aggregate gross for that period in Mexican currency was $62,876,559 and aggregate net $19,602,028.

The name of the consolidated company will be Ferrocarriles Nacionales de Mexico, which means National Railways of Mexico. The plan of readjustment and union deals only with the securities of the Mexican Central and the National Railroad of Mexico, control of the other two roads being retained just as at present through the stock and bond holdings in those companies, as indicated above. In the case of the Mexican Central and the National Railroad, there are a few issues of securities which are not to be dealt with at this time, namely the 4-year 5% gold notes of the Mexican Central Ry. and three issues of the National RR. These latter comprise the $23,000,000 prior lien 4½% gold bonds, the $27,289,000 first consolidated mortgage 4% gold bonds and the $10,000,000 5% gold notes. Sufficient securities of the new company are, however, held in reserve for the ultimate retirement of all.

The consolidated company will have a total capitalization of $615,000,000, consisting of $225,000,000 prior lien 4½% sinking fund redeemable gold bonds; $160,000,000 general mortgage 4% sinking fund redeemable gold bonds which are to be guaranteed as to both principal and interest by the Republic of Mexico; $30,000,000 non-cumulative 4% first preferred shares; $125,000,000 non-cumulative 5% second preferred shares, and $75,000,000 common shares—all the amounts being here stated in United States gold.

The Mexican Government, in return for its guaranty of the general mortgage bonds, and the part it is to play in the reorganization, is to receive $6,000,000 of the prior lien 4½s, $2,450,000 of the general mortgage 4s and $63,730,000 common shares. In addition, we take it, it is also to receive new securities in exchange for the old securities now held by it. It has been understood that the Mexican Government holds $30,319,200 of the various classes of stock of the National Railroad of Mexico ($10,000,000 first preferred stock, $9,343,900 second preferred and $10,975,300 of deferred stock), and this if exchanged into new securities on the terms offered in the plan would yield $10,000,000 first preferred stock of the consolidated company, $10,278,290 of second preferred stock and $10,975,300 of common stock. What amount of securities it will get for its holdings of Mexican Central stock cannot be stated, since no figures have been published indicating the extent of these holdings. It is known, however, that the Mexican Government will control the consolidated company absolutely.

The plan provides for the raising of $14,870,000 of cash. Approximately $5,500,000 of this sum will be needed to take up the floating indebtedness of the Mexican Central Railway and the National Railroad of Mexico; $2,870,000 will be required to meet the cash payment of 10% which is to be made on the preferred stock of the National Railroad of Mexico, leaving a balance of about $6,500,000 available for working capital and for the expenses of the readjustment. To meet these cash requirements the new company will sell for $14,870,000 to the bankers constituting the readjustment managers $10,000,000 prior lien 4½% bonds and $6,750,000 guaranteed general mortgage 4% bonds.

What strikes one as strong features in the plan, aside from the large amount of cash to be raised, is the comprehensive provision apparently made for the future needs of the consolidated company. For instance, $10,000,000 of prior lien 4½s and $6,000,000 of general mortgage 4s are set aside for the construction or acquisition of the Short Line from Tampico to the City of Mexico or for the construction or acquisition of additional lines of railroad or for the construction of bridges costing more than $100,000, at not exceeding the actual cost thereof. Then $47,500,000 of prior lien 4½s and $49,500,000 general 4s are to be reserved for issue after Jan. 1 1910 for betterments and improvements, at the rate of $2,500,000 face amount of bonds of each issue per year. Furthermore, an additional $38,000,000 of prior lien 4½s and $19,000,000 general mortgage 4s are to be available for the construction or acquisition of additional lines of railroad, and terminal and other incident or pertinent properties. The plan has back of it an array of banking interests of quite unusual strength and prominence, comprising Kuhn, Loeb & Co., Speyer & Co., Ladenburg, Thalmann & Co., Hallgarten & Co., Speyer Bros., Bank fur Handel und Industrie and Berliner Handelsgesellschaft.

In continuation of a practice begun by us in previous years, we present elaborate compilations at the end of this article giving the earnings of electrical railway enterprises in the United States. In these compilations, we undertake to show, as comprehensively as may be, the gross and net earnings of street and electric railways for the last two calendar years. We have sought to procure returns for the period named from practically all the street and electric roads of any size in the country, and the success attending the effort can be judged from the tables we give.

Any compilation dealing with electric railways is necessarily made up in large part of street railways, since these latter are now practically all operated by electricity as motive power. And yet the tables include many other electric roads, for electric railways connecting various suburbs have become quite common, and there are also numerous electric interurban roads of large magnitude. The truth is, electrical railway development in this country has been very pronounced in recent years, which is one reason for gathering the returns of earnings and bringing them together in collective form. The task of obtaining the figures has not been altogether easy. Where companies furnish monthly returns it has of course not been difficult to make up the figures. But the number of electric railways supplying such returns is still exceedingly meagre, notwithstanding that, with the increase in the capital invested in these properties, the policy of secrecy in their affairs, which formerly prevailed so widely, has in large measure given way to more enlightened methods.

Another obstacle in obtaining statements for the calendar year is that the fiscal year of the companies in a great many cases does not correspond with the calendar year. State boards or commissions require returns of street railways only in the case of a few of the States; still, where the requirement exists, the fiscal year is not as a rule identical with the calendar year. Thus, in Massachusetts the annual statements cover the twelve months ending Sept. 30 and in New York, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Maine and a few of the minor New England States they cover the year ending June 30. Outside of the States mentioned very little of an official character concerning street and electric railways can be obtained from public documents.

It is encouraging, under these circumstances, to be able to present such a comprehensive body of figures as is contained in our tables. Our exhibit comprises no less than 194 separate roads, and these show aggregate gross earnings for the twelve months of 1907 of $235,718,432, as against $212,442,906 for the twelve months of 1906, and aggregate net earnings of $100,526,762, against $94,778,321. While the increase in the gross earnings reaches $23,275,526, or 10.95%, the increase in the net earnings, it will be observed, amounts to only $5,748,441, or 6.06%. It is evident from these figures that the electric railways have felt the influence of the higher operating cost resulting from advances in wages and increases in the cost of fuel, materials and supplies, the same as the steam railroads, but not quite to the same extent. In the case of these latter, the review for the calendar year 1907, which we printed in our issue of March 14, showed that a gain of 9.59% in gross earnings had been attended by an actual falling off in net earnings. On the whole, therefore, the electric railways have been much more fortunate in this respect than the steam railroads. Perhaps that is not surprising, however, seeing how much more cheaply the electric railways are always operated.

In addition to the roads which have furnished returns of both gross and net earnings, 31 other roads have favored us with comparative figures of gross but not with their net earnings. Adding these on, the number of roads is increased to 225 and the total of the gross raised to $279,023,468 in 1907, as against $254,725,954 in 1906. The increase in this case is $24,- 297,514, giving a ratio of gain considerably smaller than in the other case, it being 9.54%.

The totals given all relate, as already stated, to roads which have favored us with statements for the calendar year, or whose figures we have been able to make up for that period of twelve months. In order to carry the investigation a step further, we have thought it advisable, as in previous years, to furnish an indication of what the totals would amount to if we took into account the roads whose figures are available for other periods, and particularly for the fiscal years ending on June 30 and Sept. 30. In the table which follows we start with the total of gross and net for the calendar years 1907 and 1906, as given in our detailed summary, and then add two other lines of figures, one recording the earnings of all the roads for which we have returns for the twelve months ending June 30 and the other the earnings of all the roads for which we have the figures for the twelve months ending Sept. 30. The three combined make a very comprehensive aggregate.

| | Gross | | Net | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| | 1907. | 1906. | 1907. | 1906. |
| | $ | $ | $ | $ |
| For calendar year as below (194 roads) | 235,718,432 | 212,442,996 | 109,526,762 | 91,778,321 |
| For years ending Sept. 30 (63 roads) | 22,005,622 | 21,262,957 | 6,982,378 | 6,884,321 |
| For years ending June 30 (98 roads) | 48,452,261 | 46,433,131 | 18,493,164 | 19,468,061 |
| Grand total (355 rds) | 306,266,315 | 280,139,044 | 126,002,304 | 121,050,703 |
| Increase | (9.33%) 26,127,271 | | (4.09%) 4,951,601 | |

From the foregoing one gets some idea of the magnitude to which the electric railway industry has risen. The total of the gross earnings (comprising 355 roads) for 1907 is $306,266,315, against $280,139,044 for 1906, and aggregate net earnings $126,002,304, against $121,050,703. The increase in the gross in this instance is $26,127,271, or 9.33%, while the increase in the net is only $4,951,601, or 4.09%. Here, then, the advance in operating cost is more manifest than in the case of the roads embraced in our tabulations for the calendar year.

We wish to reiterate what we have said in previous annual reviews of the earnings of these electric railways, that this is not an attempt to indicate the aggregate of the gross and net earnings of all the street and electric railway undertakings in the United States. It is simply making use of all the figures that have been placed at our disposal or which are available. Large though the totals in the foregoing summary are, they fall considerably short of recording the entire earnings of electric railways in the United States. The minor roads not represented would not swell the amounts to any great extent, but it happens that some large companies are also missing because no data concerning their income could be obtained. Among these may be mentioned the New York City lines (now in receiver's hands), the Cleveland Electric Railway, the Ohio Electric Railway, the Terre Haute Indianapolis & Eastern, the Public Service Corporation of New Jersey, the Pacific Electric Railway of California, the Los Angeles Interurban Railway, the Omaha & Council Bluffs Street Railway, the Virginia Passenger & Power Co., the Spokane & Inland Empire Railroad and the Wheeling Traction Co. In addition, some other companies are not represented in our totals of gross and net because only figures of gross could be obtained. This refers to roads like the Cincinnati Traction, the Denver City Tramway, the United Railroads of San Francisco, the Los Angeles Railway, the American Railways Co., &c. Of course, many of the electric railways furnish electricity for lighting and power purposes, besides being engaged in railway business, and the earnings from that source form part of their total income. On the other hand, in a number of cases the earnings from lighting and other sources have been separated from the street railway income and the latter alone is included in our table. This is true, for instance, of the Columbus Railway & Light Co. and the Elmira Water, Light & Railroad Co.

The following is the detailed statement already referred to, which shows separately the comparative figures for each road contributing returns for the last two calendar years —The failure of the General Insurance Co. (Compagnie Generale d'Assurances) of Rio de Janeiro was announced on the 7th inst. The trouble is said to have been brought about by the failure on March 5 of the Union Bank of Commerce (Banco Uniao de Commercio) of Rio de Janeiro.

—A decision defining the rights of brokers with regard to their clients was rendered on Monday by the Supreme Court of the United States. In this decision it is held that a broker purchasing securities for a customer is an agent of the latter and not the owner of the securities, and that when the broker becomes bankrupt he may return such holdings to the customer without the action constituting a preference under the bankruptcy law. The decision upholds the lower court; it was given in the case of Henry A. Richardson, trustee in bankruptcy for the estate of J. Francis Brown, a Boston stock broker, against John M. Shaw and Alexander M. Davidson of New York. The broker, who was declared bankrupt on June 26 1903, had on the previous day turned over to Messrs. Shaw and Davidson securities to the amount of $45,583 on the payment of a debt of $34,919 to the broker. The receiver sought to regain possession of the securities on the ground that the act was an undue preference as among creditors. The Supreme Court was unanimous in its finding, except for Justice Holmes, who as Chief Justice of the Massachusetts Court, had sustained a contrary rule. We quote as follows from the opinion, which was delivered by Justice Day:

"As was said by Mr. Justice Bradley, speaking for the Court in Gallagher vs. Jones, a broker is but an agent and is bound to follow directions of his principal or give notice that he declines the agency. The dividends on the securities belong to the customers. The customer pays interest upon the purchase price and is credited with interest upon the margins deposited, Upon settlement of the account he receives the securities. In this case the broker assumed to pledge the stocks, not because he was the owner thereof, but because by the terms of the contract he had obtained the right from the customer to pledge the securities upon general loans, and in like manner he secured the privilege of selling when necessary for his protection.

"The risk of the venture is entirely upon the customer. He profits if it succeeds; he loses if it fails. The broker gets out of the transaction when closed, in accordance with the understanding of the parties, his commission and interest upon the advances and nothing else. . . . When the agent of Shaw and Davidson demanded the stocks, their right of ownership in them was recognized, and while pledged they were under the control of the broker, were promptly redeemed and turned over to the customer consistently with the terms of the contract, as understood by both parties. The broker could not have declined to thus redeem and turn over the stock, and when adjudicated a bankrupt his trustee had no better rights, in the absence of fraud or preferential transfer, than the bankrupt himself."

—An opinion settling a point with reference to the method of computing the reserves of State banking institutions in Pennsylvania has recently been given to State Banking Commissioner Berkey by Attorney-General Todd. The latter holds, according to the Philadelphia "Ledger," that in computing the aggregate of immediate demand liabilities upon which trust companies and State banks are required to keep a 15% reserve, money borrowed by the institution payable on demand must be included as well as deposits subject to check and deposits payable on demand.

—A ruling on a question affecting deposits of fraternal organizations in Illinois banking institutions was recently made by State Auditor McCullough. Mr. McCullough holds that the State banks have no authority to turn over collateral to secure such deposits. He thinks the point might be made that the capital of the bank was being impaired by such an operation, as the collateral securing the deposit would carry with it a margin, however small, taken from the bank's capital; furthermore, such a transaction, he considers, would be unjust to other individual depositors whose funds are not secured by collateral.

—A committee has been appointed by the Pittsburgh Clearing-House Association to investigate the matter of the payment of interest on individual deposits subject to check, with the view to the adoption of a uniform rule. A recent canvass of the financial institutions of the city is said to have disclosed the fact that a majority favored abolishing or reducing the rates, but the consensus of opinion seemed to be in favor of the submission of this and other proposed changes to the Clearing House. The committee appointed consists of Robert Wardrop, Chairman, President of the Peoples' National Bank; Charles McKnight, President of the National Bank of Western Pennsylvania; Wilson A. Shaw, President of the Bank of Pittsburgh, N. A.; T. Hart Given, President of the Farmers' Deposit National Bank, and Walter S. Mitchell, Cashier of the Mellon National Bank. The collection of checks without charge, which has also been generally practiced by the banks, will likewise be taken up for consideration by the committee.

—Detailed statistics concerning the Clearing-House certificates issued to the local banks during the late panic were furnished in a report of the New York Clearing House Loan Committee made public on Tuesday. The total amount of certificates authorized by the Clearing House was $101,060,000, but the maximum amount taken out by the banks was only $88,420,000. This was on Dec. 16 1907. The first of the certificates was issued on October 26 1907 and the final cancellation occurred on March 28 1908, when the balance of the indebtedness of the failed National Bank of North America was paid off. The retirement of the certificates was delayed by the suspension of a number of banks (namely the New Amsterdam National, the Oriental, the Mechanics' & Traders' and the National Bank of North America) late in January, when the Clearing House had determined to call in the certificates still out. The final cancellation by solvent banks took place on Jan. 27 1908. It should be stated that the last issue of certificates was virtually made on Jan. 7, although it was necessary to issue a trifling amount to one other institution as late as Jan. 30. During the period the certificates remained outstanding there passed through the hands of the Committee collateral for the certificates aggregating $453,000,000, of which $330,000,000, or 72.92%, consisted of commercial paper and $123,000,000, or 27.08%, was made up of stocks, bonds and short-time railroad and other similar notes. The total amount of interest paid on the certificates, which bore 6% interest, was $1,116,246. Of the fifty-two banks in the Clearing House, twenty did not resort to the use of the certificates. A comparison of the figures for 1907 with those for 1893 was furnished in the report, from which we reprint the following data:

*Only one small issue of certificates was made after Jan. 7, as noted above.

The report was signed by James T. Woodward, Chairman; Dumont Clarke, Alexander Gilbert, A. Barton Hepburn, William A. Nash and Edward Townsend. A sub-committee which examined and passed upon the securities, was composed of James G. Cannon, Chairman; Henry P. Davison, Walter Frew, G. W. McGarrah and Albert H. Wiggin.

—The Governing Committee of the New York Stock Exchange unanimously voted on Wednesday to close the Exchange on Good Friday and Easter Saturday, the 17th and 18th inst. Last year the Exchange remained open on Good Friday, but was closed the following day. The Philadelphia Stock Exchange will also be closed on Friday and Saturday next. The members of the Boston Stock Exchange will have a longer vacation, for in addition to suspending business on these two days the Exchange will also be closed on the Monday following—Patriots' Day (which falls on Sunday the 19th) being observed on this day.

—Frederick Townsend Martin has been elected a director of the Metropolitan Trust Co. of this city to take the place of the late Morris K. Jesup. The March 25 statement of the company is of interest at this time, as it has successfully undertaken the task of liquidating the assets of the defunct Oriental Bank and is making immediate payment to the latter's depositors. At the call of March 25 the institution reports deposits of $17,657,105 27, which compares with $15,764,838 on Jan. 1 1908; undivided profits of $2,178,510, against $2,091,500, and total resources of $31,124,422 88, in comparison with $25,536,253 67. Among the trust company's other items the March 25 statement indicates that there was a reserve of $3,000,000 for the liquidation of the Oriental Bank and $515,547 cash received in liquidation of the latter. General Brayton Ives, President of the Metropolitan Trust Co., has as executive associates Anton A. Raven, Vice-President, and Beverly Chew, Second Vice-President. Bertram Cruger is Treasurer, Jacob C. Klinck Secretary, James F. McNamara Trust Officer, Rupert W. K. Anderson Assistant Treasurer and Frederick E. Fried Assistant Secretary.

—Charles H. Imhoff, whose election as Vice-President of the Chatham National Bank of this city was referred to last week, was elected a director of the institution on the 3rd inst.

—William B. Joyce, President of the National Surety Co. has been elected to the board of the Knickerbocker Trust Co. of this city. There now remains but one vacancy to fill to complete the directorate of fifteen members. On Wednesday, at the first public sale of the stock of the Knickerbocker since its suspension last October, two shares were sold at $450 each. The question as to the receivership fees of the company, which have been opposed by Attorney-General Jackson, will be heard on the 14th inst.

—The Fulton Trust Co. of New York publishes its statement of assets, liabilities and business as reported to the State Banking Department March 25 in unusually attractive form. Schedules of the company's investments, real estate mortgages and New York City bonds are detailed in this pamphlet. Its deposits of $6,248,039 are divided among 2,128 accounts. The institution was established in 1890, has $500,000 capital, $250,000 surplus, $514,970 undivided profits and total resources of $7,521,509. Henry C. Swords is President.

—The Van Norden Trust Co. of Fifth Ave. and 60th St. has purchased the old bank building of the Oriental Bank's Bowery branch, on the corner of Grand St. and the Bowery. The Van Norden will to-day move its East Side branch from 322 Grand St. to this advantageous site. The offices have been newly re-fitted and everything is in readiness to open for business Monday.

—William R. Craig, of Craig & Jenks, cotton merchants, has been elected a director of the National Copper Bank of this city.

—Since the Dec. 19 bank call the Nassau Bank, corner Beekman and Nassau streets, has made an addition of $440,665 to deposits, increasing them to $5,445,204 on March 25, the date of the last report to the Superintendent of Banks. Aggregate resources are now $6,337,919 65. The bank's business has increased steadily during and since the October disturbances.

—The Bank of Washington Heights, Amsterdam Avenue and 155th Street, the northernmost bank in that growing section of New York City, is enlarging its banking house to twice its present size to accommodate increased business. Alterations to the adjoining building are now being made and will soon be completed. The institution, organized in 1901 with $200,000 capital and surplus, has increased its deposits from $725,352 Dec. 19 1907 to $825,000 March 25th. The executive staff is: John Whalen, President; R. Bleecker Rathborne, First Vice-President; Thomas Alexander, Second Vice-President, and William Clark, Cashier.

—The branch of the Williamsburgh Trust Co. of Brooklyn Borough, at Broadway and Myrtle Ave., purchased on March 26 by the Corn Exchange Bank of this city, was opened as a branch of the latter last week.

—An order discharging the temporary receiver of the Jenkins Trust Co. of Brooklyn Borough, and authorizing the institution to resume on or before the 22d inst., was signed by Supreme Court Justice Betts at Kingston on the 3d inst. The directors have decided to change the name of the institution to the Lafayette Trust Co., and are completing arrangements for its re-opening next week. The company suspended on Oct. 25, and on Nov. 16 John Mulhall was named as temporary receiver. Justice Betts's decision was based on the report made by the State Superintendent of Banks Clark Williams, which placed the assets at $4,302,712 and the liabilities at $3,756,524, leaving an unimpaired capital of $500,000 and a surplus of $46.188. The latter is said to be the estimated surplus after an allowance for the fees of the receiver and counsel, and for all other current expenses. The re-opening of the institution is subject to certain conditions imposed by the State Superintendent of Banking, which, it is stated, have been complied with. These requirements call for the subscription by the directors of a fund of $100,000, this to be in the nature of a loan to the trust company, repayable only out of any surplus in excess of $150,000. It is also required that the directors and others interseted, having deposits of over $300,000, must agree to leave such deposits with the company for at least a year without interest. Furthermore, the obligors of the so-called Jenkins loans must supply additional security to the extent of about $117,000. The reorganization has been accomplished under the deferred-payment plan, whereby depositors are to receive 10% monthly. The report of the Superintendent of Banks states that "assuming that all demands, not postponed by agreement, are to be paid at resumption, the trust company must have on hand at that time $572,996. The legal reserves on the remainder would be $476,454, making the total cash required $1,049,450. To meet this requirement the trust company already has in cash $616,842. In addition, it expects to have:

|---|---|
| Directors' subscription | $100,000 |
| Collections of loans | 60,000 |
| Proceeds sale of stocks and bonds | 95,000 |
| Proceeds sale of mortgages | 94,024 |
| By mortgage of part of its real estate | 105,000 |
| Loan at bank, secured by collateral | 500,000 |
| Total (including $616,842 cash on hand) | $1,570,866 |

or $521,417 21 more than it will then require."

The contract entered into between the company and a bank under which the latter is to assist the company to the extent of $500,000 has, it is said, been approved by Mr. Williams. The reorganized institution is to open under the following management: Prest., Harold A. Davidson; Vice-Presidents, H. B. Scharmann and Louis H. Irwin; Sec., Joseph Loughlin, and Treas., Harry F. Adams. Mr. Loughlin was formerly Cashier of the Beaver National Bank, now in liquidation, while Mr. Adams is at present Auditor of the National Bank of Commerce in New York.

—It is reported that B. R. Shears has tendered his resignation as a New York State bank examiner to become President of the Borough Bank of Brooklyn. The institution is to reopen for business next week.

—Albert K. Hiscock, Vice-President of the Trust & Deposit Co. of Onondaga, at Syracuse, died on the 7th inst. Mr. Hiscock was also Treasurer of the following roads: the Auburn & Syracuse Electric RR.; the Rochester Syracuse & Eastern; the Syracuse Lake Shore & Northern, and the Syracuse & South Bay Electric RR. He had been President of the State Bank of Syracuse, but resigned recently owing to the serious condition of his health.

—At a meeting this week of the voting trustees of the Union Trust Co. of Providence, R. I., which is to reopen next month, the following board was selected: William Ames, Edward G. Buckland, Zechariah Chafee, William A. Copeland, Harry Cutler, Joseph E. Fletcher, Rathbone Gardner, Herbert F. Hinckley, Charles B. Humphrey, Samuel M. Nicholson, Edward D. Pearce, James M. Scott, Henry D. Sharpe and Cornelius S. Sweetland. Reports yesterday stated that Rathbone Gardner had been elected President of the company. The date for resumption, May 4, was fixed at a recent meeting of the receivers' advisory committee and the depositors' committee of the institution. The company suspended on October 25. The reorganization plans were approved by Presiding Justice Sweetland of the Superior Court of Rhode Island on March 14, when permission for the resumption of business was granted. The details of the plan have heretofore been given in these columns.

—The National Shawmut Bank of Boston on Monday took over the business of the National Bank of the Republic of that city. Under the arrangement between the two institutions the National Shawmut, it is said, has purchased the good-will and business of the Republic and assumed its deposits, but has not bought the latter's assets. These are to be liquidated by the Shawmut for the benefit of the stockholders of the Republic. The National Shawmut Bank, already the largest financial institution in New England, adds $12,000,000 or more to its deposits, through the merger, increasing them to about 68 million dollars. The Republic has a capital of $2,000,000 and surplus of about $1,800,000; the book value of its stock is $181 per share, and it is estimated that it will liquidate at from $170 to $175 per share. Reports have it that the Shawmut pays a bonus of $30 50 per share over the liquidating value of the stock, so that the shareholders of the Republic will receive in the neighborhood of $200 per share for their holdings. C. A. Vialle, President of the National Bank of the Republic, will become a Vice-President of the National Shawmut, and all the other officers of the Republic will be associated with the Shawmut. In his letter to the directors of the bank, Mr. Harper declared himself innocent of the charges brought against him, but stated that, owing to the fact that such charges are pending, and to the notoriety given to the prosecution, which might tend to injure the interests of the bank, he had reached the conclusion that it would be for the best interests of the institution that he resign. The directors, in accepting Mr. Harper's resignation, expressed themselves as convinced of his innocence of the charges, and confident of his early and complete vindication. R. H. Cook, to whom the matter was turned over, is quoted as saying that "the officials have been unable to secure further indorsements on loans made and insufficiently secured, and for the safety of the institution we thought best to take charge of the bank." The committee consists of A. F. MacLaren, M.P., of Stratford; William Wallace, General Manager of the Crown Life Insurance Co., and Senator Baird of Perth Centre, N. B. The "Toronto Globe" in its issue of March 17 published in full the text of the agreement entered into by the Associated Banks of Canada in assuming the obligations of the Sovereign Bank on Jan. 17. This agreement provided first for the making by the assisting banks, through the medium of trustees, of cash advances to a total of $3,750,000, these advances being used for the redemption of the bank's circulation, the repayment of advances under sterling credits and all sundry liabilities. Provision was also made for the assumption of all the deposits of the Sovereign Bank, amounting at the time of the transfer to over $10,000,000. The agreement further provided for the re-discount of all advances made by the Sovereign Bank to its customers, excepting those at Toronto and Montreal, and certain advances at some of the other branches which could not be disposed of in this way, the amount realized by this rediscounting of advances being applied as partial repayment of the amount loaned in the assumption of deposits. The advances re-discounted in this manner are under the guaranty of the Sovereign Bank, and the banks are given the right to charge back to it all such advances within six months. The agreement conveyed to the trustees for the assisting banks all the free liquid assets of the bank to be realized by them in the best interests of all concerned. The real estate, bank premises, &c., being assets on which a bank may not lend money, were not conveyed to the trustees. Provision was made that unless with the consent of the majority of the assisting banks, no bank will demand repayment of its advances for two years from the date of the agreement. In order to facilitate the liquidation the number of trustees was reduced on Feb. 11, W. E. Stavert becoming sole trustee.

London, Saturday, March 28, 1908.

The week is closing with a very much more hopeful spirit upon the Stock Exchange and with a general upward movement. All careful observers had satisfied themselves some time ago that the "bears", taking advantage of dear, or rather of scarce money, for money can hardly with truth be described as having been at any time during the past month dear, had hammered the markets to the utmost of their ability. There was at the same time some apprehension that further serious failures would occur in Germany and there was much depression in France, chiefly due to the unsatisfactory state of things in Morocco, but to some extent due also to the discussion of the Income Tax Bill and to the fear of Socialism. In Germany, liquidation upon a great scale was going on and people in London were quite uncertain what view to take of the immediate course of events in the United States. Over and above all this, the supposed influence of the Socialist Party with the present British Government, and some of the bills proposed, especially the Licensing Bill, had given alarm to powerful interests.

For all these reasons, the resisting power of markets was much less than it usually is and the "bears" for a time carried everything before them. Now, however, they find that they have come to the end of their tether and it appears quite clear that we are about to see a general recovery. The improvement has begun with British railway stocks, which especially fell under the attacks of the "bears." The railway traffic returns are very unsatisfactory and there are fears that the arbitrators may decide against the companies in regard to wages. Nevertheless, the attacks of the "bears" have had little result for some time past and everybody seems to be now agreed that the bottom has been reached. Accordingly, during the past couple of days there has been a decided recovery in British railway stocks.

As yet there has been little change in Consols. They have wonderfully well maintained the rise established in January, the recession being quite unimportant. But, whereas Consols led the rise in January, they are rather stagnant just at present. Yet the best judges are of the opinion that there will be a more decided advance in Consols than in British railway stocks. Their reason for the opinion a that it is clear now that there will be a very large surplus it the end of the financial year and that therefore during the year beginning with April 1 sinking fund applicable for the redemption of debt will be almost, if not quite, 15 millions sterling. As there has been a very large sinking fund in operation during the past two years, so immense a sum to be laid out in cancelling debt during the next twelve months can hardly fail to bring about a great recovery in quotations.

Respecting the American market nobody here ventures upon a decided opinion. It will depend entirely upon the course of events in the United States itself. On the other hand, the course of the foreign market will largely depend upon Paris. That there is an immense accumulation of unemployed money in France everybody knows, but whether it will be inclined to invest boldly remains to be seen. No doubt a decided recovery in London will have a stimulating effect upon Paris and if the recovery in copper is carried farther, that will recoup many of those who lost heavily towards the end of last year. Still, that there can be real activity in Paris until the outlook in Morocco is more reassuring is difficult to believe.

Money still continues in strong demand, but in a week from now at the outside the effect of the large tax collections will have passed away and then we shall enter upon a period of great ease. The general expectation in the market is that early in April the Bank rate will be reduced to 2½ per cent and if everything goes smoothly abroad it is even hoped that we may see a 2-per-cent rate some time in May. Of course, expectations of this kind may be disappointed, inasmuch as the Imperial Bank of Germany needs strengthening and inasmuch also as the anxieties of Frenchmen because of Morocco are great. But as far as can be seen at present most of the gold offering in the open market will be secured by the Bank of England, and if it is the Bank will become so strong that it is difficult to see how it can avoid putting down its rate to 2 per cent.

The India Council offered for tender on Wednesday 20 lacs of its bills and the applications only amounted to Rs.35,000 at prices ranging from 1s. 3 7/8d. to 1s. 3 29-32d. per rupee. Applicants for bills at 1s. 3 29-32d. per rupee were allotted in full.

Messrs. Pixley & Abell write as follows under date of March 6.

GOLD.—Paris was a competitor for the gold this week, the check having fallen as low as 25.14 on the reduction of the Bank rate here. The Bank of England bought none, and, after satisfying the demand for India and the trade, the balance was divided between France and the usual German buyer. The Bank has received £268,000 during the week, of which £41,000 is in bars and £222,000 from Egypt. £326,000 has been withdrawn, £220,000 going to South America. Arrivals: Cape, £460,000; Australia, £25,000; West Africa, £15,000; West Indies, £17,000; New Zealand, £20,000; total, £537,000. Shipments—Bombay, £60,000; Calcutta, £18,000; total, £78,000.

SILVER.—Movements in silver are again very small, and 25 9-16d. has been the working level, with fluctuations of 1-16d. either way. The chief demand has been for India, and it is becoming increasingly a matter of wonder as to how long this can continue, the amount already shipped since the beginning of this year being close on two millions sterling. America is a readier seller, and it seems to be clear that the United States Government has bought all it requires for the present. The price in India is Rs. 65 15-16. Arrivals: New York, £243,000; New Zealand, £9,000; West Indies, £12,000; Chile, £6,000; total, £271,000. Shipments—Bombay, £137,500; Calcutta, £5,500; total, £143,000.

Wall Street, Friday Night, April 10 1908.

The Money Market and Financial Situation.—Again this week the most thoroughly controlling factor in Wall Street operations has been the Erie Railroad's financial needs and the plans made to provide for them. Little else has received attention in financial circles or had any perceptible effect upon the security markets, and when, at the last moment, a plan was announced which met with general approval, especially by holders of the maturing notes, the markets responded with unusual promptness and vigor.

The Government crop report relating to winter wheat issued this week was a favorable one. It caused a decline in the wheat market, and perhaps contributed to the rather sharp advance which some of the Southwestern shares have made since the report was issued.

Foreign exchange rates have advanced in this market and are now at or near the point at which gold is sometimes shipped from this country to Europe. At the same time the Bank of England reports an increase in its percentage of reserve, which is now well above the average at this season. The local money market is easier on a limited demand, especially for time loans, and rates show a drooping tendency.

The open market rates for call loans on the Stock Exchange during the week on stock and bond collaterals have ranged from 1½% to 2%. To-day's rates on call were 1½@2%. Commercial paper quoted at 4½@5% for choice 60 to 90-day endorsements and for 4-months single names and 5½ for 6 months high-grade single names.

The Bank of England weekly statement on Thursday showed a decrease in bullion of £1,041,858, and the per cent of reserve to liabilities was 51.28, against 49.50 last week.

The rate of discount remains unchanged at 3%, as fixed March 19. The Bank of France shows an increase of 9,800,000 francs gold and 775,000 francs silver.

State and Railroad Bonds.—Sales of State bonds at the Board include $35,000 Virginia 6s deferred trust receipts at 27 to 30 and $5,000 Tennessee settlement 3s at 94.

The market for railway and industrial bonds has become decidedly more active during the last 2 or 3 days in sympathy with the quickening of the stock market. The transactions on Thursday amounted to nearly $5,000,000, par value, which is from three to four times their recent average.

Interborough-Metropolitan 4½s have been conspicuous for activity and an advance of nearly 6 points. Erie bonds have been in request at from 3 to 5 points higher than last week.

United States Bonds.—Sales of Government bonds at the Board are limited to $2,000 3s coupon, 1908-18, at 101 to 101½ and $4,000 4s coupon, 1925, at 123. The following are the daily closing quotations; for yearly range see third page following.

Railroad and Miscellaneous Stocks.—The stock market was exceptionally dull and fluctuations were narrow during the early part of the week. The transactions aggregated less than 260,000 shares on Tuesday, one of the dullest days of the season, and not until late on Wednesday did the market show any signs of activity. With the increasing demand for stocks which has developed, as noted above, there has been a corresponding advance in prices, and practically the entire list is an average of about 3 points higher than last week.

Metropolitan Railroad experienced a sensational advance from 19 to 35, said to be based on the prospect of increased earnings. The Erie stocks were of course favorably affected by the new financial plan, and advanced from 4 to 5 points. Canadian Pacific moved up nearly 6 points, about half of which it retains. Missouri Pacific advanced 4½ points, Union Pacific nearly as much and Reading 3. Naturally there were liberal sales in to-day's market to realize the profits indicated and closing prices are in many cases, somewhat below the highest.

Industrial stocks shared in the general upward movement, although in a more moderate fashion, and, except in the case of General Electric, which has advanced about 7 points, there are no exceptional features.

Outside Market.—An unusually dull market has been experienced in "curb" securities this week. Trading in the generally active mining issues was in small volume, the Goldfield stocks and low-priced mining issues receiving more than the customary share of attention. Erie RR. old notes were an interesting feature. They sold early in the week at 88½ and 92 and at the opening on Wednesday at 90¼, but at the close the same day, on active dealings, had jumped to 97, attributable, no doubt, to reports that the company's financing had been arranged. This was confirmed on Thursday by the announcement of Mr. E. H. Harriman's offer to provide for the retirement of the notes, which then advanced to 100½. The new 6% notes were traded in to-day for the first time at 95⅛ and 95. Boston Consolidated Copper fell from 12⅝ to 11⅜ and closed to-day at 11½. Butte Coalition advanced from 20¾ to 21⅛, sank to 19¾ and to-day sold up to 21¼. Cumberland-Ely was traded in down from 8½ to 8, but to-day recovered to 8¼. Greene Cananea fluctuated between 8⅝ and 8⅞ and Nevada Consolidated between 11 and 11⅝. United Copper common sold up from 6½ to 7⅜ and back to 6⅞. Goldfield Consolidated was active, the price ranging between 5 5-16 and 6, with the final figure at 5 15-16. Yukon Gold sold at its lowest this week—from 5 down to 4⅜ and to-day closed at 4⅝. Nipissing ranged between 6½ and 6¾. Tonopah Mining, after selling between 7¾ and 7½, jumped to 8 3-16, the close to-day being at 8⅛. Among industrials Standard Oil moved up from 530 to 539. Chicago Subway advanced from 17¾ to 19.

RAILROAD GROSS EARNINGS.

The following table shows the gross earnings of every STEAM railroad from which regular weekly or monthly returns can be obtained. The first two columns of figures give the gross earnings for the latest week or month, and the last two columns the earnings for the period from July 1 to and including such latest week or month. We add a supplementary statement to show the fiscal year totals of those roads whose fiscal year does not begin with July, but covers some other period. The returns of the street railways are brought together separately on a subsequent page.

c Figures revised for previous year so as to accord with the new classification of earnings and expenses now required by the Inter-State Commerce Commission.

p For February additional income was $7,510, against $3,244 in 1907, and for period from July 1 to Feb. 29 was $57,915 in 1908, against $25,026 in 1907.

r For February 1908 net from Coal Department was $71,108, against $75,661 last year, and from Jan. 1 to Feb. 29 was $140,406 in 1908, against $204,168 last year.

x In accordance with the contract of Nov. 1 1907 between the Atlantic & Birmingham Construction Co. and the Atl. Birm. & Atl. RR. Co., the Construction Co., as the part of expenses chargeable to it on account of the unfinished condition of the work and the interference by its work with the operation, pays each month to the Rail Road Co. such portion of the operating expenses as equals the excess of the total operating expenses above 70% of the total operating revenue.

x These figures are on the basis of accounting required by the Inter-State Commerce Commission.

Interest Charges and Surplus.—The following roads, in addition to their gross and net earnings given in the foregoing, also report charges for interest, &c., with the surplus above or deficit below these charges.

Delaware & Hudson Company.

(Report for Fiscal Year ending Dec. 31 1907.)

The annual report for the late fiscal year, prepared under the direction of Third Vice-President W. H. Williams, includes not only the report of the parent company, but also separate statements, with map of line and diagram of growth of earnings for each of the controlled properties.

President L. F. Loree says in substance:

Financial.—The condensed balance sheet shows an increase in capital liabilities of $23,225,019, the principal changes being as follows:

|---|---|
| Additional capital stock issued in exchange for $23,000 D. & H. 4% convertible debentures of 1906 ($11,500) and in exchange for $2,799,000 A. & S. convertible first mortgage bonds ($1,399,500) | $1,411,000 |
| Issue of 15-year 4½% "first lien equipment gold bonds" under date of July 1 1907 (see offering in V. 84, p. 1307.—Ed.) | 10,000,000 |
| Floating debt incurred principally in the purchase of securities of other corporations, new construction and advances to subsidiary companies for construction purposes and for payments on new coal lands | 10,754,950 |
| Reduction in car trust certificates of 1899, $150,000; in debentures of 1900, $200,000; and in convertible debenture bonds of 1906, $23,000; total reduction | 373,000 |

Securities of Other Corporations.—The total value of the securities of other corporations held by your company Dec. 31 1907 was $32,203,146, and direct revenue therefrom during the year was $1,117,672, being nearly 3.5% upon the cost thereof.

The annual report for 1906 stated that the United Traction Co. had acquired control of the Hudson Valley Railway Co. and that the cost thereof had been financed temporarily through the Northern New York Development Co. Early in 1907 the Traction Co. increased its capital stock and exchanged the additional shares for the securities of the Hudson Valley Railway Co., and the Northern New York Development Co. delivered to The Delaware & Hudson Co. said shares of stock of the Traction Co. in exchange for the Hudson Valley securities, thus increasing the value of the United Traction Co. securities in the possession of The Delaware & Hudson Co. by $5,000,000.

The holdings of Albany & Susquehanna RR. Co. 3½% first mortgage bonds show an increase of $2,799,000, being the value of the bonds received in exchange for 13,995 shares of the capital stock of The Delaware & Hudson Co.

This company acquired in 1906 control of all the stock and bonds of the Troy & New England Ry. at a cost of $230,868. This purchase was temporarily financed in 1906 through the Northern New York Development Co., and the securities were turned over to the Delaware & Hudson Co. at cost during the early part of 1907.

New Freight Equipment.—The deliveries of the new freight equipment cars covered by the equipment trust indenture were not completed until Dec. 1907, but a sufficient number of cars was received throughout the year to permit of a large increase in the coal tonnage carried, and to enable us to handle other traffic expeditiously. In 1907 the per diem balance on freight cars amounted to $77,110 in favor of the company as against a balance of $297,989 in favor of foreign lines during the year 1906.

Appraisement of Equipment.—An appraisement of the equipment made in December by an expert mechanical engineer places the aggregate value as of Dec. 31 1907 at $25,563,798 for the equipment owned by The Delaware & Hudson Co., the Albany & Susquehanna RR. Co. and the Rensselaer & Saratoga RR. Co. This exceeds by $598,295 the amount at which the equipment is carried in their accounts.

Important Additions and Betterments.—The construction of a third and fourth track between Ballston and Saratoga, and the electrification of same, was completed. This line is being operated jointly by the Schenectady Ry. Co. and the Hudson Valley Ry. Co.

The third and fourth tracks under construction between Green Ridge and Carbondale, on the Pennsylvania Division, have been practically completed and should result in more economical operation. Traffic in this section is very dense, and includes nearly all the coal and merchandise traffic from the south and numerous passenger trains.

The construction of the second track between Watervliet and Waterford Junction is nearing completion. This line carries our heaviest passenger business, amounting in summer to sixty or more trains per day.

The construction of the second track between Delanson and Schenectady, which carries with it the improvement of grades and alignment, is within 10% of completion. All of the company's north-bound coal traffic and the great bulk of its merchandise traffic pass over this line of road. This new second track will have a maximum and substantially uniform grade of 45 feet to the mile southbound, and will eliminate much expense for pusher engines.

Block Signaling.—Forty-five miles of single track and 111 miles of double track have been equipped with automatic block signals during the year 1907. The total number of miles so equipped is now 408, of which 177 miles are single track and 231 miles second, third and fourth track.

Coal Lands.—It has been the policy of the company for many years past to acquire additional coal lands as opportunity afforded. As the result of a careful examination of the coal lands owned and controlled by the company in 1898, the estimated minable tonnage at that time was placed at 250,000,000 tons. Some small purchases were subsequently made, and, as will be noted by the annual report for the year 1904, the total estimated tonnage controlled by the company on Dec. 31 of that year was 218,644,286. It was possible that this amount might be exhausted in less than 25 years.

The only remaining tracts of anthracite coal lands which were of sufficient magnitude to permit of successful mining operations, and which could be purchased at reasonable prices, were found in Schuylkill County, Pa., and after careful examination 9 tracts were acquired. Parties who have expended sufficient sums to install a modern development in this field operating shaft mines have had their investment prove a profitable one.

In the summer of 1905 a careful examination was made of various parcels of anthracite coal lands, including among others the tracts known as the Albright, Thuron, Ronaldson, Navigation, Chamberlain, Schall & Bannan, Sheafer, Spayd, and the Eckel & Spangler, and also tracts known as the Holyoke, Bickel, Schall & Reppller, Pott & Bannan, Keffer, Bannan, Miller, Borles and others.

After thorough examinations the following selected tracts were acquired in the interest of the Hudson Coal Co., all the stock of which is owned by The Delaware & Hudson Co.

| Name of Tract— | Acreage of Surf. | Coal Land Area. | Estimated Gross Tonnage. | Estimated Tons Minable Coal. |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Albright, fee | 431 | 510 | 103,639,620 | 65,902,310 |

| Totals | 2,434 | 3,461 | 650,584,136 | 423,265,353 |

a By adjustment with adjoining property owners, the coal and surface areas are not identical.
b About 15 acres of surface are included in the 297 acres and 6 acres are contiguous property.

The total consideration paid for the above-named properties was $5,219,850, being 8 mills per ton on the estimated gross tonnage, and 1.23 cents per ton on the estimated tons of minable coal.

The titles to these properties were taken in the name of two Pennsylvania mining companies, namely, the Schuylkill Coal & Iron Co. and the Shanferoke Coal Co., all the stock of each of these companies being owned by the Hudson Coal Co.

The Schall & Bannan and the Sheafer tracts are held by the Shanferoke Coal Co., while all the other tracts are held by the Schuylkill Coal & Iron Co.

Coal Department Operations.—The collieries and washeries of the company were operated to their full capacity throughout the year, producing 6,623,508 tons of anthracite coal out of a total of 67,109,393 produced in the region. At the close of the year there were in the several storgage plants 374,984 tons.

The coal department expenses include construction and betterments amounting to $723,551. They also include $100,000 debentures of 1901 and $135,000 debentures of 1902 of Hudson Coal Co. retired during year.

Railroad Operations.—During the year 1907 the railroads of the company handled a much larger traffic than during any previous year. The earnings from transportation of merchandise increased $583,271 and the earnings from transportation of coal increased $2,415,932. The passenger traffic revenue increased $131,327.

The practice of crediting earnings a nominal rate per ton mile and charging expenses an equal amount for the transportation of material for company's use was discontinued Sept. 1 1907. As this nominal rate was less than the rate for commercial freight, the change is reflected in the increase shown in the average rate per ton mile.

The operating expenses of the railroads increased $1,458,452, due to the increased volume of traffic and increases in cost of material and labor.

The year 1907 marked the culmination of advances in prices of material that began in the fall of 1905. There was an increase over the prices in 1906 in cross-ties ranging from 11 to 13%; finished products of iron and steel, such as axles, gray iron castings, steel castings, and malleable castings, from 12 to 20%. In common with the other railroads of the country, during the early part of 1907 there was an increase in wages equivalent to about 7% of our aggregate pay-roll.

Albany & Susquehanna Litigation.—In June 1906 a suit was instituted against this company on behalf of the Albany & Susquehanna Co., claiming that that company should have the benefit of the saving of interest made upon the refunding in 1876, and again in 1906, of $3,450,000 of the old Albany & Susquehanna 7% mortgage bonds, the interest on which is paid by this company as lessee as part of the rental. A judgment of $1,107,923 was entered against the company in this suit on Jan. 24 1908, but the company has taken an appeal to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, and expects to secure a reversal. If the judgment is not reversed, the amount paid as rental this year will be increased by about $120,000. (V. 86, p. 284.)

Legislation.—The enactment of the 8-hour law in the State of New York, which became effective on Nov. 1 1907, caused a material increase in the cost of telegraph service. This, together with the new accounting system, the new regulations governing the issuance of freight and passenger tariffs, the law regulating the washing of locomotive boilers, and other laws affecting the operations of transportation companies, have caused increases in the expenses of the company aggregating approximately $200,000 per annum. The taxes paid by the coal department in 1907 increased $55,702, and still further increases are anticipated in 1908.

Vandalia Railroad Company.

President Joseph Wood, Pittsburgh, March 23, writes in substance:

Results on Road Proper.—The gross earnings increased $1,093,714, or 13.35%, due chiefly to the increase in freight traffic hauled, the average rate received per ton per mile being 1-10 mill less than that received in 1906. The operating expenses, including taxes, increased $920,354, or 14.59%, mainly due to extraordinary repairs and renewals of roadway and equipment, to the general advance of 10% in wages and salaries, effective Dec. 1 1906, and to additional expenses of transportation incident to the increased traffic handled.

The increase in freight earnings was $841,085, or 15.51%, with an increase of 15.95% in tons one mile. The items showing the largest increase were bituminous and anthracite coal, coke, stone, sand and like articles, grain and live-stock, bar and sheet metal, petroleum and other oils, and other articles of manufactures. The average rate received per ton per mile was 6.9 mills, as compared with 7 mills for the year 1906.

The earnings from passenger traffic increased $203,020, or 9.80%, with an increase of 17.26% in passengers one mile. The average rate received per passenger per mile was 2.06 cents, as compared with 2.19 cents for 1906.

Extraordinary Expenditures, &c.—There was expended during the year 1907 and charged to income account, and against extraordinary expenditure and renewal funds, $568,212, viz.: Excess cost of renewing freight cars in steel in place of wood, $58,957; two new baggage-express cars, part cost of two new postal cars and air brakes, $23,694; revision of grades in connection with double-track work, construction of yard and side-tracks, &c., $485,561.

General Remarks.—The total tonnage moved over all lines during the year increased 14.83%, and the ton mileage increased 16.10%. Nearly one-half of the increased tonnage was from bituminous coal, which made up over 46% of the total tonnage carried. The average rate received per ton mile was 6.8 mills, a decrease of 2-10 of a mill as compared with the preceding year, and the cost per ton increased 2-10 of a mill, so that the net earnings per ton mile were 1.2 mills, as compared with 1.6 mills in 1906.

The number of passengers carried on all lines increased 18.32% and the passenger mileage increased 16.20%. The average rate received per passenger per mile was 2.07 cents, as compared with 2.20 cents received in 1906; the cost per passenger per mile decreased 25-100 cents and there was a decrease of 12-100 cents in the loss per passenger per mile as compared with the previous year.

The maximum rate of passenger fares in Illinois was reduced by legislative action from 3 cents per mile to 2 cents per mile, effective July 1. The result on the Terre Haute & Peoria RR., which is wholly within the State (less than 3% of the passengers carried being inter-State passengers) shows that the claim that increased travel would more than compensate for the decreased rate is not borne out. During the last six months of the year in which the 2-cent rate was in effect, the number of intra-State passengers increased 18.15%, while there was a decrease of 4.46% in the earnings therefrom.

After providing for all charges for the year, the net income was sufficient to pay a dividend of 5%, to supply $80,542 for extraordinary expenditures in the reduction of grades, changes in alignment, additional tracks, improvement of facilities, and leave a balance of $270,083, which was transferred to the credit of profit and loss.

Stock.—There was issued during the year 1907, under the agreement of consolidation, $446,550 stock of the company, as follows: In exchange for $148,550 stock of Terre Haute & Indianapolis RR. Co., $445,650; $450 common stock of St. Louis Vandalia & Terre Haute RR. Co., $900.

Bonds.—In order to provide the necessary funds to redeem prior lien bonds of constituent organizations, namely $1,700,000 first mortgage 7% bonds of the Indianapolis & Vincennes RR. Co. maturing Feb. 1 1908 and $500,000 first mortgage 6% bonds of Terre Haute & Logansport RR. Co. maturing Jan. 1 1910, and for capital expenditures and other corporate purposes, your board authorized the creation of an additional series of bonds under the consolidated mortgage of March 16 1905, to be designated series "B," and to consist of $10,000,000 of bonds dated Nov. 1 1907, to run for 50 years and to bear a rate of interest not exceeding 4% per annum.

Additions and Improvements.—The expenditures on capital account during the year aggregated $1,461,583, as follows: Second track between Indianapolis and Farrington, $747,263; track elevation and change of line, Indianapolis, $67,978; additional passing, yard and side tracks, &c., $59,744; 400 steel gondola cars added to freight car equipment in 1907, $460,933 8 additional locomotives, $123,981; other, $1,684.

The expenditures charged to capital account since date of consolidation, Jan. 1 1905, aggregate $4,142,395.

The elevation of your tracks in Indianapolis and the change of line in connection therewith, under agreement of Nov. 1905, were completed and the new tracks put in service.

Satisfactory progress was made with the double track work between Indianapolis and Farrington; 4 miles was substantially completed and is now in service; 15¼ miles was practically finished and 4 miles was placed in service in September. The section through Terre Haute has not been completed, owing to delay as to necessary ordinances. The section from the Wabash River to Macksville, 2 miles, will be put in service in the spring.

The work of reducing the heavy grades on your Vincennes Division was steadily prosecuted, so that it has been possible to effect a substantial increase in freight-train loads, with the result of a material reduction in the cost of transportation on this division, the traffic of which consists chiefly of bituminous coal from the coal fields in Greene, Sullivan and Knox counties, Indiana.

Present Business.—The revenues of your lines, in common with other transportation lines of the country, are now largely affected by the sharp contraction in every branch of industry which followed so closely after the financial panic in the latter part of the year, and the consequent reduction in volume of traffic has resulted generally in either enforced idleness or a material reduction in the hours of labor of a large number of railway employees.

Havana Electric Railway.

(Report for Fiscal Year ending Dec. 31 1907.)

President Warren Bicknell says in part:

During the year dividends aggregating 5½% on the preferred shares have been declared and paid by the company.

The track mile earnings during the year were in excess of $36,000, clearly indicating that the maximum earnings upon the present track mileage of the company is being approximated and that additional mileage will soon be required to properly handle the increased traffic incident to the normal growth of the city. In anticipation of this necessity, the company has now pending before the proper authorities an application for the right to construct the additional trackage required, and favorable action upon this application is anticipated.

Much labor trouble has existed in Havana during the past year and it is exceedingly gratifying to us to note, in this connection, the harmonious and cordial relations existing at this time between the employese and the management of the company.

General Manager F. Steinhart says in substance:

The population of Havana, according to the census taken during the fall of 1907, is 294,583, and the total mileage of our railway system, deducting 6.06 miles for sidings, &c., is 50 miles. During the year the number of cars in daily active service was between 175 and 200, according to the requirements of the traffic. The daily earnings averaged $4,962 34, equal to $36,217 76 per track mile for the year. The daily earnings for the prezious year averaged $4,302 19, equal to $31,406 03 per track mile. Dividing the year 1907 into two equal parts, we find the daily earnings during the first six months to be $4,840 63 and $5,080 07 during the second half of the year.

While the increase in gross receipts for the second half of the year, as compared with the first half, was $58,579, the operating expenses for the last half of the year were $79,686 less than the first half, making the net receipts $138,266 greater than during the first six months. The company has improved and added to its track and roadway, its power plant and to its rolling stock, and introduced various other operating improvements.

National Lead Company.

President L. A. Cole says in substance:

General Results.—The years' business shows net earnings of $2,942,245, or an increase of $442,613 over that of the preceding year. The regular quarterly dividends on preferred stock aggregated $1,705,732 and dividends of 1% on the common stock for the first quarter of the year and 1¼% for the remaining three-quarters aggregated $981,131. The undistributed remainder, $255,382, was added to the previous surplus, showing a credit to surplus account Dec. 31 1907 of $4,294,204. Operating expense was charged with $227,181 for necessary repairs and in the maintenance of all plants at their highest efficiency.

The financial statement indicates a satisfactory condition of the finances of the company. For a number of years the great stocks of raw material which it is necessary to carry have been inventoried at protective figures, and to-day they could not be replaced at such values.

New Stock.—A further issue of $3,750,000 in preferred stock has been made in payment for the properties mentioned in our last annual report. The properties referred to, together with your mining property, have been useful sources of revenue in the year under review. (Compare V. 84, p. 802, 452.)

Outlook.—The volume of business for the year exceeded that of any in our history, notwithstanding the paralyzed condition of trade in November and December. Experience of sixteen years teaches us that our business is less susceptible to the fluctuations of trade than many others. At this writing a comparison so far this year with the unprecedented volume of business done last year at the same time shows a shrinkage of 13½%, which we hope to overcome as the season progresses, in view of the constantly improving conditions.

Shareholders.—The company's records show an increasingly wide distribution of its stock, 5,566 checks having been sent out in payment of the last dividends. There is no controlling interest and no exceptionally large holding. Prior to the formation of this company less than 150 persons shared directly in the profits of the various properties which later became part of National Lead Co.

Rubber Goods Manufacturing Co., New York.

(Report for Fiscal Year ending March 31 1908.)

President Charles H. Dale says in substance:

The figures in the report have been arrived at after the exercise of the most careful conservatism.

As in several years last past, perhaps the first consideration has been given to maintaining and in fact appreciating the investment by keeping up the various manufacturing plants to the highest degree of efficiency. The high standard of excellence of the various manufactured products—notably hose, belting, packing, tiling, rubber, thread, and automobile, bicycle and vehicle tires—has also been maintained, and undoubtedly the result will be made evident and bear fruit when normal business conditions shall be re-established.

Through the ownership of the General Rubber Co. by your company and the United States Rubber Co., your company has participated therein to the extent of practically its entire requirements of crude rubber. Wherever feasible the large selling organizations of the United States Rubber Co. have been utilized, so that the opportunities made possible by the ownership of stock in your company by the United States Rubber Co. have been grasped and their benefits acquired by your company.

Bethlehem Steel Corporation.

(Report for the Fiscal Year ending Dec. 31 1907.)

C. M. Schwab, President and Chairman of Board, April 7 1908 wrote:

Repairs.—During the year there was charged to cost of operations, for ordinary and extraordinary repairs and maintenance, $1,726,547, but this appears in the profit and loss (and income) account only in so far as material on which work was done during the year was shipped. On the other hand, all shipments on which work was done in previous years carry in their cost their proportion of the repairs of these years. Consequently it can be said that repairs to the amount of approximately $1,700,000 have been deducted from the profits of this year.

Orders.—The total estimated value of orders booked by the Corporation during the year aggregated $15,615,019, with an estimated value of unfilled orders on hand Dec. 31 1907 of $8,425,737.

While the effect of the recent financial depression has been felt considerably in the past few months, and is reflected in the diminished orders booked for miscellaneous work, your directors believe that the increased earning power of the new mills will, in a large measure, offset the natural decrease in the earnings from the old plant.

Employees.—The number of employees of the Corporation on Dec. 31 1907 was 9,783, as compared with 13,423 Dec. 31 1906, 13,354 Dec. 31 1905 and 9,461 Dec. 31 1904.

Bethlehem Steel Co.—New Plants.—During the year two of the new mills referred to in previous reports were completed, together with the open-hearth furnaces and the boiler, pumping and electrical plants, railroads, &c., necessary for their operation. The first rail was rolled on the new rail mill Sept. 3 1907, and to Dec. 31 1907 there had been produced on this mill 33,754 tons of open-hearth steel rails. The first beam was rolled on the special structural mill Jan. 9 1908 and this mill is now operating successfully. The 28-inch standard structural mill is now being completed, and is expected to be ready to begin rolling about July 1 next. The improvements on the old plant contemplated at the time of the first extension mortgage bond issue being also practically completed, the following statement is presented of the expenditures to Dec. 31 1907 on the additions and improvements for which this issue was created:

|---|---|
| Original plant: Reimbursement for additions and improvements during the latter part of 1905 | $1,000,000 |
| Similar expenditures during 1906-07 | 3,638,778 |
| Total expenditures on new plant to Dec. 31 1907 | 8,322,215 |
| Total capital expenditures | $12,960,993 |

While the new plant as originally contemplated in design has been practically completed, it will become desirable to make still further expenditures to attain the full efficiency and economy for the plant, although these expenditures will not involve any great outlay and can be undertaken as conditions warrant.

Serial Notes.—In order to finance the expenditures on improvements in excess of the proceeds from the first extension mortgage bonds, and to provide the increased working capital required by the new plant, the Bethlehem Steel Co. on July 1 1907 issued $2,500,000 6% serial gold notes, of which one-fifth mature July 1 1910, one-fifth July 1 1911 and three-fifths July 1 1912. Of these notes, $1,887,000 have been sold or deposited on agreements of sale, and of the balance, $591,000 are deposited as collateral for a special loan arranged by the officers of your Corporation Oct. 2 1907. (Compare V. 84, p. 1489; V. 85, p. 724.)

Government Orders.—The wisdom of offsetting by the erection of this new plant the anticipated decrease of Government orders has been fully justified, as is shown by a comparison of the total work on hand for the Government on Dec. 31, as follows: 1905, $4,455,470; 1906, $4,056,062: 1907, $2,635,056.

Iron Mines.—The mines of the Juragua Iron Co., a subsidiary company to the Bethlehem Steel Co., have been in continuous operation during the year, producing 181,063 tons of Bessemer ore, all of which has been shipped to Bethlehem Steel Co. Development work shows constantly increasing tonnages of ore proved up, and the mines are now shipping about 30,000 tons of ore per month, which will be gradually increased with the installation of new equipment and the opening of further ore bodies. The ownership of these iron ore mines constitutes a most valuable asset to the Bethlehem Steel Co. Further development of this property and the contemplated acquisition of new properties will place your company in a practically independent position as to its ore supply.

Union Iron Works Co.—This company has completed six of the seven ships losses on which were provided for in the report of 1906, the seventh being practically completed and to be delivered in April or May 1908. These ships have been completed at somewhat less loss than that anticipated and provided for last year. The results of the operation of this plant for the year have been very gratifying, resulting in a considerable profit realized, principally on repair work.

Samuel L. Moore & Sons Corporation.—The Eastern Shipbuilding Corporation has been sold and the Crescent and Carteret plants have been consolidated with the Samuel L. Moore & Sons Corporation. The plant of the last-named company has made progress in the development of special lines of machinery and, it is expected, will show a profit from these operations during the current year.

Harlan & Hollingsworth Corporation.—While the effects of the recent depression have been felt at all of your plants, they have been particularly noticeable in the case of the Harlan & Hollingsworth Corporation. Up to the last few months the operations of this plant were very successful, and while it closed the year with a satisfactory profit, the figure was reduced by the losses due to the comparative idleness of the plant during the latter part of the year.

Consolidated Cotton Duck Co. Baltimore.

The comparative figures of earnings and balance sheet were published in our issue of Feb. 22, page 478. The remarks made at the annual meeting Feb. 17 by S. Davies Warfield, Chairman of the board of directors, were recently issued in pamphlet form, giving the following particulars:

Your President's statement for the year 1907 shows income of $10,689,207 and net earnings of $704,565, after taking care of fixed charges on the underlying securities of both of the former constituent companies—a very satisfactory showing. This, after providing for the 6% dividend on the $6,000,000 of preferred stock, leaves a surplus equal to about 6% on the $7,000,000 of common stock. Your company owns the entire capital stock of the J. Spencer Turner Co. and the net earnings of that company for the twelve months, after providing for the fixed charges on its $1,600,000 of debentures was approximately $138,000, giving combined earnings from operations of the two companies, after bond and debenture charges were cared for, of over $842,000. There was charged off of earnings of the J. Spencer Turner Co., $57,000, in closing out two or three mill accounts to meet changed industrial conditions. The Turner Co. also retired $77,000 of its debentures.

In the manufacture of 47,664,690 lbs. of goods—last year's output of your company—there was paid for mill labor alone $1,863,459, as against $1,641,991 for 1906 on a production of 46,500,000 lbs. This is an increase for mill labor alone of $221,000 in 1907 on a slightly increased production. In 1905, with a production of approximately 600,000 lbs. more than 1907, there was paid out for mill labor about $300,000 less than in 1907. The year 1906 was a banner year for the earnings of these properties, and on comparison of 1907 with that year the decrease in net earnings of 1907 of $204,000 was more than covered by the increase in the amount paid out for mill labor alone.

In view of the general depression, your directors were satisfied that existing conditions must result in the curtailment in output for the present at least, and it has been deemed wise to restore the general salary and wage account to at least the basis of 1906. In extending this policy your President's report shows that $255,834 has been charged off merchandise and material account. During the year there was a reduction in liabilities of $235,899.

The management, to keep pace with modern manufacturing methods, has made many improvements in the mills of your company. The amount expended for additions, betterments and improvements for 1907 was $211,597, exclusive of $113,600 charged to depreciation account during the year. Since the formation of the Mount Vernon-Woodberry Cotton Duck Co there has been expended on all properties $1,813,133 for additions, betterments and improvements, without regard to money spent on repairs and renewals. Such expenditures must necessarily attach itself to a company such as yours, manufacturing a staple commodity, the demand for which extends to the markets of the world, and owning exclusive brands with the prestige of many years (see list of brands in V. 84, p. 801). The property of your company is one of great intrinsic value.

(1.) $5,500,000 for exchange at par of the notes due April 8 1908;

2. Not less than $5,000,000 to be sold at par for cash for corporate purposes authorized by order of the Public Service Commission.

The sale and purchase of these notes at par having been underwritten without commission or cost to the company upon the express condition (and not otherwise) that all of the said $5,500,000 unsecured notes maturing April 8 1908 shall have been exchanged, par for par, for these new secured 6% notes.

Maturing Notes Paid in Cash—Option of Exchange.—On April 8, when the $5,500,000 one-year notes matured, the holders of a considerable portion of the issue desired cash instead of the aforesaid new notes in exchange. E. H. Harriman, therefore, who as a director of the company, is said to have obtained for the company last year a loan from the Wells Fargo Express Co., made the following offer, which was accepted by the board:

8th April 1908.

To the Erie Railroad Co.

For the purpose of enabling your company to pay its $5,500,000 notes maturing this day, I offer to purchase $5,500,000 of new 6% collateral trust gold notes, payable April 8 1911, authorized by your board, at the price of 95 cents on the dollar, such price to be paid by me when and as, but only when and as, the same shall be required for and be applied to the payment of such $5,500,000 notes maturing to-day, and in consideration of the receipt of the new 6% collateral gold notes, secured as heretofore proposed, the notes and indenture to be substantially as considered and approved by my counsel.

Immediately upon your acceptance of this offer you are to cause announcement to be made to the holders of your said notes maturing to-day that they may receive payment thereof at par in cash, or, until and including Wednesday April 15 at their option, they will have the privilege of receiving for their present notes at par new 6% collateral trust notes at par and also cash to the amount of 5% of the new notes, less the interest accrued thereon. You may cause such payments and deliveries to them to be made out of the cash to be provided or out of the new notes receivable by me under this offer and its acceptance.

Yours truly,
E. H. HARRIMAN.

Accordingly, late the same day (April 8), J. P. Morgan & Co., under authority from the board, announced they were "prepared to pay to any note-holder presenting notes, or our receipts for notes already deposited, par for the said notes or at the option of the holder until and including April 15 1908, to deliver a new 3-year 6% collateral gold note and 5% in cash, less accrued interest on the note."

New Cash Provided.—The syndicate headed by J. P. Morgan & Co., it is announced, will take $5,000,000 of the new notes at par in accordance with the original plan above outlined, thus financing the company's requirements for a considerable period.—V. 86, p. 856, 602.

Liability to Employees.—Bill Passed by Congress.—The United States Senate on Thursday passed a bill which is designed to take the place of the "Employers' Liability Act" of June 11 1906 (declared unconstitutional by the United States Supreme Court on Jan. 6 last), providing for the payment of damages by inter-State roads to employees in case of accidents. Compare editorial in "Chronicle" of Jan. 11 1908, p. 76.

The enactment of an amended law to overcome the objections of the Supreme Court was urged by President Roosevelt in a recent special message to Congress. The bill abolishes the common-law exemption from liability when the accident takes place through the negligence of a fellow employee or the contributory negligence of the injured person, but in the latter case it is provided that the amount of the recovery shall be diminished by the jury in the same degree that the negligence of the injured person contributed to the injury.

National Railways of Mexico.—Plan for Readjustment and Union under this Title of the Mexican Central Ry. Co., Ltd., and National RR. Co. of Mexico.—The Mexican Government, which, through ownership of stock, already practically controls the National RR. Co. of Mexico, has caused to be prepared a plan for the readjustment and union of Mexican Central Ry. Co., Ltd., and National RR. The following have consented to act as readjustment managers:

In view of the approaching maturity in 1911 of the consolidated mortgage 4% bonds of the Mexican Central Ry. Co., provision has been made in the plan for these bonds. Co. of Mexico and the new company is to become liable, on the consummation of the plan, for the payment, both as to principal and interest, of the following:

Securities Co., Ltd., which holds over $37,500,000 consolidated mortgage 4% bonds of the Mexican Central Ry. Co., Ltd. The plan has also been approved by the holders of a majority of the outstanding stock of the Mexican Central Ry. Co., Ltd., and of the National RR. Co. of Mexico and by the respective boards of directors of the two companies last named.

The New Company.

In pursuance of legislation already enacted by the United States of Mexico, a company, hereinafter termed the new company, has been constituted in Mexico by public deed, under the name of Ferrocarriles Nacionales de Mexico (National Railways of Mexico). It is intended that the new company, which is to be controlled by the Mexican Government through ownership of stock, shall become vested with all securities embraced in the plan as finally carried out, and shall have corporate power to take over the direct ownership of the railroad properties of Mexican Central Ry. Co., Ltd., and of the National RR. Co. of Mexico, the "constituent companies."

Non-Cumulative 4% First Preferred Shares for 60,000,000 Mexican Gold Pesos or $30,000,000 United States Gold, subject to retirement at par for cash, conferring "on their holders the right to receive each year out of surplus profits, and before any dividend shall be paid for such year on any other class of shares, dividends up to 4% on their par value, but no deficiency in such dividend in any such year is to be made up out of the surplus profits of subsequent years." In case of liquidation to be entitled to repayment at par before any distribution to holders of any other class of shares. No increase of the issue shall be made and no additional mortgage or other lien shall be created on any of the property embraced in either of the aforesaid mortgages, except by the affirmative vote of a majority of the entire capital stock, and with the approval of a majority of the first preferred shares at the time outstanding.

To assure to the holders of first preferred shares the payment of semi-annual dividends of 1% for the period of three years from Jan. 1 1908, to the extent to which the net profits of the company which shall first be applied for that purpose shall not be sufficient to make such payment, provision is to be made for the setting aside by the company, as a separate fund, of $1,800,000 prior lien bonds and $1,200,000 guaranteed general mortgage bonds, or in case of a sale thereof, then a sufficient amount of the proceeds thereof.

After payment of such dividend of 5%, any residue of surplus profits distributable in dividends for such year is to be paid to the holders of the second preferred shares and to the holders of the common shares constituting part of the initial capital, in proportion to their respective holdings, without regard to class." In case of liquidation the second preferred shares are to be entitled to repayment at par, after payment of the first preferred shares.

The second preferred shares may be increased or reduced by the affirmative vote of a majority of the entire capital stock and with the approval of the holders of a majority in amount of the second preferred shares present and voting. Any such reduction, unless effected by cancellation of shares held by the company or purchased by it in the open market, shall be made by pro rata distribution in cash among the shareholders and the corresponding reduction at par of the number or of the amount of the shares.

Common Shares for 150,000,000 Mexican Gold Pesos or $75,000,000 United States Gold (as to dividend rights see second preferred shares above).—In case of any increase in the common shares beyond the initial amount of 150,000,000 pesos, the additional common shares shall not be entitled to any dividends.

S. gold) out of the surplus profits, by setting aside annually for this purpose not exceeding 5% of such net profits, such fund to be available for such purposes as the general meeting of the shareholders may determine, including the equalization and maintenance of dividends.

Position of Mexican Government.

The Mexican Government is to guarantee by endorsement, both as to principal and interest, the payment of the general mortgage bonds, and is to receive: $6,000,000 prior lien 4½% bonds, $2,450,000 guaranteed general mortgage 4% bonds, $63,730,000 common shares. If the Government shall make any payments on or its guaranty, the Government is to be deemed a creditor of the new company for the amounts so paid, and entitled to repayment with interest at the rate of 4% per annum, and, except in liquidation, such repayment is to be made only out of net profits otherwise distributable in dividends, and before any dividend may be paid on any class of shares, other than dividends on the first preferred shares distributed out of the dividend guaranty fund. It is held that the new system would be in conflict with that required by the Inter-State Commerce Commission and necessitate in many instances the recording of averages deduced from theoretical bases contained in the order enjoined, which cannot reflect the true state or history of the pecuniary affairs of the railroads. The petition of the roads also set forth that the order was unreasonable and unjust in other respects and would entail unnecessary expense.—V. 86, p. 722, 669.

The following plan for financing the company and providing it with a cash working capital of about $500,000 has been unanimously adopted by your directors and approved by many of the large stockholders:

1. The present authorized capital is 250,000 shares, of which 240,000 shares have been issued. Cut this capital in two, so that the authorized capital will be 125,000 shares, of which 120,000 will be issued.

2. Authorize an issue of $3,000,000 6% bonds, payable in 30 years, with provisions for sinking fund, for the calling of the bonds, and for their convertibility into stock at par; bonds to be secured by a mortgage upon the real property (not including stocks or interests in subsidiary companies.)

3. Authorize an increase of the reduced capital, so that there may be 120,000 shares of stock in the treasury to be exchanged for such bonds as may be presented for conversion. This will make the total authorized capital 240,000 shares.

4. Of the total authorized issue of $3,000,000 bonds, issue $1,500,000 at the present time and offer these bonds to stockholders at par pro rata; i. e., to every holder of 80 shares offer $500 bonds; the remaining bonds not sold at this time to be retained for future improvements, betterments and investments.

A contract has been entered into, subject to the approval of the stockholders, with the firm of Hayden, Stone & Co., whereby they underwrite the present issue of $1,500,000 bonds at par for a commission of 7½%.

With the proceeds of the proposed issue, the present floating debt can be liquidated and a sufficient capital can be secured, in the judgment of your directors, to carry on your present business and a very much enlarged business which we confidently expect to obtain. The output of coal from your mines has continued greater each month than the output of the corresponding month of the preceding year.—V. 86, p. 803.

Western Ice Co.—Distribution of Knickerbocker Ice Co. Scrip in Payment of Coupons.—The following announcement was made on April 8:

The Hudson Trust Co., trustee of the stock of the Knickerbocker Ice Co. deposited to secure the general and collateral mortgage bonds of the Western Ice Co., has been requested to act as agent for the distribution of the dividend scrip recently declared by the Knickerbocker Ice Co. on its common stock, which, under authority from the Western Ice Co., may be used for the payment and retirement of coupons of the aforesaid bonds maturing Jan. 1 1908.

Holders of such coupons desiring to have them redeemed with scrip as aforesaid may deposit the same in the offices of the Hudson Trust Co., New York, against its receipts, and as soon as the scrip can be prepared in proper denomination for issue, they will be notified to return the receipts and receive such scrip.—V. 86, p. 486.

Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co.—New Plan. —At a recent conference of a number of the merchandise creditors, representing a majority in amount of the merchandise debt, the following committee was appointed:

Joseph W. Marsh (Chairman), Vice-Pres. Standard Underground Cable Co., Pittsburgh, Pa.; F. W. Roebling, Pres. Jno. A. Roebling Sons Co., Trenton, N. J.; Chas. R. Remington, Sec. The American Electrical Works, Phillipsdale, R. I.; A. Bournonville, of Alfred F. Moore, Philadelphia, Pa., and George M. Verity (Sec.), Pres. American Rolling Mill Co., Middletown, Ohio. Office of committee, Room 1910 Trinity Building, 111 Broadway, New York City.

This new committee has presented a plan which provides that instead of making a new issue of first mortgage bonds, the company shall continue its existing funded debt and shall issue assenting stock at par in full settlement of the claims of the merchandise creditors and of such other creditors as may take stock, provision for the remainder of the bank debt to be made by the issue of 5% convertible gold bonds of the existing authorized issue and unsecured notes. Under this plan the stockholders are to subscribe at par for $6,000,000 of assenting stock for additional working capital. A circular sent out by the aforesaid committee April 6 gives seriatim the arguments in favor of the plan and says:

If this plan meets—as it is confidently expected it will—with the general approval of the creditors, the company will be practically freed from floating debt and provision will have been made for all cash requirements for a period o ffive years, with every reasonable prospect of the payment of dividends, at the rate of 6% per annum, on the assenting stock.

Plan for Readjustment of Debt Submitted by Merchandise Creditors' Committee April 6 1908.

(a) The holders of the merchandise debt ($4,356,043 Oct. 23 1907) to take new fully-paid assenting stock at par in settlement of their claims.

(b) Such of the bank debt ($7,919,000 Oct. 23 1907) as is not converted into "assenting stock" to be provided for, partly by convertible bonds of the existing authorized issue at par and partly by 5% notes running at least five years or for an average period of at least five years.

(c) The existing issues of convertible bonds, debenture certificates and collateral notes not to be disturbed.

(d) The stockholders to subscribe at par for $6,000,000 of new "assenting stock as additional working capital."

As many of the bank creditors are large holders of assenting stock held by them as collateral for loans to stockholders, it is apparent that a large portion of the new cash to be furnished by the stockholders will have to come from this source.

As the funded debt will not mature for some time, it is not necessary to make any new provision for its payment. The consummation of this plan will cure all defaults that have occurred under the agreements securing the funded debt.

The convertible bond issue (dated 1906 and due in 1931) was authorized at $25,000,000, of which $4,531,000 remain available ($18,500,000 having been sold and being outstanding and $1,969,000 reserved to retire debenture certificates due 1913. [Ed.).

The $6,000,000 of collateral notes are not due until Aug. 1 1910, while the French loan of $2,792,702 is not due until Oct. 1 1917.

Position of Company on Consummation of Plan.

|---|---|
| New cash from stockholders as additional working capital | $6,000,000 |
| Cash accounts and bills receivable Feb. 29 1908 | 12,832,729 |
| Working assets (inventory) Feb. 29 1908 | 11,601,670 |
| Total quick assets | $33,434,399 |

After the second year, fixed charges under this plan are $800,000 less per annum than under the mortgage bond plan, thus greatly facilitating the early payment of dividends on assenting stock. There will be no mortgage on the property, and merchandise creditors who continue to do business with the company will occupy the same position with respect to its general assets as the holders of the funded and floating obligations.

A careful estimate shows that under reasonably favorable conditions the company should, during the next five years, earn sufficient to pay all its fixed charges, 7% per annum on the preferred stock, 6% per annum on its entire issue of assenting stock (amounting to about $31,000,000 when this plan is effective) and create an annual surplus of at least $1,000,000.

The Merchandise Creditors' Committee will have representation upon the board of directors and provision satisfactory to both committees will be made for the future election of directors.

The aforesaid plan has received the formal approval of President George Westinghouse.

Committee under Agreement of Jan. 20 1908 approves aforesaid Plan and will receive Further Deposits to and including May 15.—The committee on reorganization, James N. Jarvie, chairman, has issued a circular to depositors under the plan for the readjustment of the debts of Jan. 20, announcing fresh efforts to be made by merchandise creditors and representatives of the company to arrange for the treatment of the floating debt. In view of this the committee has extended the time for depositing obligations and claims to and including May 15. The circular follows:

A committee of merchandise creditors and representatives of the company have expressed confidence that by June 1 1908 they will be able to furnish subscriptions at par to $10,000,000 new assenting stock, payable, as to $4,000,000, in floating debt (chiefly merchandise claims), and as to $6,000,000 in cash in installments extending over a period of ten months. The committee of merchandise creditors propose thus to cure the defaults under the agreement under which the convertible bonds and collateral trust notes were issued.

The readjustment committee has deemed it wise to afford such committee of merchandise creditors an opportunity to accomplish this result, and has decided to extend the time for depositing obligations and claims to and including May 15 1908. A majority of the convertible bonds of the 3-year 6% collateral notes and of the bills payable and a large amount of the debenture certificates and accounts payable have already been deposited. Deposits may be made with the Bankers' Trust Co., New York; First Trust & Savings Bank, Chicago; First National Bank of Pittsburgh, Pittsburgh, or National Shawmut Bank, Boston.

Notice to Stockholders.—A stockholders' committee consisting of Charles Francis Adams, Charles J. Canda, George W. Guthrie, Alvin W. Krech and George T. Oliver with J. H. Jones as Secretary (room 1910 Trinity Building, 111 Broadway, New York) endorses the aforesaid plan and calls upon the shareholders to subscribe for the $6,000,000 of new stock at par to the extent of one share for every four of their holdings. A circular dated April 8 says:

The Merchandise Creditors' Committee have shown their confidence in the company and its future by undertaking to secure the exchange of at least $4,000,000 of the floating debt for "assenting stock" at par. They, however, impose the condition that the remaining $6,000,000 of the $10,000,000 of subscriptions required to terminate the receivership shall be furnished by the stockholders.

If these subscriptions are not forthcoming, the inevitable result will be that the Readjustment Committee which was organized for the protection of creditors will be forced to reduce the debt of the company to judgment, bring about a forced sale of the property and its acquisition by a new corporation organized in the interest of creditors. Such a course would result in enormous loss, falling chiefly on the shareholders.

The holders of the preferred and common stock are, therefore, asked to subscribe for "assenting stock" at par, at the rate of at least one share of new stock for every four shares (or fraction thereof) of existing stock. Subscriptions to be payable 25% May 25 1908; 20% Aug. 1 1908; 20% Nov. 1 1908; 20% Jan. 1 1909; 15% April 1 1909. Deferred payments are to bear 6% interest with the privilege to subscribers to pay their subscriptions in full at any time.

BROOKLYN RAPID TRANSIT COMPANY.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT TO THE NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE IN CONNECTION WITH THE LISTING OF ADDITIONAL FIRST REFUNDING MORTGAGE CONVERTIBLE FOUR PER CENT BONDS.

Brooklyn, N. Y., April 2 1908.

Referring to its original application of February 15 1904 and supplementary applications of various dates, especially to application No. A. 3407, dated December 6 1907, the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company hereby makes application for the listing of $1,595,000 additional First Refunding Gold Mortgage Convertible Four per Cent Bonds, due 2002, Nos. 29,058 to 30,652, both inclusive, of the par value of $1,000 each, making the total amount applied for to date of $30,652,000.

These bonds have been issued under the terms of the First Refunding Gold Mortgage, and delivered to the Company by the Trustee, under Sections 2, 4 and 5 of said Mortgage. The bonds are secured by a Mortgage or Deed of Trust to the Central Trust Company of New York, bearing date July 1 1902, maturing July 1 2002. The total amount of authorized issue is $150,000,000. The bonds issued bear interest at the rate of Four per Cent per annum, payable on January 1 and July 1 of each year; principal and interest payable in gold coin at the office of the Company or its financial agency in the City of New York, the Central Trust Company of New York. Bonds are in both Coupon and Registered form and are interchangeable. Registered Bonds are in denominations of $1,000 and $5,000 each. Bonds are redeemable at the option of the Company from time to time before July 1 2002, upon six weeks' published notice, by payment of both principal and interest accrued to the date of redemption specified in such notice (which date shall be on the first day of January or July next after such notice shall have been advertised for the period aforesaid), together with a premium of Ten per Cent of such principal; and after July 1 2002 at par value and accrued interest.

The bonds covered by this and previous applications, and all bonds subsequently issued to date, are convertible on and before July 1 1914 into the same par value of the Capital Stock of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company. The Mortgage provides that bonds so converted shall be canceled by the Trustee. The necessary corporate action has been taken by the Stockholders and Directors to increase the Capital Stock of the Company from time to time to an amount sufficient to provide for the conversion of bonds. The First Refunding Gold Mortgage is a direct lien upon all of the property of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company, subject only to the Fifty-Year Five per Cent Gold Mortgage of October 1 1895 for $7,000,000.

Of the authorized issue of $150,000,000 bonds of the First Refunding Gold Mortgage there were reserved under the Mortgage $61,065,000 to retire or take up the $7,000,000 Fifty-Year Five per Cent Gold Mortgage Brooklyn Rapid Transit Bonds issued under the Mortgage of October 1 1895 and $54,065,000 bonds issued by the constituent railroad companies, a complete list of which is set forth in our original application. The purposes for which the remaining $88,935,000 of bonds may be issued and the conditions relating thereto are also set forth in our original application.

Of the bonds of The Nassau Electric Railroad Company issued under its First Consolidated Mortgage which have been deposited with the Trustee of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Mortgage in exchange for Brooklyn Rapid Transit First Refunding Gold Mortgage Bonds, bonds of the par value of $29,000 were issued pursuant to the terms of said Nassau Consolidated Mortgage to retire an equal number of First Consolidated Mortgage Bonds of the Atlantic Avenue Railroad Company, and bonds of the par value of $250,000 were similarly issued to retire all of the First Mortgage Series "A" Bonds (par value $250,000) of the Brooklyn Bath & West End Railroad Company, both the Atlantic Avenue Railroad Company and the Brooklyn Bath & West End Railroad Company being now merged with The Nassau Electric Railroad Company. The bonds thus retired have been canceled.

THE CUBA RAILROAD COMPANY.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT TO THE NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE IN CONNECTION WITH THE LISTING OF THE FIRST MORTGAGE FIVE PER CENT 50-YEAR COUPON BONDS AND PREFERRED CAPITAL STOCK.

New York, March 25, 1908.

The Cuba Railroad Company hereby makes application for the listing of (a) $7,843,000 of its First Mortgage Five Per Cent Fifty-Year Gold Coupon Bonds; (b) its enire issue of $10,000,000 Six Per Cent Non-Cumulative Peferred Stock.

Of the $7,843,000 bonds, $6,799,000 have been sold and have passed beyond the Company's control, and are Coupon Bonds for $1,000 each, numbered 1 to 975, 1,001 to 3,875, 3,901 to 4,960, 4,967 to 6,601, 6,610 to 6,863, all inclusive. The remaining bonds covered by this application, amounting to $1,044,000, are Coupon Bonds for $1,000 each, numbered 6,864 to 7,907 inclusive. This application is for the immediate listing of the $6,799,000, and the privilege of listing the remaining $1,044,000, on official notice that they have been sold and have passed beyond the Company's control.

The bonds are issued under a Mortgage executed by the Company to the Morton Trust Company, dated September 18 1902. They are payable July 1 1952, and bear interest at Five Per Cent per annum, payable January 1 and July 1 in each year. Both principal and interest are payable in gold coin of the United States of America of the present standard, or in the equivalent thereof, at the office or agency of the Company in New York City, without deduction from principal or interest of any tax which the Company may be required by any present or future law to pay thereon or retain therefrom. Both Coupon and Registered Bonds are provided for in said Mortgage. All Coupon Bonds must be for $1,000 each. Registered Bonds must be for $1,000 each or multiples thereof. Coupon Bonds may be exchanged for Registered Bonds and vice versa. The Registered Bonds require the payment to the registered owner of interest as well as principal. There is no provision for registration of the principal of the Coupon Bonds. Interest on each form of bond is payable at the office of the Morton Trust Company, which is both Trustee and Transfer Agent.

There are no outstanding Registered Bonds. There are at this date no bonds of the Company of any description outstanding or certified by the Trustee of the Mortgage other than the $7,843,000 embraced in this application.

The only Mortgage on the Company's property is the Mortgage securing the bonds covered by this application, and there are no prior liens. This Mortgage is a first lien on all of the Company's property in the Island of Cuba, and after-acquired property. It covers all the Company's railroads, including branch lines and extensions, with their appurtenances, the rolling stock and equipment, the telegraph and telephone systems connected therewith, all properties of the Company in the Island of Cuba used for or in connection with railroad purposes, and all rights and franchises appertaining thereto. Bonds may be issued under this Mortgage to pay for any properties acquired by the Company for its railroad purposes in Cuba. Any amount of bonds may be issued, but only on condition that the entire issue of bonds at any time outstanding shall not exceed $12,500 per kilometer, or $20,000 per mile, of complete standard-gauge railroad which the Company shall then own in the Island of Cuba, including branch railroads and extensions, but not counting side tracks. The Company now owns upwards of 428 miles of standard-gauge railroad. Therefore, there having been created only $7,843,000 of bonds under said Mortgage, the total bonded indebtedness of the Company is less than at the rate of $12,500 per kilometer, or $20,000 per mile.

Upon default for six months, after written demand, in payment of interest on any of the bonds, the principal of all the bonds outstanding may be made immediately due and payable. The Mortgage does not provide for the redemption of any bonds through a sinking fund, or for exchange or conversion of the bonds into other securities. There are no unusual terms, restrictions or limitations in said bonds or said Motgage.

The Mortgage has been duly presented to the Registrar of Property in the City of Havana, Island of Cuba, and recorded as required by the railroad law of the Island of Cuba.

As required by said Mortgage, the proceeds of the bonds issued thereunder, and for the listing of which this application is made, have been used for the construction and acquisition of the railroads, railroad properties and equipment connected therewith belonging to said Company.

The railroad lines owned and operated by the Company in the Island of Cuba, all of which are covered by said Mortgage, are as follows:

| Railroads— | Miles. |
|---|---|
| Main line, Santa Clara to Santiago de Cuba, via Camaguey and Alto Cedro | 356.138 |
| Nipe Bay branch from main line, near Alto Cedro, to Antilla, on Bay of Nipe | 30.795 |
| Sancti Spiritus branch from Zaza Junction, on main line, to Sancti Spiritus | 7,276 |
| Ponupo branch from Dos Caminos, on main line, to Ponupo | 11.185 |
| Jatibonico branch from San Luis, on main line, towards Palma Soriano (completed portion) | 5.598 |
| Holguin branch from Cacocum, on main line, to Holguin | 11.067 |
| Tana branch from Marti, on main line, to Ingenio Tana (completed portion) | 6.560 |
| Total under operation | 428.619 |

Said lines of railroad are entirely of standard gauge, 4 feet 8½ inches, and are exclusive of side tracks, which are 37.13 miles in extent.

The Company also has 14.98 miles of new grade completed beyond the end of the portions of the Jatibonico and Tana branches now in operation, as above stated.

On the main line 42.70 miles are laid with 75-pound rail and 313.438 miles are laid with 60-pound rail. The branch ines and sidings are laid with 60-pound rail. The ties first laid were pine. They proved unsatisfactory, and are now being replaced with native hardwood. The entire line is well ballasted. All important bridges are of masonry and steel.

The Tana and Jatibonico branches will eventually meet at Bayamo, and when completed will traverse a very important section of eastern Cuba.

In addition to the Jatibonico and Tana branches, which are now under construction, the Company has filed with the Railroad Commission of Cuba, as required by law, an application, accompanied by maps, plans, profiles and an explanatory statement, for the construction of an extension from the City of Santa Clara, in the Province of Santa Clara, westerly to Venero, and thence northwesterly to Guines, a distance of 245 kilometers, with a branch from Venero easterly to Cienfuegos, a distance of 56 kilometers, and a branch from Cienfuegos easterly towards Manicaragua, a distance of 33 kilometers.

The Company's equipment is as follows: Passenger cars, 52; box cars, 300; cane cars, 273; stock cars, 75; flat cars, 453; gondolas, 40; mineral cars, 50; cabooses, 10; water tank cars, 7; maintenance-of-way cars, 8; locomotives, 46.

Suitable station buildings are provided all along the line. At Antilla there is a deep-water pier for ocean vessels and ample wharfage and warehouses. At Santiago the wharf and terminal facilities are ample. Large, well-equipped repair shops are near completion at Camaguey.

The Company began operating its railroad in December, 1902. The first interest payment on the bonds was made January 1 1903.

CAPITAL STOCK.

The Capital Stock covered by this application consists of the entire authorized issue of Preferred Stock, consisting of 100,000 shares, par value $100 each, all of which has been issued in part consideration for the railroads and railroad properties of the Company, and all of which is fully paid. No dividends on this stock have been paid as yet.

The Company was incorporated under the laws of New Jersey May 1 1902, with an authorized capital of $500,000 Common Stock. An amended Certificate of Incorporation increasing the Capital Stock to $20,000,000, consisting of $10,000,000 Preferred Capital Stock and $10,000,000 Common Capital Stock, was filed September 18 1902.

As provided in the amended Certificate of Incorporation, the respective rights of the Preferred and Common Capital Stock are as follows:

"The amount of the total authorized Capital Stock of the Corporation is Twenty million dollars ($20,000,000). The number of shares into which the same is divided is Two hundred thousand (200,000), and the par value of each share is One hundred dollars ($100).

"Of such total authorized stock, One hundred thousand (100,000) shares, amounting to Ten million dollars ($10,000,000), shall be Preferred Stock, and One hundred thousand (100,000) shares, amounting to Ten million dollars ($10,000,000) shall be Common Stock.

"The holders of such Preferred Stock shall be entitled to receive from the profits arising from the business of said corporation in each fiscal year, after reservation of such sum, if any, as shall have been fixed as a working capital, as provided in the Certificate of Incorporation of said corporation, a non-cumulative dividend up to but not exceeding Six Per Cent on the par value of their stock, payable quarterly, half-yearly or yearly, as shall be determined by the Directors or provided by the By-laws of said corporation, before any dividend shall be set apart or paid on the Common Stock, and upon the dissolution of said corporation or the final distribution of its assets, after payment of its debts, shall be entitled to payment out of said assets to the amount of the par value of such Preferred Stock before any division or payment to the holders of the Common Stock.

"The holders of such Common Stock shall be entitled to receive all dividends declared from the net profits arising from the business of said corporation in any fiscal year after a dividend to the amount of Six Per Cent on all the outstanding Preferred Stock of said corporation from the net profits of such year shall have been declared and paid or set aside; and, upon the dissolution of said corporation or the final distribution of its assets, after payment to the holders of all the Preferred Stock out of said assets to the amount of the par value of their stock, shall be entitled to the remaining assets of said corporation proportionately according to their respective shares."

No personal liability attaches to the ownership of any of the shares of stock, except as prescribed by the general laws of the State of New Jersey with reference to all corporations organized under the laws of New Jersey.

The two classes of stock have equal voting rights, each share having one vote.

Of the $10,000,000 of Common Stock authorized, $6,126,000 has been issued and is fully paid for, leaving $3,874,000 still in the treasury. The Company's railroad system was formerly the property of The Cuba Company, which sold it before completion to The Cuba Railroad Company, also agreeing to finish certain work of construction. When the construction and property accounts between the two Companies under this contract of sale are finally adjusted, The Cuba Company will be entitled, under its contract, to receive the $3,874,000 Common Stock of The Cuba Railroad Company which is still in the treasury of The Cuba Railroad Company.

To assist the Company in providing for heavy replacements, and to enable it to devote its current funds to the general betterment of its property and the development of its traffic, the Congress of Cuba, on September 5 1905, enacted a law granting a loan to the Company of $798,450 until the 15th of December 1916, without interest. This loan was made in three installments of $266,150 each, the last of which was made on December 15 1906. Against this loan the Cuban Government has the right to apply the amounts accruing to the Company after the 15th of December 1906 for mail service and other Government transportation. Of this loan only $669,000 62 remained unpaid on January 31 1908.

The Transfer Agent for both classes of stock is the Morton Trust Company and the Registrar thereof is the Guaranty Trust Company of the City of New York.

The principal office is at Nos. 83 and 85 Montgomery Street, Jersey City, N. J. The general office in the Island of Cuba is at the City of Camaguey, in the Province of Camaguey.

The Company's fiscal year begins July 1.

The Company agrees to publish annually and distribute to the Stockholders at least fifteen days before the annual meeting a statement showing its income, expenditures and financial condition for the preceding year, and to give at least ten days' notice of the closing of its transfer books for any purpose, and to maintain a transfer office in New York City. The laws of Cuba and the Company's By-laws require the stock books to be closed for at least thirty days before each annual election.

The present Directors are: Sir William Van Horne, Montreal, Canada; Gerald L. Hoyt, William L. Bull, New York City; George Crocker, Ramsey, N. J.; Hermann Michaelsen, Santiago de Cuba.

The general officers of the Company are: President, Sir William C. Van Horne, Montreal, Canada; Vice-President, Gerald L. Hoyt, 52 William Street, New York City; Secretary, Herbert C. Lakin, 49 Wall Street, New York City; Treasurer, James I. Burke, Morton Trust Co., New York City.

COMMERCIAL EPITOME.

Friday Night, April 10 1908.

Improvement in trade is slow. The outlook for the grain crops seems favorable, and confidence is gradually returning, but everywhere caution is still observable. In most branches prices are steady.

LARD on the spot has been firm in the main, owing to strength in the market for futures at the West, continued moderate receipts of hogs, and light offerings of product. These factors have neutralized the unfavorable state of trade. Small sales have been made of late at 8.55@8.65c. for Western and 8¼@8⅜c. for City. Refined lard has been firmer for Continent and steady for other grades. Trade has been quiet with purchases confined to small jobbing lots. Refined, Continent 9c., South America 9.75c. and Brazil, in kegs, 11c. Speculation in lard futures at the West has been active. There has been some irregularity in prices, but in the main the tone of the market has been firm, owing to moderate receipts of hogs, strong hog prices and support from packers.

Speculation in cotton for future delivery has been light and prices continued to pursue a downward course until Thursday. Then some prominent Wall Street interests bought October freely and a rally ensued. The firmer tone was due to a belief that for a time at least the decline had gone far enough and also to reports of a better inquiry for cotton goods. The decline had been so severe, moreover, and the liquidation so drastic that the bearish professional element had begun to be more cautious, fearing an upward turn, such as actually occurred. Spot markets, too, have shown very noticeable resistance to any decline in "futures"; and it is understood that the short interest here had reached considerable proportions. And of late large spot interests are said to have bought May quite freely, and Wall Street houses which at one time sold have latterly been buying, and the same may be said of New Orleans and the South. Moreover there has been considerable buying by room traders on the theory that at least a temporary advance was due. Disturbing rumors in regard to the London grain trade had some effect for a time on Thursday, but it was merely a passing phase of the situation, having no direct bearing apparently on the cotton trade itself. The statistics of supply have seemed bullish on the surface at least and the weekly reduction in stocks is much more rapid than it was at this time last year. And we are now entering upon the period when weather influences of one kind or another are apt to affect quotations, whether for good or ill, which is only another way of saying that the chances and uncertainties of the growing season are yet to be confronted with results which time alone can determine. At present the weather and crop reports are in the main favorable, while the general belief is that the acreage will be increased. Meantime the speculation is of a purely professional kind and very small even at that. The sentiment here is very generally bearish, though the belief of many, even among those who look ultimately for much lower prices, is that occasional rallies for one cause or another are to be expected. To-day prices advanced, owing to an unexpectedly strong tone in Liverpool, renewed buying of October by Wall Street speculative interests and buying of May against sales of October by spot people. There was also considerable covering and more or less buying by the South, as well as by room operators, in anticipation of a temporary rise. Later a reaction occurred, owing to realizing. Spot business was better at New Orleans and Augusta at former quotations. Spot cotton here has been quiet. Middling upland closed at 10.25c.

The rates on and off middling, as established Sept. 11 1907 by the Revision Committee, at which grades other than middling may be delivered on contract, are as follows:

BREADSTUFFS.

Friday, April 10 1908.

Prices for wheat flour have declined during the week, owing to the depression in wheat. Moreover, trade has continued as dull as ever. Buyers show no disposition to purchase except on a hand-to-mouth basis, even at the lower prices. The generally favorable tenor of the crop advices encourages the belief among many that purchases can be made to still better advantage later on. At times a somewhat better demand has been reported at some Northwestern and Western points, but it has been of short duration. Rye flour has been dull and easy. Corn meal has been quiet and steady.

Rains in the Southwest, breaking the drought in that section, have had much to do with a sharp decline during the past week. Kansas, Nebraska and other parts of that section have had copious rains. The crop news, too, has been, in the main, favorable, and reports of financial difficulties in the grain trade of London naturally had not a little effect. The Government report which appeared on April 8 was construed as favorable. It indicates a crop of winter wheat, according to the method of computation usually followed in the past, of 493,996,000 bushels, against the December estimate of 491,000,000 bushels and a final outturn last year of 409,442,000 bushels and in 1906 of 492,888,004 bushels. The condition on April 1 was 91.3%. against 91.1 in December, this being the first time in many years that the April condition has excelled that of the previous December. A year ago the condition was 89.9%. The acreage is stated at 31,069,000 acres, against 31,665,000 a year ago. The report would have had more effect than it did but for the fact that a favorable statement having been very generally expected, it had been largely discounted. The tenor of the Government report is echoed by a statement of the Secretary of the Kansas Grain Dealers' Association which appeared on Thursday and affirmed that the prospects of a "bumper" crop were never better. The Missouri State report was also favorable and the Michigan report indicates an improvement since December of 3%. Everything now seems to promise a large crop of winter wheat in this country. April promises are not always fulfilled, but unless something serious overtakes the plant the outturn seems likely to be abundant. Under the circumstances liquidation has been on a large scale and sales for short account have been aggressive. European markets have steadily declined, influenced not only by the favorable weather and crop reports from this country, but also by favorable reports from various parts of Europe and continued large world's exports. The Russian outlook is reported rather less favorable than recently, but in the main the world's prospects for good grain harvests seem for the time being at least to be excellent. To-day prices advanced on dry weather in Nebraska and Western Kansas, better cables than expected, an absence of selling pressure and covering of shorts.

Indian corn futures have been firm in the main, though the weakness in wheat has caused selling at times. But strong Chicago interests are believed to control the situation and there is no disposition to sell freely for short account. The cash trade has been dull, crop reports from the Southwest have been favorable in the main, and large shipments are expected from Argentine in the near future. On the other hand, stocks at Chicago are far from being burdensome, and though the receipts have increased at times, it is generally expected that the movement will soon fall to small proportions again. To-day prices were firmer, owing to light offerings, some bull support, the rally in wheat and covering of shorts.

Oats for future delivery in the Western market have been easier, owing to the depression in wheat and liquidation. The speculation has been quiet, trading being checked by the fear of manipulation. But stocks at Chicago are large, the cash trade has been dull, and though some reports have been received of poor germination in some important sections, the crop news in the main has been favorable. Seeding is nearing completion and the area promises to be as large as last year. Chicago elevators are said to be making contract oats rapidly, and it is expected that the deliveries on May contracts will be heavy. To-day prices were firmer on the rally in other cereals, light offerings and some covering.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

New York, Friday Night, April 10 1908.

It is asserted in some quarters that there has been a slight improvement in the volume of business in the primary cotton goods market during the past week, but if there has it has been so slight that it has been hardly noticeable. There has been further price revision to the extent that second hands have disposed of holdings at lower levels, but in several cases manufacturers have absolutely refused to follow the declines, claiming that to do so would be to sell their goods at a loss. The continued decline in the price of the raw material has again been a disturbing factor, and has led buyers to expect further reductions in some lines of goods. The two favorable features in the present situation are the drastic curtailment of production which is everywhere taking place and the manner in which stocks are being cleaned up. All over the country jobbers and retailers are turning their goods into cash and are working their supplies down to a lower level than for a long time past; the former are still exchanging goods rather than enter the primary market and buy at present prices. This is bound to create a healthier state of affairs in the near future, if not carried to excess, and there is little fear that it will be. The export division has been disappointing and reports received from China have not been of an encouraging character. Business in the men's wear heavyweight woolen and worsted goods market has been of very small proportions, but dress goods have been moderately active.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS.—The exports of cotton goods from this port for the week ending April 4 were 3,981 packages, valued at $237,088, their destination being to the points specified in the tables below:

The value of these New York exports since Jan. 1 has been $3,089,989 in 1908, against $4,170,343 in 1907.

Heavy brown drills and sheetings have been very quiet, but some re-sales have taken place at low figures. Medium and lightweight drills and sheetings have also been disposed of at reductions, but the demand from bag manufacturers and others has shown some improvement. With American goods being sold in Shanghai at lower prices than they are offered at here, it is not surprising that the Chinese demand has temporarily ceased, but there has been some purchasing of goods for export to miscellaneous countries. Small sales of the finer lines of bleached goods continue to be made but the lower lines remain very inactive. Wide sheetings, sheets and pillow cases are dull. A fair quantity of denims was included in the week's sales for export but the domestic call for these and other lines of coarse, colored cotton goods is very light. The slight outburst of activity noted recently in linings has subsided. Cotton blankets and napped goods remain among the most active lines, and while low prices have been named on these, buyers are operating for fall with some degree of confidence. There has been some ordering of printed goods for fall, but as a general rule the large buyers of staple prints are out of the market and probably will remain so until the price situation is more settled. Ginghams are also moving slowly but are quotably unchanged. There has been more activity in print cloths but at the expense of values; standard gray goods have been sold fairly freely on contract at 4¼c. although some mills are asking more.

WOOLEN GOODS.—Agents have received some good confirmations of orders for men's wear heavy-weight woolen and worsted goods during the week and in some instances these have been accompanied by requests for increased quantities; generally speaking, however, it is too early as yet to expect any duplicate buying of importance. In the light-weight division there has been a fair volume of re-ordering and some mills have found it worth while to start their idle machinery on light-weights to fill this supplementary demand. Most of these orders call for worsted goods and the popular colors are browns and tans. While there is considerable difference of opinion regarding the question of stylings and colorings for the 1909 spring season, upon which manufacturers are now busily at work, it would seem that brown worsteds will retain their popularity in spite of statements that browns have been overdone. Grays are also expected to regain their position in popular favor. There has been rather more buying in the dress goods division and a fair business has been transacted both with jobbers and with the suit trade, where the right kind of goods have been available. It would seem that the demand is changing from smooth-faced fabrics to rougher-faced cloths, which, it is thought, will materially help woolen goods as against worsteds. Cloakings have been considerably more active.

FOREIGN DRY GOODS.—Imported woolen and worsted dress goods are selling moderately well at recent figures. Silks are quiet but ribbons have been rather more active. Linens are slightly firmer and burlaps are steady.

MUNICIPAL BOND SALES IN MARCH.

Our table of municipal bond sales for March shows that the total for that month was larger, with one exception, than that of any March reported by us in former years. Of the $18,372,625 bonds sold during the month $30,000 were 7 per cents, $1,108,925 6s, $100,000 5¾s, $18,500 5½s, $2,563,339 5s, $25,953 4.85s, $25,000 4.548s, $3,938,844 4½s, $10,127,200 4s, $200,000 3¾s, $67,000 3.65s, $21,000 3s, and $146,864 on which the rate of interest was not ascertained. The disposals of Canadian securities and temporary loans, which, for reasons so often explained, we never include in our totals, amounted to $5,657,812 and $4,411,000 respectively.

Some issues for large amounts were placed during the month, which accounts for the size of the aggregate. The following list, comprising the more important sales made during the month, makes up a total of $12,644,500—more than two-thirds of the whole disposals: $5,000,000 4s of New York State at 106.955, $2,000,000 4s of Baltimore, Md., at 99; $1,000,000 4s of St. Louis, Mo., at 100.883; $1,000,000 4½s of Chicago, Ill., at 102.812; $510,500 4½s of Omaha, Neb., at 100.155; $510,000 4s of Los Angeles, Cal., at par and interest; $480,000 5s of Rye, N. Y., at 104.31; $350,000 4½s of Pensacola, Fla., at 95.973; $350,000 4½s of Grand Rapids, Mich., at 106.51; $305,000 4½s of Alameda, Cal., at 100.032; $300,000 4½s of Luzerne County, Pa., at 103.765; $225,000 5s of Canon City, Colo., at 97; $214,000 4s of Lynn, Mass.; $200,000 4s of East Providence, R. I., and $200,000 3¾s of Seattle, Wash., at par.

The number of municipalities emitting bonds and the number of separate issues made during March 1908 were 174 and 218 respectively. This contrasts with 160 and 267 for February 1908 and 201 and 248 for March 1907.
